The "Sunset" Dinner.

An occasion worthy of special mention was the "Sunset" dinner given at noon Wednesday by the ladies of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. M. J. Forbes. The guests were the residents of this city who had reached seventy years of age and the fifty-six that responded to the invitation spent a most enjoyable afternoon renewing acquaintances of former years and relating incidents of the early days.

The large room were decorated with streamers of yellow and white, and twelve small tables were prettily decorated with yellow asters and ferns.

At a large table in the dining room were seated the oldest guests, and Charles McDonald having recently passed his eighty-ninth birthday was given the place of honor at the head. Bouquets of large yellow chrysanthemums and garden flowers were used on this table.

The color scheme, yellow and white was carried out in the place-cards, napkins and courses of the elaborate dinner. The guests were called for in automobiles. The following program was rendered: Address of Welcome, Rev. B. F. Cram; vocal solo, Mrs. Charles Stuart; reading, Bert Reynolds; instrumental duet, Misses Roxie and Isa Murphy; recitation, Harrison Tout; piano solos, Mrs. B. F. Cram; impromptu talks by Major Walker, Charles McDonald and Henry Cordes. The reading by Bert Reynolds was an original poem entitled, "When We were Boys and Girls" and in it were mentioned a number of the guests.

The committee and their assistants are to be highly complimented upon the pleasant day which they gave to those of our residents who are in the sunset of life.

Among those present were: Chas. McDonald, Major and Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mason, Mrs. E. Young, Mrs. Kate Guyman, Mrs. E. M. Wood, Mrs. B. I. Hinman, Mrs. H. E.
