

LINCOLN COUNTY MUST FURNISH 124 MEN

Based on a population of 18,498, Lincoln county must furnish 124 men for the draft. This is one-third of one percent of the population, and the population given Lincoln county is 18,498, which is about 500 less than the total vote and the school population would indicate.

Early in the week it was thought that the drawing would occur tomorrow, but late Washington dispatches state the organization of the exemption boards in all the states has not been completed and the drawing cannot be held until next week.

Arthur county will be required to furnish fourteen men, McPherson county ten, Logan county fourteen, Keith county thirty-five and Dawson county 104.

The total number to be selected from the state will be 8,468.

Neville in the Limelight.

Certainly the North Platte governor of Nebraska is in the limelight, brought so largely by the Omaha Bee and the Lincoln Journal. One day one or the other has Governor Neville slated as colonel of the "Aristocratic Sixth" Nebraska regiment, the next day he is to be the successor of Senator Norris, then the following day he is to be both, because a man with a military record can defeat any man who does have such a record. Personally we are for Neville for colonel of the Sixth and also for United States senator. Since January 1st he has certainly made "good" as governor; he has the ability to make good as a colonel or as a senator. He comes from a section where they breed and grow good men.

Shorter Hours for Employees.

Harry Fiedelman and J. Q. Wilcox circulated a petition Wednesday securing the signatures of merchants to a six o'clock closing agreement and a discontinuance of remaining open pay-day evenings. The closing of the stores a half hour earlier in the evening is not likely to discommode anyone to any great extent and gives owners and employees an opportunity to have an earlier supper—a distinct advantage to them and to the housewife. Keeping open on pay day evenings has brought little trade to the merchant, and as we are to have two Union Pacific paydays each month beginning with August, keeping open both evenings would scarcely mean enough trade to pay for the lights.

Episcopal Church

Sunday, July 15, beginning of Week of Pilgrimage of Prayer.

Holy communion at 8 a. m. Archdeacon Bowker will be assisted by the Rev. H. A. Covell, of New York.

This is a corporate communion service for members of Anchorage Guild, and the members of the parish, and the directions will be connected with the intention of the Pilgrimage week. Will not our communicants make a special effort to be present at his service?

At 11 a. m. there will be a service at which the Rev. Mr. Covell will preach the meditation, and Archdeacon Bowker will take the service and explain the meaning and intention of the Prayer Pilgrimage.

We invite to this week of prayer the co-operation of all christian people in the city, and sincerely hope that our invitation will be as affectionately accepted as we tender the same.

The Women's Auxiliary of the state of Nebraska have this work in charge, and prayers will be specially used for: (1) Speedy and permanent peace; (2) The binding together of christian hearts in more perfect love; (3) The spread of Christ's kingdom; (4) That all christian organizations recognize more fully the essential purpose of their formation; (5) For missions, missionaries, of all christian churches; (6) For our soldiers and sailors, widows and orphans, wounded and stricken; (7) For love and charity.

On Friday, the 20th, the day will be kept as a day of intercession and we invite all christians to take part with us for one hour at least. Sunday we hope to have you all present.

CHAUTAUQUA COMMITTEE MEETS TO ARRANGE TICKET SALES

The committee which a year ago obligated itself to sell $1400 worth of season tickets for the 1917 Chautauqua met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening and organized by the selection of Geo. E. Gibbs as chairman and N. E. Buckley secretary-treasurer. A representative of the Redpath-Horner Co. met with the committee and suggested plans to aid the sale of tickets. Those who signed for tickets at the closing session of the Chautauqua last year will be waited upon first and then will follow a house to house canvass.

J. H. Hegarty and Howard McMichael were appointed a committee for the distribution of the advertising, and that work will be started today.

The Chautauqua program this year is the most elaborate, most expensive and best that has been given North Platte. Included is "Little Women," and "Pinafore," both of which will be produced by New York companies. For the production of "Pinafore" a full carload of scenery is carried. Were these two plays to be presented at the local theatre the tickets would be $1.50 for each, or fifty cents more than is asked for a Chautauqua season ticket, and in addition you hear twelve additional attractions in the way of lectures, musical entertainments and acts of the magicians.

Knowing by reputation practically all the talent that will appear on the program, The Tribune has no hesitancy in saying that the people of North Platte and vicinity have never before been offered so much for their money as 1917 Chautauqua gives them.

