Getting out in the sunshine will not make you blink or frown if you wear glasses with modern tinted lenses. The harmful heat rays will be stopped, but all the helpful, illuminating rays will meet the eye. These lenses will not dim vision. They make it keener. They are not conspicuous, for in the lighter shades they appear to be ordinary optical glass. Come in and let us demonstrate tinted lenses.

STORM FRIDAY NIGHT DOES MUCH DAMAGE

One man killed, a number of buildings wrecked, trees twisted off or uprooted and hay stacks blown over followed a storm which swept over North Platte and adjoining section about twelve o'clock Friday night. Taken altogether, it was the most disastrous wind storm that has ever visited this section, and in view of the fact that the wind only registered forty-two miles an hour at the local weather bureau, it can be said that in its action it was a "twister," for a forty-two mile straight wind would not have caused the damage. The path of the storm was ten or twelve miles wide and its direction was from north to south.

The man killed, a Mexican beet tender, occupied a shack on the former Well farm six miles west of town, the building being torn to pieces and the man instantly killed. In that section many trees were leveled and hay stacks blown over.

In this city the effects of the storm was everywhere visible, for there was scarcely a yard in town where trees were not uprooted, or twisted off, or limbs broken. Windows were blown in, and electric street lights broken. At the fair grounds the agricultural hall was completely wrecked, the big barn seriously damaged and part of the grand stand was overturned. South of the city the house on the Schram farm was blown down, as was also several small buildings, and on the Guy Edis place all the buildings but the house were wrecked.

The silos at the state farm, at the Claus Mylander farm and on the Scott Reynolds ranch were blown down, and at many places on the south side windmill towers were leveled. In the vicinity of Bignell crops were damaged to some extent by hail.

Ginn-Ryan Wedding.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of Our Saviour Friday afternoon at six o'clock when Miss Florence E. Ryan and Rawlins E. Ginn were married by Archdeacon Bowler in the presence of fifteen relatives and close friends.

The bride wore a dainty gown of hand embroidered voile and a large white lace hat. She held an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies. Her maid of honor, Miss Esther Sandall, wore a pretty dress of white net with trimmings of lace. The groom was attended by Harris Stuart.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. L. L. Berthe where the decorations consisted of cut flowers and American flags.

Mrs. Ginn is an attractive and popular young lady who resided here for a number of years and was attending the university at Laramie. She is the youngest daughter of Mrs. P. J. Ryan, now of Great Falls, Mont.

Mr. Ginn is a capable young man, the son of Mrs. Fred Ginn and for some time has been employed as switchman for the Union Pacific company. He recently resigned his position to join Company E. They will reside with the groom's mother.

Kopf Recommends Navy

Joseph Kopf, of this city, who is now at the Great Lakes naval training station, in a letter to The Tribune, says: "I recommend the navy to any young man who desires to serve his country. It is the first line of defense. You will receive good pay, a good place to sleep, plenty to eat—what more can a young man ask for. I enlisted in the navy two months ago and I am glad I did; I will have a chance to do my 'bit' in the war and I will do my best. To the North Platte young men, as well as others, I recommend the navy."

Sugar Company Buys Land.

The Great Western Sugar Co. last week purchased 240 acres of land of Geo. L. Mudd, north of Hershey for $24,000. This land lies east of the Mudd home farm. The company took an option on the land several months ago, and made the purchase on or near the date the option expired.

It is presumed that the land was purchased for the purpose of erecting thereon a sugar factory, and in that case the thriving village to our west is certainly to be congratulated.

Farmers Install Light Plants

Several farmers in the valley have installed electric lighting plants. Among these is Chris Koch, who lives just south of the Nichols school house. Mr. Koch, whose farm is one of the best improved in the valley, lights his two-story house, his large horse barn, cow barn, milk house and chicken house, and has outside lights where needed. He has had the system in but a short time, but says so far it has given excellent satisfaction. The plant cost him $410 and is economical when installed. His next move will be to install a water system in the house.

The large cherry orchard on the farm suffered considerable damage from the storm last Friday night, many of the trees losing large branches loaded with cherries. The crop of late cherries are being picked this week and the demand for them is much greater than the supply.

A farmer who is as nicely situated as Mr. Koch ought to be a happy and contented man—and we presume he is.
