Pargia Given Thirty Days

Growing weary of staying in jail awaiting trial at the November term of district court, Cyrus Pargia, charged with disposing of liquor contrary to law, pleaded guilty before Judge Gromes Saturday forenoon and was sentenced to thirty days in jail. At the preliminary hearing May 13th in the county court he had pleaded not guilty, but his incarceration became so tiresome that he concluded to "fess up" and take whatever dose the Judge administered rather than stay there until November and then have a further sentence to serve. By pleading guilty he has saved himself ninety days of confinement.

Harry Waltemath Injured

Harry Waltemath, while working on his father's car Saturday, severed two arteries in his wrist and became unconscious through loss of blood. He was using a wrench and as he put on his full strength it slipped and his wrist struck a sharp edge on the car, cutting a deep gash. He started for the house but fell in a faint. He was rushed to a hospital and placed under the influence of an anesthetic for an hour while the wound was dressed. Had not assistance been promptly rendered he might have bled to death.

Many Hall Losses

W. H. C. Woodhurst returned Sunday from Lodge Pole where he went to adjust hall losses. He adjusted seventy claims, the losses running from six to ninety per cent. He says the Western Adjustment Company, with thirty men in the field, had up to July 1st adjusted over eleven hundred hall losses in the state. Spring wheat in the Lodge Pole section is nearly a total loss by reason of dry weather, and fall wheat has been more or less affected by the same cause.

Coast to Coast on High

Among the tourists in town Sunday was the advance car which is running ahead of the Pathfinder twin six which is to be driven from coast to coast on high gear. This twin six left San Diego, Cal., at noon July 3d and is expected to reach North Platte the latter part of this week. No attempt at fast running is being made, the object of the trip being to learn if the car can cross the mountains, travel the sand and plow through mud without changing gears.

County News

Miss Grace Wray, of Dickens, has gone to Salt Lake to spend the summer.

The little son of Frank Hengen, who lives near Dickens, was severely injured when he fell from a horse.

Law Whitmore, living six miles northwest of Dickens, lost his house by fire last week.

Walter Gartrell, of Somerset, who was thrown in front of a harrow some time ago and badly injured, is well on the way to recovery.

Fifth Regiment Goes South

The Fifth regiment, of which North Platte Company E is a part, left Lincoln Sunday afternoon for the Mexican border. At the time of leaving the men did not know their destination.

Several of the boys have promised to write The Tribune when opportunity presents, but it is probable that they will be quite busy for a time after reaching the border line.

Reward for Stray Dogs

Strayed from Wallace, Neb., in the direction of Sutherland, Neb., about a week ago, two pointer pups about a year old, color chocolate and white spotted. Will respond to names of Rip and Rick, Rock being lame in right hip. Will give liberal reward for their return or any information that will lead to their location. If found wire me at my expense.

Ball Team Will Take Trip

The North Platte ball team leaves Friday on a week's trip during which they will play Bridgeport on the 15th, 16th and 19th and Scotch Bluff on the 17th and 18th. They will reach home July 20th, and on Sunday and Monday, July 23d and 24th, will play the Saratoga team of Lincoln.

LINCOLN COUNTY DEMOCRATS MEET IN CONVENTION

Thirty-seven delegates representing about one-third of the precincts of the county, met in convention at the court house Saturday afternoon, heard an address by J. J. Halligan, appointed eleven delegates to the state convention, passed resolutions endorsing President Wilson, the democratic congress, the state administration and Keith Neville and the county ticket. The meeting was a most harmonious one, the only ripple of friction came when Sam Reynolds objected to the plank endorsing the rural credit bill passed by congress. He moved to strike out that particular paragraph for the reason, he said, that so far as the rural credit affected the farmer it was a farce. But Sam was largely in the minority and the plank stood as written.

The convention was called to order by County Chairman Streitz, and J. J. Halligan elected chairman. Upon taking the chair Mr. Halligan attempted to arouse some enthusiasm by alluding to the alleged good things the democratic party had performed during the past three and one-half years, and the excellent prospects for Wilson's reelection, but the hearts of the democrats present seemed to have turned to stone and not a murmur of applause was given the chairman. Mr. Halligan's remarks, viewed from a democratic standpoint, were good and should have created enthusiasm, but perhaps the temperature of the room prohibited undue exertion of lungs or body.

Attorney Leslie Baskins was elected secretary, committees on credentials and resolutions were appointed, and when the credential committee reported the temporary organization was made permanent. It was then moved that an informal ballot for delegates to the state convention, to be held at Hastings, July 25th, be taken, and when this was accomplished it was the sense of the convention that the eleven receiving the highest vote be declared the delegates. Those receiving the most votes were: J. J. Halligan, J. G. Beeler, Thos. Healey, Roy Cochran, J. R. Whitte, Wm. Beatty, R. A. Frame, J. T. Shields, Tom Marcott, G. N. Gibbs and F. A. Johnson.

Alternates—Dr. McCabe, Henry Fulk, Earl Brownfield, M. E. Scott, E. D. Murphy, A. Abercrombie, W. W. Hunter, W. R. Maloney, I. E. Ware, S. S. Reynolds and A. F. Streitz. The resolution adopted commended the democratic congress for passing acts that are for the good of the people, particularly the federal reserve and the rural credit acts; congratulated the democrats of the state upon having as its standard bearer such a sterling young business man and progressive democrat as Keith Neville; reaffirmed their belief in the goodness of the initiative and referendum; believed that state-wide prohibition should be settled by the people, to whom it has been referred, and pledged the candidates of the party to abide by the decision of the voters; recommended and endorsed all state and county candidates.

Upon motion J. G. Beeler was elected chairman of the county central committee and Leslie Baskins secretary. The convention then adjourned and the delegates went to the various soda fountains and ordered unfermented grape juice—a rather unusual drink for a good Democrat but made necessary by the dry conditions of the town. Numbered among the delegates were such old war horses as Col. Bill Beatty, Col. Jim White, Col. Henry Fulk and Col. Tom Marcott, who fight for democratic principles without hope of reward other than that which they will receive at the hands of good old St. Peter.
