

Eye Glass Frames

The fitting of frames is as important as the fitting of lenses, for the lenses cannot give ease and comfort if the frames or mountings are improperly adjusted. In many cases glasses do not give relief because of frame being too narrow or too wide, too high or too low; and if your glasses should get bent so that one lens is higher than the other they will give you trouble. Optometrists are proficient mechanics and are fully equipped and informed in making such measurements as are required in fitting frames. Optometrists are the only ones required by law to qualify in this branch of eye treatment.

METHODISTS AND PRESBYTERIANS TO HOLD UNION SERVICES

Beginning next Sunday and continuing until the remodeling of the Methodist church is completed—which will require several months—the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations will hold union services. Rev. White and Rev. Cram will alternate in filling the pulpit, one Sunday one will preach in the morning and the other in the evening, the following Sunday they will reverse. The two choirs will also be consolidated.

The Methodist people have of late been holding services in the Lloyd opera house but as that building is difficult to heat in cold weather and there are other inconvenient features, the plan of consolidated services were taken up with the Presbyterian people and they readily consented to the plan.

The Methodist Sunday school will also be held at the Presbyterian church, using the basement for that purpose.

Company Using City Water.
The Union Pacific is now getting its supply of water for round house and other purposes from the city plant, the company wells at the old round house having played out the latter part of last week. In the latter wells the water was lowered to twenty-two feet, which makes a greater lift than the pump can handle. Just why the water in these wells should decrease in flow is a question unsolved, as the water in the city wells show little if any decrease.

At the present time there are three licenses which were issued during the summer that have not been returned. The judge requests that this matter be given prompt attention.
