HERROD TO POSTPONE BUILDING.

The little frame building east of the Herrod store was torn down yesterday. This gave rise to the report that Mr Herrod would begin at once the construction of a 44-foot front building. Inquiry, however, brought from Mr. Herrod the statement that he had postponed indefinitely the erection of the building.

With four store rooms in new buildings vacant, and six more rooms to become vacant May 1st, he has concluded that North Platte has already more business rooms than there is business.

THE USUAL STORM ARRIVES.

That April snow storm which never "passes up" the banana belt, arrived yesterday. It was a wet snow, largely melted as it fell, and furnished the needed moisture, for the top of the ground had become rather dry after a month of practically no precipitation. The storm reminded Jas. Babbitt of one on the 15th of April forty years ago when every employe of the Union Pacific shops, round house and yards was ordered out to dig trains from snow banks between North Platte and Sidney.

C. J. Miles, of Hastings, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, spent Tuesday in town meeting members of his party under the guidance of Mayor Evans. Mr. Miles has long been identified with the business interests of Hastings and is one of the substantial citizens of that town.

Judge Cornish, of Omaha, spent yesterday in town and was introduced to a number of our business men and others by Judge Hoagland. Judge Cornish has been a district judge in Omaha for a quarter of a century and is now a candidate for the nomination for supreme judge.

Elmer Coates, manager of the Coates lumber and coal company of this city, has just purchased from Wm. E. Shuman lot 7, block 8 of the Trustee's addition which is situated at the corner of Fourth street and Eastman avenue. Mr. Coates will build a splendid home upon his lot during the summer.

THE PURPOSES OF THE LOCAL WOMAN'S CLUB

So many inquiries have come in of late concerning the local Woman's Club that it was decided to publish an article giving some general information in regard to this organization.

The club was organized September 23, 1913, at a general meeting of women, absorbing and taking the name of the Twentieth Century club, already organized and federated.

The object of the club is, according to the constitution, to stimulate intellectual and moral development, to promote good fellowship among its members and to strengthen, by organization, their individual efforts for humanity.

There were about one hundred charter members and any woman vouched for by a member may join by paying the annual dues. The dues are $1.50 per year payable at the first meeting in September. The money derived from this source covers all expenses of the club, such as year books, state and general federation dues, delegates expenses, etc.

At the last meeting it was decided to suspend the dues for the remainder of the year and invite all those interested to work the remaining months of the club year without expense or obligation on their part. If by so doing enough more women join it may be possible to materially reduce the dues.

The club work is divided into departments corresponding to those of the General Federation. Members may enroll in any or all departments. The literature and domestic science departments have proven the most popular so far. The general club has done the civic work this year, which has been in the main connected with the public schools. Recently there seems to be a demand for other departments, especially one of political science where women may study laws of the state and nation pertaining to child labor, property rights, pure food, peace and many other such topics.

The General Federation urges all clubs to study seriously the intricate problems of peace and political science, saying "Toward these vital phases of our nation's welfare our women cannot remain indifferent, yet wisdom in action regarding them is even more important than energy".

A matter under consideration at the present time is the children's garden project. A number of clubs throughout the country have taken up this work with wonderful success. Children have received their first lesson in handling money and in keeping accounts, at the same time obtaining fresh air and out-door exercise.

The matter of irrigation and a competent supervisor are problems which confront the local club.

The Twentieth Century club is a democratic organization where women of various beliefs and opinions may meet and find much good in each other, "strengthen, by organization, their individual efforts for humanity."

Any woman who is interested in any of these projects or has other problems to present is cordially invited to meet with this club the second Tuesday evening in each month at the chamber of commerce room.

ADDITION TO TRIBUNE FORCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Young arrived from Bemidji, Minn., Wednesday evening to make North Platte their home. Beginning Monday Mr. Young will become associated with The Tribune as city editor and advertising man. He knows the newspaper game thoroughly, is a finished printer, linotype expert, and a practical man both on the outside and inside of a newspaper office.

Mr. Young comes to The Tribune highly recommended and the publisher asks that he be extended that courtesy by the citizens that they have always shown The Tribune.

Under Mr. Young's supervision it is hoped to soon make The Tribune a more modern, larger and better newspaper.

The youngest son of Dr. J. S. Twinem was taken ill with scarlet fever Wednesday morning.

Dave Day left yesterday morning for Lincoln where he will visit friends for several days.

August Stegman left yesterday morning for Sutherland to spend the remainder of this week.

George Tekule was called to Greensburg, Ind., yesterday morning by the serious illness of his mother.

William Horner, John Jockel, W. S. Wood and W. P. Kellan of Wallace are spending this week here on business.

Miss Bessie Rannie left Wednesday afternoon for Omaha to spend a week or longer with her sister, Mrs. Charles Terrell, formerly of this city.

J. C. North of Omaha arrived here Wednesday to take the position of yard watchman for the Union Pacific company. Joseph Wyman has been performing this duty since the resignation of Ira Wiedman.

Retiring From Business

SALE

Within the next ninety days I retire from the active management of The Leader. Mr. J. E. Nelson, of Holdrege, has purchased an interest in the business and will take management of the new corporation, which will be known as The Leader Mercantile Co., which will be incorporated after July 4th. The stock must be reduced before the change occurs, therefore we will inaugurate a

EASTER SUNDAY will soon be here. Everybody will want something new for this great day. There never was a better opportunity afforded the people of North Platte and vicinity to buy spring and summer goods at such prices as we are now offering.

Our stock of spring and summer goods is now fully complete and the stock is better this season than ever before. We can fit any size from the smallest to the largest and suit the pocketbook of all.

Our goods were bought before the recent radical advance in prices, and we marked them accordingly, and this with the discount we now offer brings the price to you less than the present wholesale price.

This is not an advertisement to catch your trade, but a bonafide sale to reduce the stock before the incorporation of The Leader Mercantile Co. is effected. If you have any doubt about the truthfulness of this sale and the change in the management inquire at the First National Bank and ascertain the fact that a $2,000 forfeit has been placed, or to Attorneys Beeler and Gibbs who drew the contract of sale and also the articles of incorporation.

This discount does not apply to ready-to-wear garments already purchased and now in our alteration department.

All Alterations Free

NOTICE---From now on no charging will be done in our store--all purchases Spot Cash.
