SOLDIERS' INSURANCE BILL NOW IN THE SENATE

The war risk insurance bill, carrying an appropriation of $176,000,000 and providing for allotments for soldiers' families, compensation for injuries and comprehensive insurance, went to the senate last week following its passage by the unanimous vote of the house. It is certain to pass the senate with few if any changes.

As it stands now, the measure designed to take care of Uncle Sam's fighting men may be summed up as follows:

Every enlisted man in the military and naval forces shall not part of his pay to his wife, or his former wife, if she has not remarried, or to his child, or children. Not more than half his pay nor less than $15 monthly may be so allotted.

Allowances may be obtained for his family on written application, the sum not to exceed $50 monthly. The family allowances are as follows:

If there be a wife only—$15 monthly.

If there be a wife and child—$25 monthly.

If there be a wife and two children—$32.50 monthly.

For each additional child—$7 monthly.

For death in the service of the line of duty, the government will pay:

For a widow—$35 monthly.

For a widow and a child—$45 monthly.

For a widow and two children—$52.50 monthly.

For each additional child—$5.00 monthly.

If there be no widow, and only one child—$20 monthly.

For two children—$35 monthly.

Four children—$45, with $10 for each additional child.

For a widowed mother—$30.

For disability the United States will pay the soldier:

If he has neither wife nor child—$40 monthly.

If he has a wife and a child—$65 monthly.

A totally disabled soldier may draw $20 additional for a nurse or attendant. The soldier who loses both eyes, both hands, or both legs, shall receive $100 monthly.

To give every commissioned officer and enlisted man protection for himself and his dependents, the United States will grant insurance against death or total disability. This insurance may be in multiples of $500, but not to exceed $10,000.

The maximum was set at $10,000 on request of President Wilson, after it had first been set at that figure and then cut to $5,000 by the interstate and foreign commerce committee. The bill does not specify the premium rate to be paid by the soldiers, but it is officially reckoned at $8 per thousand dollars of insurance.

Diener & Fleishman.

Bert Napersteck, who has been employed with the Union Pacific as freight brakeman between Evanston and Ogden for several months, is visiting with his parents this week. He was recently promoted to freight conductor.

Champion Pacer to be Here.

Among the horses entered in the races here this week will be the champion two year old pacer of the world "Flower Forbes," owned by E. D. Gould, of Kearney. She will race on Thursday, September 27th, or give an exhibition mile on that day. She will be driven by Zack Chandler, the noted driver, who gave her the record she holds. This noted pacer ought to draw a big crowd.

Mrs. John Sorenson Passes Away

A telegram received by P. M. Sorenson yesterday morning announced the death at Los Angeles Sunday of Mrs. John Sorenson, for many years a resident of North Platte. Particulars of the passing away of this woman who had so many friends in this city, have not been learned, but we understand she had been in rather poor health for some time. Interment will be made in Los Angeles.

Friends of the deceased will regret to learn of her death, and to Mr. Sorenson and daughters sympathy will be extended.

Plans for New Garage.

Architect Reynolds is now completing the plans and specifications for the Hendy-Ogier garage that will be erected on Fourth street east of the Elks' home. The garage will be 110x132, the south forty feet of the building to be two stories, the remainder one story, this upper floor to be used as a machine shop and stock room. The interior arrangement provides for all the conveniences known to a modern garage. Cars for repairs will be taken to the second floor repair shop by a runway from the alley instead of an elevator, though there will be a small elevator for handling light articles. Bids for the erection of the building will be asked for in a short time.

Prizes For Children's Gardens

The Red Cross announces the following list of prizes for entries made from the children's gardens at the county fair:

J. C. Little, aged 67, died Sunday evening of cancer at his home sixteen miles north of town. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon and interment was made in the Myrtle cemetery. He leaves a brother, two sons and a daughter.

Paul Martl, the youngest and perhaps most frail member of Co. E, has been appointed as orderly to Captain Halligan since the boys arrived at Deming.

Mrs. Will Hawkey and son John will leave the first of next month for Grand Island to visit friends.

ONE HUNDRED MORE MEN CALLED FOR EXAMINATION

Last evening the Lincoln county board of examiners issued a call for one hundred more men to report for examination next Friday and Saturday. This call has been made necessary by the fact that the net number of men who have been examined, passed and certified up to this date has not been sufficient to fill Lincoln county's quota of one hundred and fifteen.

So far Lincoln county has sent fifty-two men to Ft. Riley, leaving sixty-three to be available when called. This is a greater number than is at present certified, and it is not known how many are yet to be certified on the first lot examined or how many will be certified on the lot examined last week.

Under these conditions the local board deemed it necessary to call in another hundred men for examination. Those who have been notified to report are:

A letter received by F. W. Rincker last week announced the arrival of Ernest Rincker and Jim Clinton at Goat Island, and the first impression of the training camp seems to be favorable to both young men. They speak highly of the meals furnished and the tent accommodations. Upon their arrival they were furnished with the complete clothing outfit of the medical corps. Clinton drew eight hours of guard duty the day after he arrived.

181 ARE EXAMINED AND EIGHTY-ONE ASK EXEMPTION

The Lincoln county board of examiners last Thursday, Friday and Saturday examined one hundred and thirty-one military registrants. Thirteen of these were discharged as physically unfit for army service and eighty-one claimed exemption, leaving thirty-seven good, stalwart young men who having no cause for exemption would probably as soon fight as eat.

The percentage of those asking for exemption was much greater than at the first examination. It is probable that some asked to be exempted on rather flimsy pretenses, figuring that if the excuse held well and good, if it didn't hold they would be none the worse off.

Considerable criticism of the work of the district board in Omaha is heard; this breaking out in rather severe form at Gering last Saturday. There it was claimed that wealth and politics influenced exemptions. This charge is undoubtedly not true; at least such cannot be charged so far as the board has acted on Lincoln county men.
