LINCOLN COUNTY PEOPLE WEDDED AT GREEN RIVER

The Rock Springs (Wyo.) Miner of July 13th, contains this item:
A quiet wedding occurred in Green River on Thursday afternoon, at which time Mr. Arthur Qualley and Miss Hazel Calhoun, both of North Platte, Nebraska, were united in marriage by Rev. S. A. Webber. Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Qualley, of this city were the attendants. Following the ceremony, the wedding party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Qualley in this city, where an elegant wedding dinner was served.
The groom is a prosperous farmer of North Platte, Nebraska, who has been here for several months visiting his brother, I. E. Qualley. His sweetheart arrived from North Platte on Thursday morning and the wedding quickly followed. The happy couple expect to enjoy their honeymoon among the lakes of Fremont county in the Pineale section, after which they will return to their home near North Platte. The people of Rock Springs extend congratulations and good wishes.

Where Consistency is a Jewel.

If some one will give The Tribune a sum of money equal to that which will be spent in Lincoln county during the year 1917 for new cars and the operation and upkeep of old cars, counting in depreciation, he will agree to put up a court house costing $125,000, build a $250,000 hotel, giving the first to the county and the second to the city, and have left enough money on which to extravagantly live for the remainder of his life. And yet the people of Lincoln county by their vote in the past have said that they cannot afford to be "taxed to death" for the sake of having a court house—and the court house is needed a hundred times more than any one man or any 2000 men in Lincoln county need a car. The Union Pacific railroad company, which would pay in taxes about one-third the cost of a new court house, is perfectly willing to pay its share, but the man whose share of the tax would be less than $5.00 a year hollers because the tax will be "burdensome" and yet he pays from twenty to forty times that amount for the privilege of owning a piece of machinery that at best is only a money burner.
The men of Lincoln county are certainly a consistent (?) bunch of creatures.

White Buys a Speedster.

Platt White has ordered a Hudson super six of the speedster model, a car that will develop eighty miles an hour on dirt roads, and over a hundred on permanent roads. This would indicate that nothing—but the swiftest is swift enough for Platt. The car will be here in a week or ten days. Life insurance agents should interview Platt before he gets the car warmed up.

Much Gas is Used.

One North Platte garage sold twelve thousand gallons of gasoline during the month of June. If the other five garages each sold half as much the total sales were 42,000 gallons. Basing the mileage at twelve to the gallon, that means a half million miles on one month's sale of gas, and that gas cost the consumers over ten thousand dollars.

Mrs. Walter Dies at Omaha.

Mrs. Charles Walter, of this city, died Wednesday afternoon in the Lord Lister hospital in Omaha where she had gone a week ago to take treatment and submit to an operation. Mrs. Walter was taken ill two months ago with typhoid fever which left her in a very weakened condition. An operation was advised which it was thought would aid in the gaining of her former strength. The operation was performed Wednesday morning and death followed ten hours later. The remains were brought to this city last evening and funeral services will be held at the Methodist church tomorrow morning at half past ten.

Miss Sophronia Hahn was born in Canton, Mo., April 27th, 1864 and married there in 1887 to Charles H. Walter, who survives her. Later she made her home in Massena, Iowa, and for ten years was a resident of Wallace. With her husband and family she came to this city six years ago and has made many friends. She was a member of the Eastern Star and the Methodist church and was known by the Christian manner in which she lived. Surviving are eight sisters and one brother who reside in eastern points, three daughters, Mabel, Lola, Catherine and two sons Charles, Jr., and Ivan.

Buy Coal Now.

The wholesale coal dealers of Omaha are preparing to take up with the Council of Defense the coal situation in Nebraska. They desire that the public be informed of the necessity of laying in a winter's supply at the earliest possible time. The Tribune has sounded a note of warning relative to the need of such action, but this North Platte public seem to have looked upon the warning as an advertisement for the coal dealers, which, of course, it was not. All this fall and winter the railroads will be busy hauling government traffic, and will not haul coal. When the present stock held by the local dealers—which is now about as great as they can handle—is exhausted, they don't know whether they will be able to get shipments. If you don't lay in your stock now, don't holler if you run short when twenty-seven below zero next winter.

Those two more or less noted fishermen, Bill Whitlock and George Winkowitch left last evening for Encampment, Wyo., on a trout fishing trip. We are hoping that others will yet respond—if they don't, no trip.
