The local lodge in its prime was in charge of such men as Judge Church, Judge Bixler, W. T. Wilcox, George French, W. E. Risse, M. C. Harrington and others who were equal in oratory, and the dramatic work was put on with a brilliancy seldom heard in a lodge room.

To the Residents of North Platte
On show day, May 13th, you had better secure your doors and windows well, as there is a tough element that follows shows around and break in your home. It is reported that a lot of such fellows are following this show of May 13th. However, we will do our best to keep them moving.

Chief of Police.

Object to Pop-Corn Stand.

Wm. Whitlock had built a street house in which he proposed to sell pop corn and corn crisp, and attempted Friday to place it on Sixth street at the McDonald bank corner. The bank people, however, filed a protest against its location, and the house remains in the street unoccupied pending some possible settlement. The ordinance provides that these houses can be located on the streets only by permission of the owner of the adjacent property. The house was moved this morning to the corner of Fifth and Dewey, along side of Odd Fellows hall.

1200 Go Down with Lusitania.

A horrible incident connected with the European war occurred Friday afternoon when the big Cunard line passenger vessel Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Kinsale, Ireland. There were 188 Americans on board, seventy-three of whom at last reports had been saved.

In connection with the disaster Germany has issued the following official communication in defense of its action:

"The Lusitania was naturally armed with guns, as were recently most of the English merchantmen. Moreover, as is well known here it had large quantities of war material in its cargo.

"Its owners therefore, knew to what danger the passengers were exposed. They alone bear all the responsibility for what has happened.

"Germany, on its part, left nothing undone to repeatedly and strongly warn them. The imperial ambassador in Washington even went so far as to make a public warning so as to draw attention to this danger. The English press sneered then at this warning and relied on the protection of the British fleet to safeguard Atlantic traffic."

Luby was in the box for North Platte and pitched a great game, striking out ten men, and allowing five hits. Marlatt pitched for Ogalalla and was touched up for eight safeties.

Up to the seventh inning neither team scored, but later in inning Gettman told the boys it was time to do something, and started out by making the first score. This was followed by two runs in the eighth and two in the ninth. None of the Ogalalla players reached third during the game.
