The KITCHEN CABINET

Whether a life is noble or ignoble depends not on the calling which is adopted, but on the spirit in which it is followed.—Sir John Lubbock.

CHOICE PUDDING SAUCES.

The same attention should be given to the preparation of pudding sauces as is given to meat sauces, as well as the proper sauce to serve with each pudding.

German Sauce.—Boil together one cupful of sugar and a half cupful of water for 15 minutes. Then whisk into it the beaten yolks of three eggs and continue beating over hot water until thick. Add a tablespoonful of butter, one of vanilla, and the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Stir over the boiling water three or four minutes until the eggs are cooked. The vanilla should be added after the sauce is cooked. If other flavors, like currant jelly or fruit juice of various kinds, are added, it is not so important when it is added.

Opera Sauce.—Cream a fourth of a cupful of softened butter with a cupful and a fourth of light yellow sugar. Add slowly as much cream as it will take without curdling. Flavor to taste.

Currant Jelly Sauce.—Beat a cupful of double cream until thick; add currant jelly till a light pink in color.

Brown Sugar Sauce.—Take a cupful and a half of medium brown sugar, add a pint of boiling water and a tablespoonful of cornstarch; boil ten minutes. Just before serving add a tablespoonful of butter and a grating of nutmeg.

Creamy Sauce.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter with a cupful of powdered sugar. Add a tablespoonful of vanilla or any desired flavor and two tablespoonfuls of cream, beating well. More cream can be added if it is not soft enough to drop easily from a spoon.

Orange Sauce.—Beat four yolks with tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, a cupful of cream and the grated rind of an orange. Cook like custard until smooth; strain and serve. Fine on a fruit salad.

Chocolate Sauce.—Boil together for five minutes a half cupful each of sugar and water. Cool the syrup before stirring in four ounces of chocolate, melted. Add a half teaspoonful of vanilla or a pinch of cinnamon. Stand in a pan of hot water, and when ready to serve add a half cupful of thin cream.

Every good and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm. Nothing great was ever accomplished without it.—R. W. Emerson.

The most wasted of all days is that on which one has not laughed.—Chamfort.

GARNISHES FOR SOUP.

The garnishes for soup will often make an otherwise common soup quite out of the ordinary.

Marrow Balls.—Take a tablespoonful of finely cut marrow, three tablespoonfuls of fine bread crumbs, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Work to a smooth paste, adding a little raw egg if needed to make it smooth. Form in balls the size of a filbert, drop into the boiling soup and simmer about fifteen minutes.

Spinach Balls.—Take an equal bulk of finely chopped cooked spinach and very fine bread crumbs. Season highly with pepper, salt and cayenne. Add enough egg white to moisten well, then let stand to stiffen. Shape in balls the size of hickory nut; poach in the hot soup for five minutes and serve four to each plate.

Force-meat Balls.—Scrape enough raw lean veal or chicken to make a half pound. Soak half a cupful of bread crumbs, free from crust, in milk; when soft squeeze dry; add four tablespoonfuls of butter, the scraped meat and the yolks of two eggs, pound the whole smooth and force through a coarse sieve. Season with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Form between two teaspoons into almond shaped balls; cook about ten minutes in stock that just simmers.

Ham may be used as above, with parsley and onion juice, leaving out the salt and nutmeg. Pound to a paste and the sifting may be omitted. Shape into large balls and cook in stock. They should be as light as a sponge and may be served with any soup.

Good to Remember. Every young man should remember that if his income is just a little above expenses every day, he will eventually become well off. If his receipts daily lack a little of meeting his expenditures, he will in time become a candidate for public favors at the poorhouse. Honest work at any calling and such economy as the case requires is honorable; while idleness and spendthrift habits are a disgrace to anyone, young or old.—New Canaan (Conn.) Advertiser.

Some Achievements. There's nothing wonderful in the story of the man born without hands who became an expert penman. Some of the most popular theories in the intellectual world are started by men who have lost their heads.

Too Much to Expect. "That man is so honest he wouldn't steal a pin," said Mr. Goode. "I never thought much of the pin test," answered Mr. Cayenne. "Try him with an umbrella."—Stray Stories.

What you are speaks so loud as to drown altogether any declaration you may make of what you wish men to think you are. The deceiver deceives no one but himself.—Cooper.

COMPANY MEAT DISHES.

There is no more welcome meat dish than chicken pie and when baked in the individual dishes, it is especially attractive. When cooking the chicken, if a small piece of onion is added, not enough to be at all objectionable, the little flavor adds much to the dish. Three very small biscuit may be placed on the individual dish which makes it especially good looking.

Salmi of Pigeon.—Draw and truss a half-dozen pigeons, put into a kettle one onion and one pepper chopped; when soft add the pigeons and turn until well seared over, using four tablespoonfuls of fat; add a tablespoonful of worcestershire sauce, a half can of mushrooms, 12 stuffed olives, a teaspoonful of salt and let simmer until the pigeons are tender.

