When the guests sit down at the table their admiration of its beauty adds much to your pleasure as hostess. If you have stemware and the other pieces in the exquisite new patterns of cut glass which Clinton is now displaying, your table will gleam with beauty obtainable through no other setting. This charming glassware is the latest offerings of the foremost manufacturers. The graceful lines and faultless execution of exquisite patterns set it far above ordinary cut glass. ### CITIZENS MUST AID IN THE CELEBRATION

It is but two weeks until the semi-centennial celebration opens, and while the holding company, the committees and Secretary Mooney have so far furnished the finances and performed the work, it is now up to the citizens to give some needed help. To properly put on the pageant, out door show and the battle of Summit Springs, the services of several hundred people will be required. Therefore Secretary Mooney wants the names of all persons, ranging from boys and girls of sixteen up to adults who will assist in the above features; the girls and ladies to figure in the historical parade, the boys and men to take part in the parade, out door shows and the Summit Springs battle. Those who will volunteer their services are requested to phone 944 or call at the Tobin barn on Front street.

In the battle of Summit Springs a number of saddle horses are needed, and those who have such will please communicate with Secretary Mooney.

The celebration work has not lagged, everything is practically in readiness with the exception of the people needed for the purposes above stated, and it is hoped that the call sent out by Secretary Mooney will be met with ready response.
