The superintendents of all the schools in Nebraska organized under section 23 of the laws of the state and Omaha included, are members of this association. Supt. Tout was president last year and was re-elected for the coming year. He will invite the association to meet at North Platte next year, when the Junior high school is in operation. There are fifty-five schools belonging to the association this year.

BRODBECK & SON BUY FIFTH STREET LOTS

J. W. Payne, through Buchanan & Patterson, sold the two vacant lots east of the B. & L. building Wednesday for a consideration of fifty-five hundred dollars. The purchaser was Brodbeck & Son. The lots are 44x132. It is the intention of the purchasers to place a building on one of the lots within the next year, though at this time they have not decided just its size. This building will be used as a meat market, with large cold storage room in connection.

The building at present occupied by Brodbeck & Son will be torn down in the spring and a new building erected, thus causing the firm to seek other quarters. Pending the erection of their new building the meat market will occupy the north room of the new Morsch building, the removal to be made early in the spring.

The purchase made by Brodbeck & Son is considered a good buy; the location is an excellent one for any class of trade, as the number of people passing along that street is nearly as great as on Dewey street.

He also claims that a gold watch and other valuables were lost in the darkness and never recovered and that the county was responsible for the injuries he received and the time which he has lost. CHARLEY OSGOOD WILL

OPEN OVERLAND GARAGE

Miner Hinman has relinquished the agency for the Overland cars and the factory has given the agency to C. E. Osgood who will have a selling territory composed of Lincoln, Keith, Logan, McPherson and Arthur counties. Mr. Osgood expects to handle the Overland cars exclusively, believing that the six models of that car offer a sufficient range of price to satisfy any probable purchaser of a car. Mr. Osgood will receive his first shipment within the next week. For those he has secured storage space until he secures a salesroom and garage. He has now under consideration propositions from two parties who have offered to put up buildings suitable for garage purpose. One of the two will be accepted within a few days and the building will be started as soon as the weather will permit.

Believing that the Overland is one of the best made cars on the market and one of the best sellers, Mr. Osgood expects to make a number of sales in the near future, having already several prospects.

Child Labor Law is Passed

Washington.—The Keating bill barring from interstate commerce the products of child labor was passed by the house Wednesday, 337 to forty-six, and now goes to the senate. It imposes heavy penalties for interstate shipments of any commodity in whole or in part produced by children under 16 working in mills, canneries, workshops or manufacturing establishments. Where children are employed at night for more than eight hours a day in this latter class of industries, the maximum age is 16 instead of 14.

Opposition to the bill came largely from the south. Representative Webb of North Carolina, chairman of the house judiciary committee urged that it was unconstitutional, and sought unsuccessfully to exempt the children of widows from its operation.

Curious Manx Custom.

On July 5 every year all the officials of the Isle of Man, including the clergy in their surplices, walk to the top of Tynwald hill, and from the top of it the laws made during the year are promulgated in Manx and English. This promulgation of the laws on Tynwald hill is as necessary as the royal assent to the validity of all laws passed by the Manx legislature. This is one of the many relics which the old Norsemen left behind, and it dates so far back that its origin is lost in the mists of antiquity.—Liverpool Mercury.

Wonderful.

It was in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The little man with the hunted look on his face was standing before the mummy of an Egyptian princess. "Isn't it wonderful," he sighed, "to think that any one could make a woman dry up and stay that way?" And silently wiping away a tear he hurried out and caught a car, for it was only twenty minutes to dinner time.—Boston Post.

Young Efficiency Expert.

Caller—So your son Willie has got a job as office boy. How is he getting on? Fond Mother—Splendidly! He already knows who ought to be discharged and is merely waiting to get promoted so that he can attend to it.—Boston Transcript.

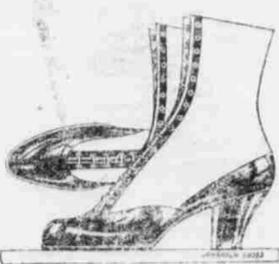

Well, Well.

"Did you ever aim at a deer in the Adirondacks and bag a guide?" "I did more than that. I aimed at a deer in a drawing room and bagged a bride."—Florida Times-Union.
