The fire department responded to a call from the Fourth ward at seven o'clock yesterday morning to the former Coleman meat market. The fire was discovered by Messrs. Baker and Westendorf, who own the adjoining stores, and while opening their places of business noticed the smoke coming through the front door and windows. Three weeks ago Mr. Coleman closed out his business and the room still contained the fixtures but has not been occupied. The back door had been broken for some time and it is the general belief that tramps had been using it for sleeping quarters and had dropped matches. The fire started from a corner of the floor and burned up the side of the cooler. The damage ensuing before the flames were extinguished was slight.

Presented with a Jewel.

Robert E. French, of Kearney, grand custodian and representative of the grand master of the A. F. and A. M. of Nebraska, was in town Friday evening and met with the local lodge.

The lodge was opened in ample form and was for the purpose of presenting Charles McDonald, past master of Platte Valley Lodge No. 32 with the Robert C. Jordan gold medal.

Mr. McDonald at this time being the old-point of membership. He joined the order in the state in the winter of 1851 and has taken an active part in the work for sixty-one years. Mr. Jordan was the first grand master of the order in this state and the first to wear this medal which at the death of the wearer is next given to the oldest member.

Mr. McDonald was a warm personal friend of Mr. Jordan and assisted him in establishing the first Masonic lodge in Omaha in 1855. Since then Mr. McDonald has been a master Mason, royal arch Mason, Knight Templar and a thirty-third degree Mason.

He was instrumental in organizing the Platte Valley lodge January 15th, 1870, at his ranch at Cottonwood Springs and it was removed to this city in 1872. At the age of eighty-nine Mr. McDonald is still one of the most popular and faithful members of the lodge and has the distinction of being the oldest resident of Lincoln county, having come to the state in 1855, to the county in 1860, and to North Platte in 1872.

The medal contains a raised miniature of Robert Jordan—a Masonic emblem and is engraved with Mr. McDonald's name and number of years he has been a Mason.

Two Games of Shut-Out Ball

The first game of ball Sunday afternoon between Central City and the Boosters was by far the best game played on the local grounds this season, resulting in a score of two to nothing in favor of the Boosters. Both teams played air tight ball, and as to hits, strike outs and errors, honors were even. Three double plays were made, and these with the small lead the Boosters had over the visitors, and which might at any time be evened up or overcome, kept the interest tense throughout the game. Artley in the box for the Boosters struck out eight men and gave seven hits; the visiting pitcher's record was the same. Each team made one error. The Boosters scored one in the first and one in the third, while the visitors succeeded in getting but one man on third. About five hundred witnessed the game and were exceedingly well pleased with the work of both teams.

The second game yesterday was as spectacular as was the one on Sunday, the Boosters winning by a score of five to nothing. The locals made five hits and no errors, while Central City made two hits and one error, one of the hits being a scratch. Luby occupied the box for the locals and was given superb support throughout the game. Holliday repeated his three-bagger performance of Sunday and Gettman was also strong at the bat.

Certainly the fans have no complaint to make of the Boosters' work in these two games.

R. L. Shape, of Atlantic City, was in this city Saturday and left for home that evening. He was riding through from Atlantic City to western points, the distance to be 3,400 miles, on a fifteen day wager in a Cadillac car and until he reached Omaha was five days ahead of his schedule. After passing Elm Creek he was stuck in the mud eleven times, lost time, became discouraged and returned home. While here he visited with Harry Reese.

Our Big Discount Sale closes Saturday night; it will pay you to drop in and see what we have to offer. CLINTON, the Jeweler.

"The Spoilers."

Kathlyn Williams is already known, and needs no introduction to the lovers of the silent drama. She has been for the past three years identified with all the great Selig wild animal productions and her courage has been envied in every country in the world. She now comes to the people of North Platte in an entirely new role, and she will be seen at the Keith theatre Monday, July 19, as Cherry Mallote in W. N. Seligs wonderful production and visualization of Rex Beach's famous novel, "The Spoilers."

This stupendous production will receive its initial presentation July 19, 1915, at the Keith theatre, North Platte Neb.

When one considers that "The Spoilers" in book form when first published sold for $1.50, and was the largest of the six big sellers of its time; the best seats for the play of the same name sold for cost $1.50, taking three hours for presentation—and those who have seen the play, read the book and witnessed the picture, proclaim the picture superior to both; the picture being exhibited for one-sixth the price which the book sold for in the first edition, requiring only two hours of one's time to thoroughly digest the entire story, one will readily realize that the moving picture business is worthy and deserving of its prominence, its importance, and educational value.

Matinee 2:30; evening 7:30 and 9:15.
