YEOMAN DRILL TEAM GIVES ITS FIRST ANNUAL BALL.

The first annual Thanksgiving ball of the Yeoman drill team was given at the Lloyd opera house last evening and was a success in every particular. Preceding the opening waltz a very enjoyable concert was given by the Stamp orchestra which furnished the music for the evening and occupied a decorated platform in a corner of the hall.

The decorations, which were very elaborate and transformed the hall into a place of beauty, were designed and arranged under the skillful direction of Mrs. W. J. Tiley and she is to be complimented upon the effect produced. The walls were draped with bunting in the national colors and the American shield arranged at intervals. In each window was hung a large flag and about two hundred yards of white bunting with silver bangles was artistically used in covering the railing of the balcony where white festooning and the emblems of the order were also conspicuous. A large sign with 'welcome' in silver letters hung from the center of the ceiling across the hall and the letters B. A. Y. and the lodge number 3030 in large red design were clustered around an immense emblem on each side of the stage. Beautiful scroll work in white festooning, silver stars and red flowers formed an outline for the stage in the center of which was a pedestal on which stood the goddess of liberty gowned in sheer white and silver tinsel, holding aloft a red torch, wearing a silver crown and flag drapery. A view of the ocean formed the background. Potted plants and ferns were used extensively and formed a railing for the stairs leading to the stage.

The gallery was crowded with spectators and the floor with dancers, the majority of whom remained for the closing number. The lights were covered with red bunting casting a soft glow over the decorations and the dancers.

The ball was one of the most enjoyable ever held in the city and at the request of many the decorations with a few changes will be used for the reception to Governor-elect Neville Tuesday evening.

The Nevita club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at a Thanksgiving party at the home of Mrs. Fred Duncan. Appropriate games were played and an enjoyable program rendered. Decorations and favors were in keeping with the season. Guests of the club were Mrs. Emily Richardson, of Cozad and Mrs. Fred Loudon.

The Alpha Mu Sigma society spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. H. M. Grimes Monday. They will be the guests of Mrs. Julius Pizer Monday afternoon, December 4th.

NORTH PLATTE WINS FROM YORK BY 12 TO 0 SCORE

A record breaking crowd saw North Platte defeat York yesterday in the best played and most exciting game of foot ball on the local field this year. It was only by putting forth the best efforts that the local team secured its two touch downs, and with the ball frequently in the danger zone it was by herculean work that the visitors were kept from scoring on several occasions. North Platte used the forward pass to good advantage, and their gains were largely due to these passes. York essayed the same play a number of times, but failed with one exception. Norris made the first touch down in the first half through forward passes and line plunges, and in the first period of the second half Jones scored through an end run, dragging a man with him as he crossed the line. In both instances the goal kick went wild.

The York coach pronounced the local aggregation to be the strongest his team had gone up against this season. He witnessed the North Platte-Lincoln game, and said that had North Platte played as strong the second half as they did the first, victory would have been theirs.

The high school students celebrated the victory with a bonfire and parading the streets, firing guns and a cannon. Enthusiasm was rampant for about two hours.

Can a stepmother ruin a happy home? Now that you have seen pictured on the screen all the devastation that a mother-in-law can do, come and see what a nagging stepmother can do. In "The Revolt" Frances Nelson and Arthur Ashley are the happy couple. How the girls reputation is nearly wrecked and later saved by a friend forms the basis of a strong and stirring society drama, not of the usual triangle variety, but one that is different from every angle. This production will be shown at the Crystal Saturday evening with the best music ever.

Now is the time to select your Xmas gifts. Our store is resplendent with new and artistic goods. You may make your selection now and we will lay it aside to be delivered Christmas. DIXON, The Jeweler.

A very enjoyable dinner was given at the bungalow last evening to fourteen gentlemen friends and their ladies with Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Kerr as chaperones. Six excellent courses were served and the various favors presented were appropriate for Thanksgiving. The center piece was a carved pumpkin fruit basket surrounded by ears of corn and miniature turkeys. Following the dinner a program of amusements was given by the bungalow boys and the guests.

WILL WALTERMATH WEDS MISS WARE AT BLAIR.

Miss Margaret Ware of Blair, and William Frederick Waltemath, of this city, were married at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ware, near Blair, at high noon last Tuesday. As the rays of the mid-day sun peeped through the bay window in the library, Rev. Fr. O'Driscoll entered, followed by the future bride and groom. At the conclusion of the wedding march, and the contracting parties had taken their positions amongst the overflowing roses, chrysanthemums and ferns, there came forth the strains of DeKoven's "O Promise Me," feelingly rendered by Mrs. C. D. Burnstein.

After the ceremony a delightful four-course luncheon was served at which congratulations were extended and telegrams from various friends throughout the country were read. The bride's gown was a beautiful wisteria pan velvet, with lace and fur trimmings.

The guests were limited to relatives and intimate friends of the family, and included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waltemath, daughters Alma and Helen and son Harry and Miss Ida Ottenstein of this city.

After an extended trip to Chicago and other eastern cities Mr. and Mrs. Waltemath will return to North Platte to make their home.

The bride is well known in North

Platte, having spent several years of her girlhood at the Pawnee ranch east of town, and has also visited here many times. She is as accomplished as she is popular here and wherever known. The groom is a North Platte boy who is well and favorably known, and is secretary of the recently organized Waltemath Lumber & Coal Co. XXX
