Gerard to Meet German Ruler.
Washington, April 27.—Secretary Lansing announced late today, in response to questions, that the situation between the United States and Germany was unchanged.

Berlin, April 2.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, will leave Berlin tonight for the German army headquarters, where he will be received by the German emperor.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, who up to the present has been at the army headquarters, is expected to come to Berlin tomorrow to prepare Germany's answer to the latest American note.

Martial Law in Ireland.
London, April 27.—Official admission today that there were indications of a spread of the revolutionary movement in Dublin to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west, was accompanied by the proclamation of martial law throughout the island. Hitherto only the city and county of Dublin had been under military rule because of the outbreak.

The statement regarding the indicated spread of the revolutionary movement, in strong contrast with the reassuring statements of yesterday, was made by Premier Asquith in the House of Commons today. The Irish situation still presented serious features, the premier admitted.

Vote on Popular Clerks

One of the spirited features of the base ball fair is the contest on the most popular lady clerks, operators and stenographers.

Wednesday night Miss Jessie Baker won as the most popular hello girl, leading her nearest competitor by over 400 votes. Last night Mrs. Vonahy Love was voted the most popular clerk, receiving 2,715 votes, or more than 1,000 ahead of her nearest competitor.

This evening the contest will be on the most popular lady stenographer.

Sunday Rakes in Coin.

Billy Sunday continues to give Charlie Chaplin and the munitions makers a tight race. Baltimore has just yielded up a "free will" offering of close to $50,000 as the culmination of an eight weeks' revival. Since making $20,000 in Omaha in September and October, Sunday has received $25,000 from Syracuse, $32,000 from Trenton and this fifty thousand from Baltimore. This aggregates in the neighborhood of $125,000 and the year is not out. One more good revival this season and Sunday will be up with the creator of Mutt and Jeff as a money maker.—Lincoln Journal.

Missionary Scott Is Sick

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Missionary W. W. Scott, from Tamora, Neb., stating that doctors give him no hope for recovery from his lung trouble. His left lung has broken entirely down so that no air passes through it, and he suffers pain continuously day and night. He wishes us to remember him to all his friends. We know that this will be received with a pang of regret for the kindly old soul was liked by everyone who knew him. He has spent a very active life in church and Sunday school work.—Hershey Times.

Arthur County News

The new school house at Arthur was burned last Wednesday. There was a severe wind blowing and it was with difficulty that a prairie fire was prevented. The building was insured.

At the recent primary election Keith Neville carried this county by a large majority.

Ward Willey, a young ranchman, came near losing his life when the car he was driving turned turtle near Willet. His head was caught under the wind shield and several arteries were severed. He is in a critical condition.

Thousands of trees and many acres of alfalfa are being planted this spring. Those planted last year are doing well.

Theron Hecht, a former Lincoln county boy, received the democratic nomination for sheriff at the recent primary. He carried every precinct. His wife was formerly Beulah Spicer, of North Platte.

The recently appointed park commissioners are now in correspondence with a park designer with a view of having the city parks in the First and Fourth wards platted and laid out in a systematic manner. By doing this the work done each year becomes a part of a well defined plan. It is believed that this method of procedure will be much better than doing certain work this year without knowing what will be done next year. The available funds are so meagre that the improvements made each year will necessarily be small.

Because they were reprimanded for not doing the work well, three or four men employed in digging trenches for the water mains attempted to inaugurate a strike among their fellow workmen yesterday afternoon. Several of the men quit, but this morning their places had been filled and the work is progressing satisfactorily.

The annual class fight of the high school students occurred yesterday, when the Seniors and Freshmen found the colors of the Juniors and Sophomores flying from the flag staff, where they had been placed the night before and guarded throughout the hours of the night.

At a congregational meeting of the M. E. congregation the first of this week the plans for remodeling the church were inspected. The present building will be extended twenty feet on the east side, a second entrance will be placed in the addition, the main body of the church will be divided into rooms by partitions which can be thrown open at any time. A balcony with a capacity of seating eighty people will be built, and the various rooms will be fitted up to be used as a ladies aid meeting department, banquet room and kitchen. A new two thousand dollar pipe organ has been ordered and will arrive here when the other improvements are completed. The committee in charge of the work is composed of Messrs. M. E. Scott, C. J. McNamara, E. J. Vanderfoot, J. S. Twinen and W. E. Starr. The picture and plans of the church complete is on display in the Platte Valley Bank.

Alex Adamson, of Douglas, Ariz., is another North Platte boy who has "made good." He now draws a salary of $600 per month from the big copper company with which he has been employed for fourteen years. Scattered all over the country west of Chicago are found North Platte "boys" who are standing in the fore front of their chosen calling. To a number of these The Tribune will shortly address a letter asking them to briefly state what the young man of today needs in making the start for a successful life.

Mrs. James Snyder was the guest of honor at a surprise party yesterday afternoon given by Mesdames Ray and Asa Snyder. The guests included the friends and neighbors of the guest of honor and a pleasant afternoon was spent.
