Why Leave Machinery in the Rain?
It is proved that machines exposed to the weather rust out three times as quickly as they wear out. In other words, out of every four dollars you invest in a machine, you get three of them if you let it.

Some men use their barns to store their tools, but usually there isn't enough space. Why not keep it in a shed? It's the modern way.

The cost of building such a shed is much less than you think, much less than what you'd otherwise have to pay for new machines and new parts.

We have a full line of good building materials. The sooner you get your shed started, the sooner it will start saving you money.

Employees as Stockholders
There are about 150,000 employees in the Bell Telephone System. More than 30,000 employees, or practically one in five, are stockholders.

Thousands of girl operators, linemen and clerks have subscribed for stock under an easy payment plan recently adopted by the Company.

Including employees, there are nearly 100,000 stockholders in the Bell Telephone System, or one to every thousand persons in the United States.

Who the Shareholders Are
In many cases stock subscribed for by employees is being paid for a little each month. The plan of buying stock this way aids employees to save their money as well as to become part owners of the Company for which they work.

Aside from employees, the majority of stockholders in the Bell System are women.

Yale and Harvard, and other colleges and public institutions, have part of their endowment funds invested in Bell Telephone stock.
