BRICK PAVING MOST PRACTICAL

So Says City Engineer McNamara After Inquiry.

The following letter to The Tribune by City Engineer C. J. McNamara will be of interest to residents of the city as it contains some vital facts regarding the paving of streets together with estimates on the different pavement constructions.

In conjunction with this letter it must be borne in mind that the taxpayers of North Platte are required to pay only for the paving of the street intersections and the remainder, comprising over four-fifths of the expense is borne by the owners of the property abutting on the paved streets. These same property owners will also pay their apportionment for the paving of the intersections and it will be higher than residence owners will have to pay as their property is assessed higher. The following is Mr. McNamara's letter:

Editor Tribune: I have been asked by a number of prominent citizens for information regarding the cost of various kinds of street paving also my opinion as to the best type for North Platte, should our city decide to pave the business streets. As this subject is of interest to every citizen I would like to present it through the columns of your paper.

In order to get fairly accurate figures as to the cost, letters were sent to a number of cities in the state asking for data on paving and I also made estimates with what information I had a hand and submit the following prices of cost per square yard for different pavement construction:

Concrete, $1.50 per square yard.
Asphalt, $1.55 per square yard.
Brick, $2.30 per square yard.
Wood Block, $2.50 per square yard.

The above figures should only be taken as preliminary estimates for there are several indefinite quantities considered which cannot be determined until the details of the type of pavement decided upon are noched out and a survey made of the street.

In case of brick pavement for instance, it will be necessary to know how much excavation is required, depth of concrete base, kind of brick and filler to be used.

For the business streets I am very much in favor of brick pavement on concrete base using asphalt or cement grout as a filler. Where brick is used it is an easy matter to repair and when the pavement is taken up for water mains, gas mains or conduits the brick can be re-laid with almost their original surface by ordinary labor. This type of pavement gives good service and while the first cost exceeds that of concrete or asphalt it will last longer and is less expensive to maintain.

On Dewey or Locust street brick paving will cost the abutting property owner $6.90 per lineal foot or $152 for twenty-two foot frontage. Street intersections will cost $1460 based on any estimate of $2.30 per square yard.

This is a good year for paving as work is scarce and contractors are bidding close, the city would also get a large number of bids.

C. J. McNAMARA,
City Engineer.

Work in the new electric light plant was arrested yesterday on account of the flood water backing up into the basement and making it impossible for the men to work. A gang of men was put to work hauling out the water but it filled again, coming both from the sewer and from seepage. Water is reported in some cellars in the city as deep as eighteen inches.

Glee Club Pleases Omaha. In speaking of Grinnell College Glee Club, which appears here next Tuesday evening, April 13th, at the Keith theatre under the auspices of the Methodist ladies, the Omaha Bee of last Saturday said:

Nearly 400 persons enjoyed the concert given by the Grinnell College Glee Club last night at the First Congregational church. Nearly every number given was the signal for warm applause, but it was the offering of "Massa's In De Col' Col' Ground, and the "Banjo Song" that created the best impression of the club.

The Grinnell Club has been in existence since 1894 and is one of the best organizations of its kind in the west. It makes a tour of the country annually, for the benefit of the college. Last night's program was under the auspices of the Ladies' society of the church.

Jefferson School Closed. The Jefferson school was closed yesterday morning on account of high water. The water was standing nearly three inches deep in the basement and the sewers were all out of use on account of the water backing up from the river.

Several people in the city have reported water in their cellars from the seepage and back water. Both rivers are extremely high and cause the water to back up the sewers and the ground is so much soaked that water seeps out through the walls of cellars. The ground is in such a saturated condition that a hole three feet deep will fill with seepage water nearly a foot. Unless the wet weather discontinues soon there will be much trouble in the city.

Springtime is Here Once More. You will likely want your house repainted or the walls repapered or decorated. The regular meeting of the local brotherhood of American Yeomen will be held Tuesday evening. At this time several matters of important business will be brought up for disposal. Among them will be discussed the plans of the banquet which is to be given in the near future in celebration of the membership contest which closed the first of last month. The result of this contest was a tie and the banquet will be given by both sides. One hundred ninety-two members were added to the local homestead by this contest and a grand celebration is planned.

City Engineer McNamara, who has charge of the gauging of the river for the government, reports that the rivers are about five feet high. The gauge of the water shows about six thousand feet per second. The regular flow is about three thousand feet per second. The highest that it has measured in recent years is between eight and nine thousand feet per second, although the old records show that it has been gauged as high as twenty-six thousand feet.

The general meeting of the Twentieth Century club will be held next Tuesday evening. There will be an election of officers for the ensuing year and it is desired that a full membership be present. The meeting is called for seven o'clock so that the business can be finished in time for the entertainment at the Keith theatre.