Early Call to France

A Washington special to the State Journal dated yesterday says: "That the national guard of Nebraska may be in France within a few months is a possibility. Members of the general staff are keeping their plans secret, but enough information has been given members of congress who are in touch with military affairs to indicate that it is the intention to send some of the national guard organizations abroad in the fall or early winter. It is known that at least one colonel of a national guard regiment has been notified to have his regiment ready to go abroad at a comparatively early date. It is proposed, according to information here, to send the national guard to France after merely perfunctory training here because they are already seasoned by their training on the Mexican border."

The June crop of pigs on the Buchanan & Patterson Villa Vista farm number about 250. H. L. Weinberg, living southwest of town, who was a caller yesterday, said he and the boys would begin cutting fall wheat Monday. They have 140 acres of winter wheat, part of which he thought would yield thirty bushels, while other fields would not yield more than five bushels. The difference is due to the winter kill on certain classes or condition of land.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ENTERTAIN COMPANY E

At a meeting of the Lincoln County Defense Council held in the federal building last evening plans of giving a reception to and entertaining the members of Company E upon their arrival and during their twelve-day stay in the city was discussed. Both men and women were present at the meeting and several plans of entertaining the boys were proposed. It was finally decided to place the reception of the non-resident members of the company and other features that might be decided upon in the hands of a committee of ten, four of which should be ladies, with power to appoint any sub-committees needed. It was designated in the motion that T. C. Patterson, president of the Defense Council, and Capt. Halligan be members of the committee.

This committee will lay plans for receiving the non-resident members as they arrive on the several trains next Monday, and also to provide certain entertainment for all members of the company during their stay in town. On the eve of the departure of the company for the concentration camp it is probable that the members will be given a complimentary picnic at the city park.

Ball Game Sunday

The initial game of ball of the season will be played on the local grounds next Sunday when a team, with Dr. C. F. Adams as manager, will play the Gothenburg team. The Doctor has assembled a bunch of good players, and for a couple of weeks past has been giving them strenuous practice with the result that they now handle the ball very cleverly. The Gothenburg team has been in the field since the early part of the season and has played a number of games with Lexington, Willow Island and other teams of surrounding towns.

The net proceeds of Sunday's game will be donated to the mess fund of Company E. The management asks a generous patronage from the public.

RAILROAD NOTES

Trainmaster John Mulick went to Sidney yesterday morning on business.

Louis Johnson will succeed D. W. Roberts as Union Pacific store keeper at the shops.

Chas. Bogue left yesterday morning for Cheyenne on business connected with the B. of R. T.

Engineer J. D. Cox and son Harold left Wednesday morning for Rawlins and other western points to visit relatives.

Vincent Roddy, who had been employed in the U. P. machine shop for two years, was transferred to round house work this week.

Dick Stegemann, for many years employed in the Rush grocery, has resigned and taken a position as passenger brakeman out of this terminal.

Attached to train No. 4 Tuesday were two cars containing rare animals, birds and reptiles consigned to a New York zoological garden. The specimens came from India.

A soldier of a California company, in a demented condition, was taken through this city on a noon train yesterday. He was accompanied by three guards and will be taken to Washington, D. C.

Traffic on the Union Pacific is so heavy that all engine and train men who were taking vacations have been called back into service. The Wyoming division is said to be short 100 brakemen and switchmen.

Beginning next Monday the morning passenger train on the branch will leave an hour later, departing following the arrival of train No. 19 from the east. It will arrive forty minutes later at night, thus making up twenty minutes on the road under the new schedule.

The re-districting of the Union Pacific will become effective next Sunday, when this terminal becomes part of the Wyoming division, and the newly created Utah division from Green River to Ogden takes form. The Wyoming division begins at the west end of the railroad bridge east of town.

Genl. Supt. Stenger of the Union Pacific has been called to Washington to meet in conference with the National Defense Council relative to the movement of troops, which next month promises to tax to the utmost the carrying capacity of the railroads of the country. It is understood that the troops to the concentration camps will be moved in units of 10,000, with about 300 men and baggage to each train. As there will be over 800,000 to be moved within a given period, it means a feat of good, and fast railroading.

Joe P. Larson left last night for Green River, Wyoming, to take up his duties as chief clerk to the master mechanic of the Utah division. In his leaving North Platte loses one of its best and most popular young men, and every acquaintance regrets his going. He was popular among business men as well as railroad employes; Division Foreman McGraw, to whom he was chief clerk for several years, has nothing but good words to say of him, and as one of the directors of the Mutual Building & Loan Association he proved his worth as a business man. We all wish Joe all kinds of good luck in his new home.
