GEORGE BROWN KILLED BY OVERTURNING CAR.

George E. Brown, a well known engineer of this city, was killed Friday afternoon when his car overturned pinning him underneath. The accident occurred three and one-half miles south of town on what is known as "Dodge hill," a steep and rather dangerous ascent used to show off the hill climbing power of automobiles. Mr. Brown owned an 8-cylinder car, and desiring to test its power, drove to the hill Friday afternoon, and was seen passing through the state farm about 2:30. Three hours later Mrs. Joseph Schwaiger accompanied by her son Paul and sister Miss Anna McLean while driving in that vicinity noticed the overturned car and could discern a man's head and arm protruding. They hurriedly drove to the state farm and a telephone call sent for the sheriff and coroner who, with Dr. Dent and others drove out. They found the heavy car turned over on its right side, with the edge resting on Mr. Brown's neck. The body was extricated and after an examination Dr. Dent announced that life had been extinct for two or three hours.

As Brown was alone, there was no eye witness, but the track of the car showed that he had made a partial ascent, had then started backward, and upon reaching the foot had struck rough ground on a reverse ascent and turned over. The general theory—and the only probable one—is that when part way up the hill the engine died, and in descending the brake did not work or was not sufficiently strong to hold the car on so steep an incline.

The funeral service was held at the Methodist church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon and the body taken to York, Neb., yesterday morning accompanied by Mrs. Brown, the two sons, and Engineers Richards, Orton, Trexler, Murrin, Vosepka and Guyman, who were the pall bearers.

Mr. Brown, who was about forty years of age, had lived in North Platte for about fifteen years, and was employed as fireman and later as engineer on the Union Pacific and was a member of the B. of L. E. He was popular with acquaintances and a splendid man in all particulars. His death was a distinct shock to the entire community.

RAILROAD NOTES

Conductor Bert Cullon left today for his home town in Arthur county, where he will spend the summer.

Clark LeDoyt, who has been employed on the branch road for several months, sustained a dislocated ankle last week and has returned home.

The Union Pacific pay car came in Sunday afternoon and issued checks to employees who were on hand. The car went west on No. 9 the same evening.

Engineer Charley Cathoun moved yesterday to the former C. A. Dill property in the 900 block on west Fourth street, which he recently purchased.

The U. P. work train has been unloading rails from North Platte to O'Fallons the past week. They are replacing the old 80-lb steel rails on the west bound track with the heavier 90-lb rails.

Ray Green was arraigned in the county court Friday for assaulting Thomas Heskett of the Birdwood section. The defendant claims that Green tried to lasso him with a large rope. Green plead not guilty and the case was set for Monday, April 24th.

C. M. Reynolds returned Sunday from Lincoln where he attended the Democratic banquet at which Senator Hitchcock and Keith Neville were the guests of honor. When Mr. Neville stepped forward to make his address, all in the hall rose to their feet.

BIDS FOR PAVING ARE REJECTED BY THE COUNCIL.

The work of paving the streets in bidders were not much higher than the other delayed a month by the action of the city council last Friday in rejecting all of the eight bids filed. While the prices submitted by the bidders were not much higher than the estimate made by City Engineer Mc-Namara, the council concluded that by re-advertising for bids lower prices might be obtained not only from those who submitted bids but possibly, other concerns might submit bids.

The city clerk was instructed to re-advertise for bids, naming May 12th as the date on which they will be opened.

The prices named by the various bidders were as follows:

Universal Concrete Company, St. Joseph, Mo., fiber brick, $2.22 per square yard; concrete, $1.69 per square yard; Abel Construction company, Lincoln, vitrified brick block, $2.40 per square yard; fiber brick $2.12 per square yard; sheet asphalt $1.84 per square yard; Johnson Construction Company Chicago, asphalt $1.91 and $1.80 per square yard; E. B. Tyner Construction company, Kansas City, Mo., vitrified brick block, $2.43 per square yard; fiber brick, $2.18 per square yard; asphalt, $1.90 per square yard; Omaha Structural Steel Works, Omaha, vertical fiber brick, $2.17 per square yard; G. Mancini, Florence, Neb., vitrified brick block, $2.44 per square yard; concrete $1.64 per square yard; James J. Parks company, Omaha, vitrified brick block, $2.45 per square yard; asphalt, $1.73 per square yard; concrete $1.74 per square yard; H. J. Cathro, Omaha, fiber brick, $2.23 per square yard, asphalt $1.93 per square yard.

Lutheran Confirmation Service.

At the Palm Sunday service last Sunday morning at the Lutheran church twenty young people were admitted into church membership by the solemn rite of confirmation. These young people ranged in age from fourteen to seventeen years and were instructed in the doctrines of religion once a week since last October. The church was appropriately and beautifully decorated, the special music suited to the day and the service in general most impressive and long to be remembered by the parents of the young people and all those present. The class in the evening very creditably gave a public review of Bible and church history in the presence of many witnesses. Several adult members will be received during the week and on Easter Sunday.