Swiss Meat.—Cut the meat from a three-pound shin of beef. Into a soup kettle put a tablespoonful of sugar and stir until melted and brown; then add three quarts of water, putting the beef bones in the bottom of the kettle and the meat on top of them. Cover and simmer gently for two hours, then add a bouquet of herbs, an onion, a turnip and two carrots, all diced, and a cupful of cooked peas. Cook until the vegetables are tender, then add a thickening of four tablespoonfuls of fat and three of flour, cooked together; add a little of the soup. Strain the soup and serve clear. The meat and vegetables may be heaped on a platter. This will make a most satisfying meal with a simple dessert.

Turkish Tongue.—Wash a fresh beef tongue and cook it slowly for two hours. Skin it and tie in shape, save the water in which it was cooked for a soup. Put four tablespoonfuls of sweet fat into a kettle; add a sweet red pepper, chopped, a pint of butter onions and a carrot, cut in fancy shapes; stir until they are slightly browned, then add the tongue and a half pound each of raisins and stoned dates. Add a quart of the liquor in which the tongue was cooked, cover and simmer gently two hours longer. Serve the tongue with the other ingredients around it. Reduce the sauce if necessary and serve with it.

Who is the happiest of men? He who values the merits of others, and in their pleasure takes joy, even as though it were his own.—Goethe.

DELICIOUS CAKE FILLINGS.

An ordinary cupcake or a plain, cheap, simple cake recipe may be varied by frostings and fillings that it is always different.

Pineapple Filling.—Take a tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in a little pineapple juice, add a half cupful of grated pineapple and enough lemon to make it pleasantly tart; add very stiff boiled frosting to make sufficient quantity of icing, and filling.

Orange Filling.—This is especially delicious with any white cake, but is a great favorite as a filling for chocolate cake. Take the rind of an orange as well as the juice, put into a cup and fill the cup with water, cook two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, a pinch of salt, the yolks of two eggs and a third of a cupful of sugar with it; add a teaspoonful of butter and a little lemon juice. Cool before using on cake.

Fruit Filling.—Take a cupful of seeded raisins, a half pound of blanched almonds, a half pound of figs, the same amount of dates and a fourth of a pound of citron. Put these twice through the meat chopper and add enough boiling frosting to make a soft paste.

Plain Chocolate Icing and Filling.—Melt two ounces of chocolate over hot water, add two cupfuls of brown sugar, a half cupful of milk and a teaspoonful of butter; cook until it makes a soft ball in cold water. Cool, add a little cinnamon and stir until thick enough to spread. Put it on while the cake is warm.

Maple filling is delicious, using maple sugar for the syrup and beating it as any boiled frosting.

Skimming the Milk. This inconsistency of the tongue appears in the lives of those who even do many deeds of kindness. This was quaintly set forth by an old lady who said to her grandchildren: "If you're going to give me a paw of milk, don't skim it first." They found she meant that when a favor was done for her, she disliked to have it spoiled by an ungracious word. "Another errand? I never go downtown without half a dozen commissions." The boy gets the book and really doesn't mind, but he has skimmed the milk. "These gloves ripped again! It seems they always need mending when I am in a hurry." She really wants to keep the gloves neat, but she skims the milk.

What a solemn word James speaks in the first chapter of his epistle (v. 2): "If any man among you seemeth to be religious and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." How glad we should be that we have our Helper, One of whom it is said that "he opened his mouth," when it was a time for silence, but of whom it is said also that the people "wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth."

THE TONGUE

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL, Superintendent of Men, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.—James 3:2.

Speech is a distinguishing gift of man. Said a witty German: "I will believe that an animal thinks when he tells me so." The world would be a strange place if we could not talk, yet what a world it is because we can talk! The difficulty of controlling speech is pointed out in our text, and those who have been striving longest for perfection appreciate most fully this difficulty. It will be worth while to follow the discussion of the tongue which is found in the succeeding verses of the third chapter of James.

First of all, James speaks of the power of this "little member which boasteth great things" (vv. 3, 4). Like the bit in the horse's mouth which enables us to turn the whole body, or the tiny rudder of the ship, which directs its course through the stormy deep, so the tongue is a great power in the guidance of life. We marvel when we see the multitude swayed by the speech of the preacher or the voice of the singer. We need only to mention Magna Charta, the Declaration of Independence, the Emancipation proclamation or Luther's Theeses, to be impressed with the power of even written words.

But James goes on to speak of the mischief which may be wrought by the tongue (vv. 5, 6). It is like a little fire kindling a great forest. A venomous tongue hurts not only others, but oneself; James says: "It defileth the whole body," and we may be certain that so long as an evil thought injures the spirit, we cannot escape from our evil words.

Hedges About the Tongue. An old writer says: "We may see the cunning and curious work of nature which hath barred and hedged nothing in so strongly as the tongue, with two rows of teeth and therewith two lips; besides, she hath placed it far from the heart, that it should not utter that which the heart conceiveth."

