For Farm Loans see or write Gene Crook, room 3, Waltemath building, North Platte.

G. E. Winslow, who has been in Dickens for several weeks superintending the erection of a new school house, spent the past three days visiting his family. The building will be ready for use in three weeks.

Autos driven by Miss Mayme Pizer and G. W. Brown of Hershey, collided at the corner of Fifth and Dewey Friday afternoon. Fenders on the Pizer car were bent and the front end of the Brown car damaged. Mr. Brown was at fault and so acknowledged.

The Shostrom garage at Gothenburg burned Friday afternoon, together with nine cars. The vulcanizer was left burning during the noon hour and the fire is supposed to have originated therefrom. The garage was a one-story cement block building.

Mrs. L. D. Newton of Wellfleet, who has been taking medical treatments here for several weeks entered the City Hospital yesterday for an operation.

Ray Robinson and Rich Birge each weighed 800 pounds yesterday morning. Their "heaviness" was due to the fact that they killed five wild geese, and this, too, out of one flock. The other four men in the party bagged one.

The Trotter garage sold two Maxwell cars to out-of-town people Saturday, and yesterday sold a Red Six to J. E. Pile, of this city. Another car of Maxwells was received and unloaded by this garage yesterday. The Maxwell car seems to be about as popular a car in this section as is the Ford.

The University of Nebraska foot ball team is the only team in the west which came through the 1915 season with a clear slate of victories and the Cornhuskers have at last come into their own. In 1913 and 1914, Missouri valley supporters classified Nebraska as the cream of the west, but this classification was ridiculed in the Big Nine. But this year Nebraska has a better record than any western conference team or any other team in the west, whether it be in a conference or not, and the Cornhuskers must be acknowledged supreme in the west—Omaha Bee.

SAVE MONEY BY BUYING FROM YOUR LOCAL DEALER

When I learned that some three hundred persons had purchased blankets from an agent of a Kansas City house, and had investigated the prices paid, I determined to know how much difference there was between his prices and the prices that the same goods could be bought for from our local dealers, and to my great surprise found that the identical same blankets and perhaps a little better could be bought right at home and for a little less money. I do not cry out against people buying as cheaply as they can and make the dollar go as far as possible. Our local merchants ought to have the preference unless there is a saving worth while and by all means when we can buy for the same money or a little cheaper, the money ought to stay at home.

Don't be too ready to buy every time an agent comes to your door. Take time at least to investigate for I am sure that in this particular case money could have been saved by buying at home, and I think on just as good terms.

I might add here, too, that if we would do all our business with our local merchants on the same basis that it is carried on with the foreign mail order houses that the prices could be very nearly, if not entirely, duplicated. It is worth thinking about anyway.

C. F. TEMPLE, Agent.

Woman Dope Fiend Held.

A woman giving her name as Douglas and subsequently said it was Miller, was arrested Saturday night while in a mentally unbalanced condition. She stated that her home was in Toronto, Canada, but she could not remember how she reached North Platte. Apparently she is a dope fiend, and not being able to secure the drug after reaching here, employed some one to buy her a flask of whiskey, and when arrested was in an intoxicated condition. She is being held at the county jail for further investigation.

During the burning of the Union Pacific depot Wednesday afternoon the pay checks of thirty conductors and brakemen were overlooked in removing articles from the ticket office. Fragments of them were found in the debris the following day and they will be duplicated within a few days. The report sheets of the baggage department were completely destroyed.

The Methodist Brotherhood held their annual banquet last evening at the Riner cafe. Rev. Zentz, of Cameron, Mo., was the principal speaker of the evening. Talks were also made by Rev. Cram, Wilson Toot and Attorney J. G. Beeler. Bert Reynolds acted as toastmaster. During the evening music was furnished by the Methodist church orchestra.

All our highest priced suits formerly sold from $30 to $40 now going at $15. BLOCK'S.

Members of the Assembly club entertained their husbands at a six o'clock turkey dinner Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Norris, the latter being assisted by Mesdames Groves, Cornwell and Kaufman. After the dinner the evening was spent in contests between wives and husbands. The ladies were highly complimented for the pleasant evening they had provided.

There certainly ought to be a great degree of satisfaction in knowing that one's evening dress apparel is made by tailors who produce more fine dress garments than any ten average shops. Yours will be of that character if you order it of Edw. Burke's Clothes Shop because the evening dress garments made to your measure through Mr. Burke are all tailored in the exclusive dress wear department of the Kahn Tailoring Company of Indianapolis, which has won gold medals at international exhibitions for the production of this class of wear. The Union Cafe, in the room south of the McDonald bank, opened at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and served dinner to two hundred people. The room has been completely remodeled to suit the convenience of the new tenants, Messrs. Caridis and Coronos, who recently came from Hastings. The lunch counter will accommodate twenty-two people and fifty can be served at the tables which are arranged between large palms and rubber plants. The counters, cupboards and chairs are of highly polished oak and the kitchen, which is divided from the dining room by glass panel swinging doors, is finished in white and properly equipped. The Stamp orchestra furnished music during the afternoon and evening and cut flowers were used on the tables and distributed to the patrons.
