Commission Settles Who May Use Pass

Lincoln, April 26.—What constitutes a dependent relative as regards the issuance of a railroad pass has been settled by the State Railway commission in a complaint filed a short time ago by J. O. Mahaffey of Omaha against the Union Pacific railroad.

It appears from the evidence that John T. Stuart, an engineer of that road, was given a pass for himself and two daughters, one of them named Irene. Some time last year the daughter eloped with the complainant Mahaffey, who was a train newsboy, and they went to Denver, later returning to Omaha. About a month later the couple separated and the wife went home to her parents in North Platte, and was assured if she would throw over Mahaffey for keeps she would be taken back into the family and taken care of. She promised to do so and asked her father to go with her to Omaha to get her trunk. They used the pass for the daughter's transportation and Mahaffey complained that it was a violation of the anti-pass law.

The commission holds that as the daughter, Irene, had been taken back into the family and was supported entirely by her father, that he had a right to use the pass in transportation the same as before her marriage.

Lutheran Announcements

Sunday services; morning worship 11 o'clock. "Keeping His Day." Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Luther League 7:15 p. m. "The Most Blessed Prayer"—second petition. Evening worship 8 o'clock. "A Victorious Faith." A part of the splendid Easter cantata so well presented last Sunday evening will be repeated.

The Lutheran Easter was another great season for the people of this gradually growing church. The music, decorations, attendance and interest were never better. In addition to the twenty young people confirmed on Palm Sunday thirteen adults were received, making a total of thirty-three during the season, besides the infant baptisms. It being the seventh season for the present pastorate, both pastor and people are highly gratified over these indications of substantial growth and good will.

Patrick Bound Over

Roy Patrick, charged with statutory rape, was arraigned before Judge French Wednesday, pleading not guilty. He was bound over to the district court. The complaining witness, seventeen year old Wilma Manser, of Kearney, was present in court with her aged father and told how she met Patrick at a dance at Kearney several months ago. April 15th she promised to accompany Patrick to Denver but he had only about enough money to pay their fares to North Platte, Arriving here they registered at a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and though they took separate rooms, Patrick entered her room and refused to leave. Officer Bybee was called and placed Patrick under arrest and lodged him in jail.

Patrick was unable to furnish bond for $500 for his appearance at the next term of district court and was remanded to jail.

The quarantine for scarlet fever was raised from the Twinem home last week.

PASSENGER USES TICKET

25 YEARS OLD.

Conductor W. I. Smith of the Burlington railroad added to his fund of experiences in a run from Red Oak to Hamburg last Friday which still has an air of mystery which he has a long-ling to clear up. The main points are clear but Conductor Smith is puzzled and anxious to learn how one passenger on Friday's run managed to keep a ticket twenty-five years.

On this run a passenger presented a ticket bought, or at least dated, October 14, 1890, at Lynn, Ill., and good for a trip from Lynn to Essex, Ia. The terms of the ticket were such that its apparent value for traveling at this late day were just as good as the day of issue. Conductor Smith demurred at accepting the ticket, but when the passenger declared the conductor could put him off the train if he desired adding that it would be at the conductor's risk, Conductor Smith decided not to take the risk and the passenger completed his long deferred journey. There was no layover clause on the ticket, neither did it call for one continuous trip. It is the belief that the ticket was used as far as Red Oak over the main lines of the railroad and that the balance of the journey twenty-five years and six months ago was completed by wagon or stage.

Good Roads for Nebraska.

State Engineer Johnson very succinctly and pointedly states the case for good roads in Nebraska when he says we are now spending a little more than $2,000,000 a year on roads in this state and are getting no benefit from it. The blame for this attaches not to any one in particular, but to all, because of the lack of system under which the money is spent. Mr. Johnson also shows the actual cash benefit that comes from good roads quite as forcefully. On the road, as it is generally found in Nebraska, it costs the farmer 25 cents per ton mile to transport his freight; on a properly prepared and surfaced road, this charge can be reduced to 10 cents per ton mile. A possible saving of 15 cents per ton mile on the millions of tons annually moved by farmers of Nebraska in itself should be sufficient inducement to enlist all in the movement for better highways for the state.—Omaha Bee.

"A Star by Mistake."

Ray Brandon Jeanne Russell and company will open a two days' engagement at the Keith theatre starting Friday 28th, and their coming may be looked forward to with a feeling of pleasant anticipation by those who love good music and good clean comedy. The Brandon-Russell Co. are appearing in tabloid playlets and feature vaudeville and are proving to be one of the greatest "sure fire hits" of the year. They are directly off one of the biggest vaudeville circuits in the country and are now working their way east again over the Kellie-Burns route. While here they will offer the merry, mirthful, mysterious, novelty, comedy, singing and dramatic "skit," "A Star by Mistake" in which good clean, rapid fire comedy, vies with the latest class and popular musical hits for first honors. The bill contains about every sort of variety entertainment available.

Ted Bolte, of Omaha, who visited W. Christie Adams this week, has returned home.

A baby boy was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Masters who live south of town.

Mrs. Charles Whittmore and son James, of Chicago, who were called here by the death of the former's brother the late Steve O'Connell, left Wednesday.

"Colorado" Season Will Open Soon

THIS most interesting Rocky Mountain Summer Resort offers greater inducements and is more inviting than ever.

Colorado was "discovered" last season by thousands of Americans who never realized that we had at home a mountain resort that rivals the Alps and the Andes and that travel time to it is figured by hours instead of days.

For the Nebraskan who would profit greatest from even the briefest vacation, Colorado offers more scenic attractions, better hotel and camp facilities, larger number of side trips than any other district of America that could be recommended. As a vitalizer, energizer and soother of worn nerves and body, Colorado's climate is unequalled. As an education in mountain studies—peaks, glaciers, boulders, mountains, forests—Colorado offers a book "right at your elbow" and open to all.

Then consider Colorado for this year's vacation and join the hundreds of other Nebraskan people in voting Colorado "our vacation resort." And remember your vacation begins the minute your train starts, if your ticket reads

Union Pacific

The road that makes "your ride a glide" by means of perfectly balanced, double tracked roadbed of "heavier than necessary" steel rails; comfortable Pullman sleeping cars and easy reclining chair cars; powerful locomotives—Union Pacific, the only line protected by Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals all the way from Omaha to Colorado.

"Colorado for the Tourist" is a book that tells fully of Colorado as a summer resort, outlines side trips and probable cost of each—in fact is brimful of money-and-time-saving information for tourists. Book free upon application to local agent, or by addressing
