

The World's Tribute

At all international exhibitions where the Columbia Graphophone Company exhibited its records and instruments, Columbia supremacy received the most brilliant recognition.

The highest awards at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition went to Columbia Gramophones and Columbia Records for their general superiority and educational influence.

Grand Prizes at the St. Louis International Exposition also went to Columbia instruments and records; while at Paris in 1900, with every maker of sound-reproducing instruments and records represented, the world's Grand Prize was unanimously awarded to Columbia products.

Musically and mechanically, in keenest competition before the world's foremost scientific authorities, Columbia Gramophones and records have indubitably demonstrated their superiority. This is the supreme tribute of the world—and there is no higher.

Grand Prix, Paris, 1900. Grand Prize, Milan, 1906. Grand Prize, St. Louis, 1904. Grand Prize Buenos Aires, 1910. Grand Highest award, Seattle, 1909. Two Grand Prizes, San Francisco, 1915.

BRATT & GOODMAN, District Agents, North Platte, Neb.

In the early part of my career I was much surprised to learn that at least ninety per cent of the chronic headaches could be entirely relieved by the proper use of glasses. Many stomach troubles, heart troubles and other difficulties are greatly relieved by the proper use of glasses. In fact those not educated in optometry will, upon investigation, be surprised to learn of the number of diseases that will be benefited by optometric methods. Harry Dixon, Registered Optometrist.

RAILROAD NOTES

After being closed for the past week, the Union Pacific shops were reopened yesterday morning.

Freight traffic on the Union Pacific this month has been heavier than during any previous January, and it is understood that indications for future business are bright.

Heavy traffic and the orders that all bad order freight cars be repaired promptly has resulted in an increase of employees in the car repair department at this terminal.

C. L. Paterson, chief of the U. P. secret service, and J. C. Gale, who has charge of the same work on the Nebraska division, spent yesterday in town while enroute to Omaha from a trip to Denver.

President Mohler, of the Union Pacific, while skating on a lagoon in one of the Omaha parks Sunday morning, fell and striking on the back of his head suffered a concussion of the brain. Physicians, however, are hopeful of his recovery.

Word from Omaha is to the effect that plans for the new North Platte depot are about completed and that work will be started about April 1st. It is definitely settled that the new depot will be located east of Dewey street—on a site between the former hotel building and the train dispatchers' office.

The car shortage on the Union Pacific is acute and at this terminal, as well as at all others, orders are that cars must be unloaded as quickly as possible and not detained an hour longer than necessary. This car shortage is felt on all roads, and is largely due to the fact that thousands of cars loaded with grain and merchandise are held up at the Atlantic seaboard points awaiting shipment to European points.

The work of filling the ice houses is progressing satisfactorily and up to yesterday about half the capacity had been supplied. About forty cars daily are being received from the Gothenburg lake. Work began yesterday on the second cutting on the lake east of town and if sufficient cars are provided the output from there will be fifty or sixty cars per day. This second harvest was to have started last week, but was held up on account of lack of cars. Very little ice from Laramie for the passenger service houses has so far been received. Yesterday one hundred and thirty men were at work at the houses, a majority of whom reside in or near town.

Card of Thanks.

We express our grateful thanks to our friends for the kindness shown us following the death of our mother the late Mrs. Senef.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS.

Cards have been received by local friends announcing the marriage of Miss Mabel Walsh, of Fresno, Cal., to Gordon B. Laing, formerly of this city, who has resided in Fresno for a dozen years. The ceremony will take place Wednesday, January 26th.

The Royal Neighbors will hold their regular meeting at the K. P. hall at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All members are requested to attend. In future meetings will be held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of every month.

The Nebraska farmer notes with considerable satisfaction the gradual advance in the price of hogs. Yesterday the bulk price at Omaha was $7.25. It looks as though seven cent hogs in North Platte was not far off. With the present price of good corn, the farmer needs at least seven cents for his hogs to play even.

P. R. Halligan, for several years a practicing attorney of this city, and a son of John J. Halligan, filed Saturday for the republican nomination for county attorney. He is not likely to have any opposition for the party nomination and will therefore be the republican candidate at the November election. Mr. Halligan is a graduate of the University of Nebraska law school and since entering practice has had experience in all the various phases of legal work. For two years he was county attorney for Arthur county.

The local order of Moose are preparing for their second annual banquet which will be held at their hall on the evening of February 17. A musical program under the direction of J. B. McDonald is being prepared.

Thos. McConnell, one of the well-known farmers of Hinman precinct, has decided to enter the field as an aspirant for the sheriffship and yesterday filed as a republican candidate. Mr. McConnell has been a resident of Hinman precinct for fifteen or more years and is highly regarded by acquaintances.

J. W. Rowland, who is a candidate for the democratic nomination for commissioner from the North Platte district, is better known as "Buck" Rowland, a nickname given him many years ago by his more intimate friends and "Buck" it has remained until this day. Mr. Rowland has been a resident of North Platte for forty-four years, which means he came here when of tender age.

Friends in this city have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Norma Chase and Alfred Nye, of Kearney, which will take place in that city on Thursday, February 10th. They will make their home in a ranch near Sterling. Miss Chase has been employed as teacher in the Gothenburg school and frequently visited Mrs. J. S. Simms here. Mr. Nye is a young business man of Kearney and was associated with the Gem Candy Co. in this city two years ago.
