

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Charles Callahan, residing on east Fifth street, underwent an operation Wednesday morning at the Nurse Brown Memorial hospital. She is reported recovering nicely.

Miss Gertrude Baker returned to Gothenburg today. She came home Sunday with a threatened attack of pneumonia, but prompt medical assistance ward off the disease.

Mrs. Vorhees Lucas and Miss Inez Westfall were in Kearney Tuesday as delegates from the Methodist Sunday school of this city to the Sunday school institute of the Kearney district.

F. M. Koons, fireman out of this city, is suffering with a badly lacerated cheek, the result of an encounter with a hand saw. He was sawing wood and the wrong end of the saw flew up and struck him in the face.

Mrs. Lee Young and son John have been spending this week in town as the guests of Miss Anna Kramph and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gilman. Mrs. Young lives at Hastings, Mr. Young being rector of the Episcopal church.

Work was begun this week tearing down the Hershey buildings on the corner recently purchased by the Yeomen corporation. The lumber has been sold and the lots will be put in shape for building case the building arrangements get through.

Rev. Benj. A. Cram, pastor of the Methodist church, was visiting in Kearney this week for a few days attending the meeting of the Kearney district Sunday school institute of his church and of the ministerial association of this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Doolittle returned the early part of the week from a four months' visit in Los Angeles and other Pacific coast cities. Mr. Doolittle was favorably impressed with some features of that section, while other features did not appeal to him.

Jacob Rosenburg of Maxwell was visiting in the city Wednesday on business and made a call at this office, renewing his subscription to The Tribune for another year. He drove up in a buggy and says that the roads to Maxwell are pretty muddy. He nearly got stalled with just a light rig.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fowles, of Stapleton, were visiting in the city with friends this week. Mr. Fowles has just sold a section of land in the north part of this county to Wallace Baskins and Ed Salisbury of Stapleton. He states that he and Mrs. Fowles will leave this summer for California where they will spend several months. Dean Bowker this week received word from Bishop Beecher announcing that ordination to the ministry would be conferred upon Rev. Henry Ives of Ogalalla on Sunday, June 6th. Rev. Ives is well known here, having visited here a number of times and preached in the Church of Our Savior. The services will be held in the Episcopal church of this city.

For painting, paper hanging and decorating see Landgraf & Crane. Reasonable prices - satisfactory work. Phone Red 240 or Black 570.

Pitcher Bechon, of Hershey, passed through the city Tuesday afternoon enroute to Grand Island where he had been given a contract to pitch this year. He stopped off here for a visit with the boys. Bechon had his hand badly injured a few weeks ago and it was feared that he would be unable to play during the first of the season, but the member is now thoroughly healed.

Word has been received here from Outlander Mewharter, who played with Ogalalla here during the tournament last year, asking for an opportunity to come here this season. He made a tryout with the Three-Eye league and did not stick. He is a good outfielder, however, and will be a good acquisition to any team. The management has his application under consideration.

EIGHT PER CENT INTEREST
We are investing a good deal of money these days in gilt edged mortgages on improved farms and ranches so as to net the lender eight per cent. If you have idle funds or money not bringing you that much come and see us about it.

Robert Hood Bowers, the composer of the music in which Miss Zoe Barnett is now starring, in her former success "The Red Rose," John C. Fisher's production, and original New York cast, which comes here Monday May 3 at the Keith theatre was a professor of Latin at the Pennsylvania State University. His first composition for the stage was made to fit the book and lyrics of Raymond Peck, with whom he afterwards wrote "The Vanderbilt Cup" for Elsie Janis. He composed most of the music for the "Follies Bergere" and the whole score for "A Certain Party," in which the late Mabel Hite starred.

The Waldo Lots Are Dry
There are several parts of the city this morning that are under water, however the lots in the Waldo Block in the south part of town are dry. This is another of the many advantages in these lots for residence lots. Phone me for an appointment to show them to you.

Mrs. Charles Osgood Dies Suddenly.

Mrs. Cora Hinman Osgood, wife of Charles Osgood residing south of the city, passed away at nine-thirty Wednesday morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. I. Hinman. She was thirty-six years, two months and twenty-five days old at the time of her death and she had been ill but a short time.

Mrs. Osgood gave birth to a child Tuesday morning and from that time she gradually grew weaker until death came. The child was buried Tuesday afternoon. Every possible measure was exhausted in an attempt to save her life, but she was too weak to recover.

Cora Hinman was born in North Platte, February 3, 1879. She grew to womanhood in this city and graduated from the North Platte schools. She later finished her education in Brownell Hall in Omaha. On September 20, 1898 she was married to Charles Osgood. To this union nine children were born, five of whom survive.

During the early part of her marriage Mrs. Osgood lived in the west, living in Denver, San Francisco and Idaho. She was living in San Francisco during the time of the earthquake. She returned here with her husband four years ago and they have since made their home on a farm fourteen miles south of the city.

Mrs. Osgood is survived by her husband, five children, her mother, Mrs. B. I. Hinman, and two brothers, Miner and Curtis Hinman, also a cousin, Y. A. Hinman of this city. The children are Charles Edward, aged 11, Julia Elizabeth, 7, Alma Regina, 5, Miner Hinman, 3, and Beatrice, aged 23 months. Four boys died in their infancy.

The death is especially sad in that she leaves a family of small children. She was a woman who made every acquaintance a friend and one loved by all who knew her. The Tribune joins with the entire community in extending sympathy to the bereaved husband and family.

U. S. W. V. ENCAMPMENT WILL BE HERE NEXT YEAR

North Platte was chosen as the place of meeting for the 1916 encampment for the United Spanish War Veterans, department of Nebraska, at their annual held in Omaha Monday and Tuesday. The delegates from here worked hard and were able to swing the encampment with little difficulty. Two North Platte men were given offices in the state organization, North Platte being the only town represented by two offices.

Some of the North Platte delegates went to Omaha Saturday evening to start a campaign for bringing the encampment here. They had cards printed telling of the advantages of North Platte and asking the support of the other members. Before the matter came to the vote it looked quite certain that North Platte would be chosen as the meeting place. Lincoln and Nebraska City both put in bids for the encampment.

The North Platte delegates returned home Wednesday morning and they report a fine time. The Omaha people spared no expense in showing the visitors a good time and their efforts were well repaid. All the delegates express themselves as well pleased with the entertainment. The chief feature of the entertainment was a banquet at the Rome hotel.

Following are the officers elected: Department commander, W. E. Steele, Omaha; senior vice-commander, Geo. Ludden, Lincoln; junior vice-commander, A. W. Shilling, North Platte; inspector, E. E. Placek, Wahoo; Judge advocate, John G. Maher, Lincoln; chaplain, Rev. W. H. Underwood, Omaha; surgeon, Dr. James G. Marron, Brainard; Marshall, Leonard Robinson, North Platte.

Manager Gettman took his team out for the first practice since the rains Tuesday evening and the boys had some time playing ball. The grounds are in bad shape and it will take considerable good weather to dry them. There is also much work in the line of leveling to be done. The management is preparing to put the grounds in shape, especially the outfield which has several holes in it. The work of rebuilding the grand stand was started Wednesday. The building was quite badly damaged by the winds Sunday.

Special terms on lots in Taylor's Addition and Graceland Addition to close out the balance. Monthly payments of $5.00 to $10.00. Build a home now while lumber is cheap.