James goes on to speak of the untamableness of the tongue (vv. 7, 8). Every kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, has been tamed by man, but the tongue can no man tame, although God can do even this thing.

Even after regeneration, wrong habits of speech will assert their sway. How easily the oath springs to the lips of the aforesaid blasphemer!

Finally, James speaks of the inconsistency of the tongue (vv. 9-12). Therewith we bless God and yet curse men, made in his image; as one has put it, such abusive railing against men is like spitting on the statue of the emperor whom we profess to honor. Even nature rebukes us for such inconsistency, for no fountain sends forth both sweet water and bitter.

Aesop, the writer of fables, was a slave. He was once ordered by his master to procure the best things in the market for dinner, and served course after course of tongues. He argued: "Is there anything better than a tongue? Is not the tongue the bond of civil society, the organ of truth and reason and the organ of our praise and the adoration of the gods?" The slave's master directed that the next day he should buy the worst things he could find, and again he brought tongues. This time he reasoned: "The tongue is surely the worst thing in the world. It is the instrument of all strife and contention, the inventor of lawsuits, and the source of divisions and wars; it is the organ of error, of lies, of calumny and blasphemies."

Who is the happiest of men? He who values the merits of others, and in their pleasure takes joy, even as though it were his own.—Goethe.

Hippopotami Can Run. In spite of its clumsy build, the hippopotamus can trot fast. That is why he was given the name of river-horse. The hippo's feet are kept far apart by the wide body and make paths with a ridge down the middle, so as to be recognizable at once. They swim well, but go at their greatest speed when they can gallop along the bottom in shallow water. They can stay under water a long time, and when they come to the surface they send little jets of spray from their nostrils. The cow is devoted to the calf. The young one stands on her back as the mother swims.

Its Risk. "A kiss may often have deeper meaning than appears." "Perhaps, but it is a thing you have to take on its face value."

Cautious Definition. "Pa, what is a figure of speech?" "H'm! Where's your mother?" "She's gone in next door." "Well, then, a figure of speech, my son, is a woman."

WONDERFUL HOW RESINOL STOPS SKIN TORMENTS

The soothing, healing medication in resinol ointment and resinol soap soothes and cools the irritated skin, and usually stops itching at once. The resinol treatment speedily heals eczema, ringworm, and similar eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples even when other treatments have been almost useless.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for twenty years. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap.—Adv.

Not Harmonizing. "The man I am engaged to has been terribly wild, but is going to turn over a new leaf." "Don't trust such a had color scheme. Roy futures seldom grow on purple pasts."

Second Edition. Blox—Do you think Doctor Thirdly's sermons are as good as they were ten years ago? Knox—Sure. They are just the same now as he used them.

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher. In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

A Protest. "I appeal to you as a statesman—" "Don't dig up that statesman rumor about me just now," interrupted Senator Scroggum. "I'm a statesman most of the time. But with several conventions looming up in the near future and a large following of practical citizens to satisfy, I want to go on record as a politician."

Unfortunate Tree. Church—He says he has a family tree. Gotham—I'll bet it's a eucalyptus, then.

IF YOU OR ANY FRIEND Suffer with Rheumatism or Neuritis, acute or chronic, write for my FREE BOOK on Rheumatism—Its Cause and Cure. Most wonderful book ever written, it's absolutely FREE. Jesse A. Case, Dept. C. W., Brockton, Mass.—Adv.

Judging by Conditions. "Sin, my dear pupils," said Deacon Barnes to his Sunday school class, "is the legacy of Adam." And the bright boy in the class remarked that that was probably the first case on record where a will was not broken.

"Yes," said the deacon, "but it should be remembered that there was enough to go around. I don't remember hearing of anybody who didn't receive his share of the inheritance."

Solicitude. "Of course, you admire the dove of peace." "Very much. But I don't know whether I care to see it flourishing around under present perilous conditions and running the risk of becoming extinct."

Force of Habit. Judge—Discharged! Bridget—Without a reference?—Judge.

Self-Important. "Isn't Bliggins rather self-important?" "I should say so. He thinks he's doing a fish a favor to catch it and let it occupy the same boat with him."

Natural Progression. "How did they get that disabled vessel to port?" "First, they buoyed her and then they manned her."

Bumper Grain Crops

Good Markets—High Prices. Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sanative Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case requiring special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for free advice.

Don't Persecute Your Bowels

Cut out cathartics and purgatives. They are brutal, harsh, unnecessary. Try CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely vegetable. Act gently on the liver, eliminate bile, and soothe the delicate membrane of the bowel. Cure Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Head, aches and indigestion, so millions know. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

Business. "What's in a name?" "There's money in it. Any man who can think up a good name for a breakfast food can buy sawdust in carload lots and sell it in pound packages at a handsome profit."

Profitable. "I don't see how the railroads can afford to give such low rates to commuters." "That's easy. They make their money on the servants who are continually coming and going."

Relief for the Country. "Give your vacation to your country." And thereby give a little unexpected relief to your country relatives.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots. There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.
