The examination of the eye to be complete, must taken into consideration points far deeper than a mere test for vision. Rev. Adam Stump, D. D., will preach at both the morning and evening services. Rev. Stump was pastor of the church here from 1885 to 1890 when the present church was built and has always watched the growth of this church with interest. There are still here in the city eight of the charter members whose presence is desired at the morning service. There are also many others whom he received into church membership, baptized in infancy, married, or otherwise received the benefit of his ministry while he was here. The church ought to be more than full at the regular services to greet and hear him once again preach the glorious gospel.

At the Keith Next Monday

The plays which do the most for the world are those which set men thinking. The task has been well accomplished by Harold Bell Wright in the dramatization of his popular book, "The Calling of Dan Mathews." The scene of the play is in the Ozark mountains, in a little town called Corinth. The hero is a young preacher, and by the way, is a son of our old friends, Sammy and Young Matt, whom we know in "The Shepherd of the Hills," who comes to Corinth to be pastor of one of its churches. At first he is well received. Later, in preaching the convictions of his own heart and in befriending Denny, a poor boy, and his mother, and a poor innocent girl for whose bad reputation certain persons in his church are largely responsible, he is driven to resign his position as pastor, and the most influential members in the church turn out to be the meanest and the lowest. In the dramatization, the story is brought out with dramatic force and strength that leaves absolutely nothing to be desired.

Two of the largest locomotive works are so busy making munitions of war at good prices that they have not time to build locomotives. The Baldwin works have contracts for $100,000,000 worth of munitions for the warring nations and the American Locomotive works contracts for $25,000,000.

THANKSGIVING

Since the beginning of time man has been endowed with a spirit of thankfulness. It is this spirit that distinguishes the human race from the dumb animal and makes our fellowship with each other so pleasant. A man does us a kindness and we show by our acts that we appreciate it, or at once we show that we are lacking that greatest quality of true manhood. As a nation we have more to be thankful for than any other people. AT PEACE WITH ALL THE WORLD AND A BOUNTIFUL HARVEST AT GOOD PRICES.

As a company the Quaker Specialists have more to be thankful for than any year in the past, because our Doctors have proven beyond any chance of contradiction that the combined Intra-venous Therapy and Tissue Remedies does cure many cases that would be incurable by any other known method. And in turn our friends are sending their sick friends to us for treatment until our business is growing more rapidly than ever before. In return we want to say to all our friends, "Accept our thanks for your loyal support."
