President Wilson, Believing in Slang, Said "Rats"

W ASHINGTON.-Though the diction of President Wilson is elegance itself he is not so bide-bound in his exactions of the refinements of it as to be intolerant to the lapses in style called slang. He frequently uses it with great force and has apparently been long a student of it, and at a time too, when the classic shades of his university surroundings should have made the sound of it unusual to his ears.

Not long ago the president was called upon to comment on the report current and printed that some person authorized by him was circulating a document in Wall street signed by his name urging big business to get to gether to help business. "Was the president really back of the document?" he was asked. "Oh, rats," was his sententious reply.

Now, in cold type it looks as if the president was not observing the presi dential proprieties in dignity. But the president conducts himself ever in such a manner that his dignity is never in question. There is a wonderful graciousness of manner in him and an ever prevailing smile on his face and a merry twinkle in his eyes, so as to pass as natural and consonant with the utmost requirements of the dignity of his station whatever he utters, though couched in language which on other lips would be called vulgar.

These sallies and departures of the president are sure to be followed by hearty laugh, which it was intended they should occasion. In short, the president will laugh a question or a proposal out of court. A good story, of which the president has a great store, or a sharp word in slang is the instrumentality used.

Uncle Sam Searches the World for New Fruits

FROM the office of information of the department of agriculture comes the delectable announcement that a smoothstone peach has been brought from China and is to be used to improve our commercial fruit of the same family. We are told also that a beautiful Chinese quince, "golden on one side and reddish on the other," is doing well in its new American environment, a condition of thriving and promise, which is also true of Chinese hazelnut bushes brought to America, and which now are bearing nuts that ought to make our inferiorsized fruit crack for the very shame of insignificance.

"HOMING INSTINCT" IN BIRDS ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE Attachment to First Home Is Much BEING AGITATED

the Same as is Evidenced in Humanity.

The habit of birds in migrating South when winter comes on is influenced by the need of finding a sufficient supply of food. As food grows scarce when winter approaches in the farthest northern places where birds live they naturally turn to the South. where, their instinct tells them, food will be plentiful. The return of the birds in the spring to their accustomed haunts in the North is one of the evidences of their possession of an instinct which is also strong in man.

The environment in which a bird or human being is brought up generally becomes a permanent part of its nature. Ornithologists have not yet made it clear just what enables the bird to find its way back and forth to the same spot every year, and our knowledge is confined to the fact of what the "homing instinct" does.

After they mate and build their first nest and bring up their first family, birds cherish a fondness for that spot much the same as the attachment that man feels for his early home. The spring migration of birds is their joyful return home after a temporary sojourn abroad to secure the means of livelihood.

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradic-tion that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for womenand every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.- "For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous pros-tration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."-Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R.I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

PERU, N.Y.—" Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IEWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

South Quinor, Mass.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."-Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

Treasures in Crypt and Vaults Under the Capitol

THERE are all kinds of treasures in the crypt and vaults under the capitol rotunda, but during the last few years many of them have been taken out in order to make space. Immediately under the central dome is the large crypt and vault, a subterranean mu seum of historical works of art. The first object of historical interest is the tomb built for Washington, imme diately under the centerstone of the floor of the rotunda, which is the ex act center of the building. It is a small, square, vaultlike room, with about two-thirds of its side walls deeply recessed in arched alcoves, or rather more like the recessed reliquary chambers in the tomb of Napoleon This vault was built up in the masonry of the base walls of the building and designed as a tomb for the immortal Washington, but other influences of a more sentimental nature de feated the object.

In an adjoining vaulted room the plaster cast of Cranford's "Goddess of Liberty," from which Clarke Mills cast the bronze figure that surmounts the dome of the capitol, was kept for years. In another room are the plaster statues of Alexander Hamilton, Thomas H. Benton and also a sitting figure of Hamilton by the artist Stone.

In various portions of the crypt are paintings of large size in boxes waiting for their owners to claim them. Among them are the "First Nebraska Homestead," by a lady who desired to present it to the government; "Rescue of Greely," by Operti, and "Farthest North," the subject of which is two of Greely's men taking observations.

Washington Has a Thousand-Dollar-a-Week Hole

N O one does justice to a visit to Washington who does not take a long look at the huge crater which is the hele where once stood the famous Arlington hotel. This was torn down four years ago to make room for a modern hotel, to be up by the 1913 inauguration, but the hotel has gone no furthor than down about forty feet into the ground. An immense fortune has been lost in the speculation so far. While construction was begun, the plans fell through, because the capital required was not raised in toto. Everything went under the creditors' hammer a year ago, and what had cost about $1,600,000 was sold for half that sum. Another hotel project was started to include a theater and office building, but it is understood that everything is off again and the loss of more fortunes seems in sight, Charles P. Taft, brother of former President Taft, having lost about $200,000. The hole is so deep that nothing can be done with it except to provide a foundation for a great structure, and as matters now stand the owners of the hole pay $1,000 a week in interest and taxes. It is the costliest hole in Washington, and has become one of the sights of the city.

On this land formerly used to stand the home of Senator Charles Sumner of Massachusetts. Hard by is Lafayette square and near is the White House. Two prominent clubs look right into the hole from their windows. Shored up are the grounds and the walls of a large private bouse, which used formerly to be the British embassy, in which Bulwer-Lytton wrote "Lucille."
