

The World's Tribute

At all international exhibitions where the Columbia Graphophone Company exhibited its records and instruments, Columbia supremacy received the most brilliant recognition.

The highest awards at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition went to Columbia Gramophones and Columbia Records for their general superiority and educational influence.

Grand Prizes at the St. Louis International Exposition also went to Columbia instruments and records; while at Paris in 1900, with every maker of sound-reproducing instruments and records represented, the world's Grand Prize was unanimously awarded to Columbia products.

Musically and mechanically, in keenest competition before the world's foremost scientific authorities, Columbia Gramophones and records have indubitably demonstrated their superiority. This is the supreme tribute of the world—and there is no higher.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

For Sale—4 apartments furnished for housekeeping, 329 east 5th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Axtell have returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Lincoln.

Frank Turpie returned last night from South Omaha where he transacted business for several days.

Christian Science service Sunday at 11 a. m., subject, "Truth." Sunday school at 12 m. Room 25, B. & L. building.

Lost—Pair of eye glasses, with chain, between Third and Sixth on Willow. Mrs. J. L. Murphy, 116 west Fourth.

The Brady vindicator says "Col. Wm. Beatty is able to be around again after a fall on a slippery walk some days ago."

Rev. Kenneth Bescher, of Hershey, who holds Swedish Lutheran services in this city, attended a district meeting of that church at Holdrege this week.

C. E. Tollefson, the grain buyer at Sutherland, says approximately 100,000 bushels of grain has been purchased at that point this fall and winter. He estimates that about half of the 1915 crop is still in the hands of the growers of that section.

A farmer who is feeding one hundred head of hogs says they are not putting on flesh as rapidly as they should and attributes the fault to the quality of the corn. He thinks the soft corn lacks nutrition.

J. J. Walter, living on the Pizer farm two miles west, held a sale Wednesday and while the sale was in progress he was taken sick with appendicitis and brought to the North Platte General hospital.

A card received by Geo. Austin yesterday from Mrs. E. F. Seiberger stated that Mr. Seiberger had been able to sit up for six hours Tuesday and was getting along fine. They expect to return from Rochester in about two weeks.

J. M. Shoup returned the first of the week from attending the stock show at Denver. Mr. Shoup took a prize on some hogs he had entered. He informs us Lincoln county Herefords led the procession in the final parade.—Sutherland Free Lance.

Last evening's feature of the Elks' billiard tournament were the games between Will Landgraf and Frank McGovern, the latter scoring his fifty to the former's forty-three, and between Jack McGraw and Dr. Pritchard, McGraw winning by eight. The side lines were well filled with boosters for the respective players.

More than an inch of snow fell last night, completely covering the ground and again giving mother earth a decidedly wintry aspect. The former snow not having disappeared, it may be possible that Arthur Rosa's prediction that snow would remain on the ground for one hundred consecutive days may come true.

Wm. C. Elder received a letter from his brother Frank, who is with the English army in Belgium, where he has been the past seven months. The letter was written Dec. 28 and arrived here Jan. 18, 1916. He says that it rains there nearly every day and mud galore, and speaking of large and fast guns he says they sure have them plenty, some shoot 40,000 shots a day. Frank says that he wishes he was back home on the old farm, but no relief in sight.—Brady Vindicator.

The recent shipment of cattle from the east to the west shows that there are some peculiar phases about the cattle business as it relates to the buying, selling and shipping end. For instance once upon a time Neale Turpie bought a bunch of young stuff near Lewellen, brought them to North Platte where they were summered and in the fall shipped to South Omaha. There they were purchased by an Iowa man who took them to his home. Later he shipped the heifers in the bunch to South Omaha, where they were bought by Gage Holloway, shipped back to North Platte and later sold to a stockman living within forty miles of the ranchman from whom Turpie originally bought them.

RAILROAD NOTES

Supt. Brophy, of Omaha, was here yesterday on Union Pacific business.

The Union Pacific shops were closed Tuesday and will remain so for some time.

Engineer James Roddy resumed work this week after being ill for some time with la grippe.

W. T. Berry of Grand Island, spent a few days here this week while en route from Cheyenne where he spent the first of this week on business for the Union Pacific.

J. P. Cary, of Omaha, who has been assistant to Supt. Brophy for some time was transferred to the Colorado division a few days ago with headquarters at Denver.

According to A. E. Erickson, agent of the American Express Company, arrangements have been completed for that company to undertake in a large way a general tourist business. It is now ready to sell steamship tickets, outline travel routes, and to arrange for personally conducted tours to all parts of the world.

Cashier Redmond, of the freight depot, paid off Wednesday evening fifty men who had been employed on the ice gang. They were said to be I. W. W. men and were classed as agitators. Mr. Redmond said they were above the average in intelligence and nearly all wrote a splendid hand. These were part of a hundred or more men that had been sent up from Omaha.

Notice to the Public.

I am now building on my west lot a livery barn with a feed lot in connection and will have the same completed by the 20th of January. I will then be able to take care of all the old customers, and all the new ones I can get. There will be a feed lot, in connection with the barn arranged so that you can drive in and feed at very little expense.

I will commence the building of a garage and two business rooms at once, weather permitting. One room will be for my business, and the other one will be for rent. I will handle all kinds of produce, and will always pay the highest market price. I will buy anything a farmer raises, and will sell him anything he wants. In connection with my feed barn I will have a salable, where stock of all kinds will be bought and sold and will have certain days for sales. I will have an up to date garage, with a first class machinist to take care of all repair work and will have gasoline and oils for sale, will have plenty of room to store your cars at reasonable prices.

We are here to stay not withstanding reported otherwise. Come and see us, we are here for business, and will treat you right.

JULIUS MOGENSEN

Mrs. Mildred H. Barraclough filed a petition in the district court Wednesday praying for a divorce from her husband William H. Barraclough, to whom she was married in August, 1910. Abandonment and non-support is alleged. She asks for the custody of the two children, boys aged two and three respectively and for alimony and costs of suit.

Miss Alice Fitzpatrick, who has been ill for a week past, will resume her duties as teacher at Brady Monday.
