Organize for Ball Season

A big crowd of enthusiastic ball fans met at the office of O. E. Elder last evening and organized for the coming season. Ray C. Langford was elected president, O. E. Elder secretary and treasurer and the veteran ball player J. J. Gettman captain with full management of the team. W. J. Landgraf was appointed chairman of a committee—the members of which he will select—to get up a three-day fair and carnival for the purpose of raising funds to meet the preliminary expense of securing the players, purchasing the outfits and getting the season started. Scotts Bluff, Bridgeport, Alliance, Sidney, Ogallala, Kearney and probably other towns will organize and place teams in the field, and this gives promise of a sufficient number of games during the season. A number of players have already written for places on the team.

With Jake Gettman as captain and with financial liberality on the part of our people there is no reason why North Platte should not have a top notch ball team and with Langford and Elder as the officials of the organization, good management is assured.

Population Increases.

Sixteen or eighteen creek section households who had been stationed east of the bridge have been transferred to town and will occupy the signal main house near the electric power house. Under system of re-districting the section headquarters east of the bridge have been abandoned.

Street Paving at Kearney.

Some idea of the amount of street paving authorized at Kearney can be gleaned from the fact that fourteen paving districts have so far been formed. In the Hub the city council advertisement for bids for the paving in two districts, and the estimate of the cost in these two districts alone is $75,000. It is probable that within the first year of its paving movement Kearney will expend between $300,000 and $400,000.

Redmond's Condition Serious.

The condition of F. T. Redmond, who recently went to Los Angeles, is serious and he is so weak that a walk or a block tires him out. Failure of the system to throw off the accumulated poison is the cause of the trouble, and his case is pronounced by the attending physician to be out of the ordinary and the doctor is watching the effect of the treatment with more than usual care and interest. Mr. Redmond's condition when he reached Los Angeles was pronounced extremely critical. It will require a long period of treatment to restore normal conditions.

Fine Apples from Lamb's.

Yesterday a box labeled "Accept this box of Spitzberg apples with the compliments of R. X. Lamb," was delivered at the Tribune office. They are part of a carload received by Mr. Lamb this week and which he is offering for sale at his North Locust street store. He advertises them as "fine" but that word does not define them properly—size, perfect in form, fine in flavor and as snappy as the day they were picked from the tree, they are all that they could be desired in the apple line.

Hilmer Thompson, of Chappell, came down yesterday morning to visit his parents for a few days.

Mrs. Manderson of Williams, came the first of this week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Schwaiger while en route home from a visit in Seattle and other western points.

The following ladies were elected to hold office for the coming year: President, Mrs. Clara Davis; vice-president, Mrs. Hattie Rincker; recording secretary, Mrs. Mattie Prosser; cor. sec., Mrs. Jennie Miltonberger; treasurer, Mrs. Maude Hendy; chaplain, Mrs. Helen White; guard, Mrs. Edna Iddings; journalist, Mrs. Blanche Field. Delegates to the state convention held in Alliance in June were elected as follows: Mrs. Clara Davis and Mrs. Mary Grimes, alternates Mrs. Daisy Hinman and Mrs. Dorothy Beeler.

The next meeting will be held on March 25d at the residence of Mrs. Rincker and will be a business and study meeting, the anniversary tea originally arranged for that date, having been postponed until April 5th.

The Mystery Cleared.

The early part of this week M. H. Douglas found four 40-60 calibre cartridges on his lawn, the next day a neighbor in passing over the lawn found four more and yesterday a passing school girl picked up three on the Douglas premises. About this time "Bob" began to get a little nervous, he didn't want anybody to think he was making an arsenal out of his premises, or that he was quietly turning out ammunition for the Germans; and then, too, he didn't know but what he had some enemy who scattered the cartridges as sort of a skull and crossbones warning. He turned the ammunition over to Chief Baker and requested him to investigate and this the Chief did with the result that he ascertained that boys had broken into the remnant of the Hershey building opposite the post-office and finding several boxes of the cartridges had taken them but not tiring of them proceeded to unload part of them on the Douglas premises.
