PACKED HOUSE GREETINGS STUDENTS CLASS PLAY

Every seat in the Keith theatre, including boxes and gallery, was filled Friday evening to witness "Green Stockings," the Senior Class Play, and all agree that as an amateur production it was very good. The play is a most interesting one, abounding in clever situations that were well portrayed by the members of the cast. The leading roles were well taken, and the minor parts were given the strength they demanded. Miss Bailey under whose supervision the play was produced is entitled to credit for the successful result.

The students composing the cast were:
Admiral Grice, retired... Louis Kelly
William Faraday... Jack Husband
Colonel Smith... George Thompson
Robert Tarver... Marcel Overman
Henry Steele... Harold Burke
James Raleigh... Russell Langford
Martin... William Calhoun
Celia Faraday... Dorothy Hinman
Mrs. Bockingham... Bertha Clothier
Evelyn... Lela Scott
Phyllis... Sybil Gantt
Mrs. Faraday... Fern Douglas

The receipts of the evening were $349, of which the Senior class received sixty-five per cent. After paying the expenses the class received $140.00.

The Result of a Supposed Case.

Referring to the Telegraph's supposed case of scarlet women, let's follow the supposition to its logical conclusion and certain result. Driven from a building or rooming house in the business section she seeks a habitation in a certain block in the residential section. Her presence and character being known to the occupants of that block, they complain to the owner of the house that he is harboring in his property a lewd woman and that he is amenable under the Alberts law to a fine. He hastily gets rid of his tenant and she moves to another block. The occupants of that block make complaint as did the others and again she is evicted. She tries again with the same result. How long will that woman continue to be driven from pillar to post? Not long. She will conclude, and rightly too, that she is a person not wanted in North Platte.

While located in the business section, the average man does not—though he certainly should—feel that the scarlet woman is a menace; but let her locate in the same block with him and he is immediately up in arms. Therefore we say, drive her from the business district and you drive her from town.

Made His Own Booze.

Cy Nunn was arrested Saturday evening on the charge of intoxication. Interrogated as to where he got the liquor, Cy said that he had made it, taking Jamaica ginger and diluting it with soda pop. The concoction seemed to have the desired effect, for Cy was pretty well jugged.

THE LEADER WILL BE REMODELED AND REFURNISHED

J. E. Nelson, of Holdrege, who assumes the active management of The Leader shortly after July 1st, spent several days in town last week in conference with Julius Pizer relative to the change in management.

At this conference it was decided to make a number of changes in the store, included in which will be removing the broad stairway from the front to the rear and a complete remodeling of the second floor. A large amount of new shelving and new show cases have been ordered, and when the changes are completed it will virtually be a new store so far as appearances are concerned.

Mr. Nelson is very enthusiastic over conditions and prospects in North Platte and is counting the days until he takes the management of The Leader.
