SCHOOL BUILDING BIDS RANGE ABOVE $50,000.

Bids for the construction of the new Junior high school building were opened by the board of education at a meeting last evening. About twenty bids were on file, and all were greatly in excess of the estimated cost submitted by the architect. None were less than $50,000, while the estimated cost was $50,000.

The bid of Howard McMichael, of this city, for $60,000 was accepted with the understanding that certain interior changes are to be made that will bring the cost down to within the $50,000 bond voted for the erection of the building. The proposed changes will not alter the size of the building or the material used in its construction, but will consist of cutting out interior arrangements that can later be added when funds are available.

The board of education, the architect and Contractor Mr. McMichael will meet in conference this evening and tomorrow evening and decide on the changes of the interior plans, and the scaling down of the bid. The bid of $60,000 includes the heating plant.

It is expected that at the end of the conference tomorrow evening the contract will be signed and Contractor McMichael will at once begin assembling the material for the construction work.

It is probable that the board of education will publish an official statement this week giving information relative to the bids, the building and general financial conditions.

Hotel McCabe Opens Tomorrow

The new Hotel McCabe will be formally opened at noon tomorrow, luncheon to be served from 11:30 to 2. The furnishings of the hotel are neat, attractive and substantial, many of the rooms have baths attached, all rooms have running hot and cold water and telephone, there are public baths on each floor, passenger elevator; in fact the hotel is strictly modern in all conveniences.

The owner of the building, Dr. McCabe, and the lessee and hotel owner, C. O. Weinand, are entitled to the hearty support of our people and the general traveling public.

Twenty members of the volunteer fire department attended the services at the Christian church Sunday evening in full uniform. H. G. Knowles, pastor, delivered an eloquent sermon and extended the thanks of the congregation to the fire boys for their work during the recent fire in the church basement.

One of the pretty and enjoyable week end functions was the luncheon given by Mrs. J. W. McGraw at one o'clock Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Pollock. Decorations were in keeping with St. Patrick's day and the centerpiece represented a large lake outlined with green moss. Ten guests were present and after enjoying the luncheon spent the afternoon relating Irish tales.

We are showing all the new spring models in corsets. We maintain a carefully selected stock of Henderson Back and Front Lace corsets; also the La Princesse in front lace. Not an accumulation of ill assorted models and sizes but just the most desirable numbers that should be shown in a well regulated department. We help you to select your corset very carefully and guarantee satisfaction. E. T. Tramp & Sons.

SHILALLAH CLUB HOLDS THIRD ANNUAL BANQUET

The Knights of Shilallah that organization of the hale fellows well met, held their third annual banquet at the bachelors' bungalow last evening, and the unanimous opinion was that the affair surpassed previous efforts in features, completeness of detail and enjoyment. The members met in the Elks' club at seven o'clock and forming in line counter-marched on Dewey street and thence to the bungalow. The parade was quite clever. Each member wore a high green hat, a white and green sash, green carnation and carried a cane with pennant attached. J. T. Keefe headed the procession followed by bearers of the American flag and an Erin go Bragh banner, a donkey led by Tom Healey and with Pete Barron astride the animal, and then the six-piece band. This latter consisted of a cornet, French horn, trombone and a tuba made of cardboard in true instrument shape, gilded and through which Frank McGovern, Jim Clinton, Dave Dave and Jim McDonald sang popular airs as the march proceeded. The base drum was handled by Mayor Evans and the snare drum by Roy Cantlin. The music rendered was not bad. Following the band were twenty or more Knights.

On arriving at the bungalow the Knights were accorded a most hearty welcome by the reception committee, and an hour spent in smoking, music by the band, selections by the quartette, piano solos and Victrola music. Dinner was announced at 8:45, and thirty members surrounded a gaily bedecked table and were served with a most sumptuous six-course dinner. The color scheme of green and white was carried out profusely in the room and table decorations, and the menu cards were green with white clay pipes attached.

J. T. Keefe occupied the toastmaster's chair in his usual versatile manner, and introduced as speakers—Mayor Evans, Geo. M. Smith, W. R. Maloney, Roy Cantlin, Pete Barron, Rev. Father McDaid, I. L. Bars, Geo. A. Austin and others. The speakers' themes were along the line of Ireland, and the Irish people and their characteristics.

The bungalow boys, who were the hosts of the evening, certainly entertained with a lavishness and a nicety that was good for the soul as well as the stomach.
