Two Things a Corn Crib Must Do

The first thing that a corn crib should afford is thorough ventilation to the stored grain. To secure this, leave the sides as open as possible, and divide the crib into small bins.

The second thing that a corn crib should afford is protection from driving rains and snows. This can be easily done by extending the eaves well down over the sides.

Corn is one of our leading crops. So there is no more important building on the farm than the corn crib. We can help you build the right kind of corn crib—help you with ideas, and supply you the necessary materials. Call on us any time that suits you.

W. W. BIRGE CO.

A Buick roadster occupied by two men and a woman and a Cadillac occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Household and six children had a head on collision east of Shelton Sunday evening. All the occupants of both cars were more or less injured by being thrown promiscuously over the road.

The Kearney Hub states that thirty carloads of cement have been received at Kearney for use in the "seeding" mile of the Lincoln Highway. Three thousand barrels to the mile would mean about a million and a half barrels for a roadway from the Missouri river to the Wyoming line. When one thinks of the stupendous cost of the highway he has reason to doubt if the highway will be completed within the next fifty years.

The entertainment committee of the Elks announce that the entertainment and dance to be given next Monday evening will be the "smoothest" ever produced. The stunts that will be pulled off have been in course of preparation for several weeks, and in them has been injected the resourcefulness of Dr. Wurtel, Jim McDonald, Jack Horrigan and several others who are well known originators of funny things. The committee has received skull masks which will be presented to attendants when they arrive at the home. However, each person must bring a sheet and pillow case, which must be worn after reaching the scene of the festivities.

The best eye in the world can easily be made the reverse by a slight strain and abuse. No organ of the human system will snap so quickly as the eye. WORK won't hurt—abuse kills it. C. S. CLINTON, Registered Optometrist. Look for the sign with the RING.

At York, Nebr., each year, the Methodist church entertains the older people at what they call a "Sunset Social." All those who have reached the age of seventy or more years are invited. This year 173 guests sat at the banquet, the oldest being Mr. H. F. Swanbach, who lives at the Odd Fellows' home. He is a hundred years old but doesn't look it. This was the fifteenth year a "Sunset Social" has been given at York. The Methodist ladies of North Platte wish to inaugurate such an affair. They wish to invite all persons who have reached the age of 70 or more years. It will be difficult to find all such persons and anyone of this age or knowing those who are, can help with this work by giving the names to the committee. Mrs. Wilson Tout, chairman committee, phone Red. 430.

JAMES BELTON DIES AT SAN DIEGO YESTERDAY

James Belton, a pioneer resident of North Platte, died yesterday at San Diego, Cal., where he and his daughter Miss Carrie had been making their home for several years. Death resulted from a paralytic stroke which came Thursday. Upon receipt of this affliction, Mrs. W. H. McDonald, a daughter, left for San Diego on the first train.

Word of Mr. Belton's death was conveyed by the following telegram sent by Mrs. McDonald and received this morning: "My father passed away today six hours after I reached here. We have made no definite plans yet, but expect to leave San Diego Friday or Saturday, bringing his body to North Platte."

A memoir of Mr. Belton will appear in these columns later.

To Every Member of the Christian Church and Bible School.

We need 105 points to win the North Platte-Hastings contest. We are to win, and we are counting on every one of you to lend your help. We must have 500 on next Sunday, the last day of the contest. I am sure you will not fail. If we win, North Platte will sure be on the bible school map of the state, for we will in all probability have the largest school in the state. J. H. VAN CLEAVE, Superintendent.

Yesterday Officer Baker killed several dogs on which taxes had not been paid and which were causing disturbances in their neighborhoods.

The bulk price of hogs in the South Omaha market October 12th was $8.38, yesterday the bulk price was $7.29, a drop of $1.07 in less than two weeks, and this in the face of the fact that shipments at the one period were about the same as at the other. We would like to know just how far the law of supply and demand governs the price of hogs—and some other things as well.

The base ball committee are completing arrangements for the all star game which will be played on the local grounds Thursday. The diamond is being put in condition, temporary bleachers will be erected and the business houses have agreed to close from three to five. In addition to the $1.00 for admission, a charge of twenty-five cents will be made for the grand stand and for each automobile.

Osterman Passes Through

H. C. Osterman, consul at large for the Lincoln Highway, accompanied by Mrs. Osterman and a private secretary, arrived from the west Saturday afternoon. The party is returning from the Panama exposition where the Lincoln Highway films were shown under Mr. Osterman's direction. He pronounced the views good, and as an advertisement for the Lincoln Highway he thinks they will accomplish much in increasing the popularity of the trans-continental highway.

Speaking of the road in the Platte Valley Mr. Osterman thinks it should be graded and covered with gravel, the latter to be obtained from the bed of the Platte river.

While in town Mr. Osterman, in company with A. B. Hoagland, inspected the new bridge being constructed east of town, and spoke of it in very complimentary terms, saying that the people were entitled to much credit in securing its erection.

O stands for Op-tom-e-trist, who makes the eyes right.

Conferring a blessing on those with poor sight.

By fitting of glasses which make the eyes see.

Both the old and the young—for a very small fee.

Your eyes he'll examine and tell you what's wrong—

Sometimes takes a minute—again, it's quite long.

But whether it's easy, or whether it's hard,

He leaves nothing undone in any regard.

C. S. CLINTON, Registered Optometrist; Look for the sign with the RING.

Brother of Mrs. Davis Dies

A telegram received this morning announced the death at Riverton, Ia., of Ancel Eskew, a brother of Mrs. E. S. Davis, of this city. Mr. Eskew was injured in an automobile accident last Thursday, and at the time Mr. and Mrs. Davis were in Omaha attending the Odd Fellows' grand lodge. They immediately went to Riverton, and were there when the end came.

W. S. Morland Dies

John E. Evans received a telegram this morning stating that his brother-in-law W. S. Morland, of McCook, had died in Chicago last night. Death was due to stomach trouble.

Mr. Evans will go to McCook tomorrow to attend the funeral which will be held Thursday.

Mr. Morland was one of the well-known lawyers of the state, and for many years occupied a prominent place in the legal, business and political conditions of western Nebraska.
