Swan of Harold Bell Wright's great novel of the same title which has reached the unprecedented sale of over a million copies. The tabernacle will be built on the vacant lots south of the Keith theatre building and will seat about two thousand persons. Baseball Practice Started in Earnest.

Real baseball practice was started last evening in the ball park by about fifteen local boys who are trying for the independent team this season. The local management is planning to utilize local talent as much as possible and thus far they have only one outside player, Luby, the pitcher.

From now on practices will be held every evening and all who wish to be candidates for the team are urged to be out. The manager announced that he wants every man out every night so there will be no quibbling over lack of practice. Some new talent recently unearthed shows up well and all indications are that the team will be stronger this year than ever before among the local boys. The grounds will be put in fine shape as soon as clay can be procured for covering them and a great deal of work will be done this year to make a fast diamond. Several bad places in the field will be fixed besides the infield.

The following men have already signified their intentions of trying out for the team: Gettman, Luby, Danze, C. Jones, Gibbs, H. Tiley, H. Jones, H. Langford, M. Bullard, Muchinski, F. Sandall, Coberly, Mengel, J. Stack and A. Sandall.
