A Father Vaughan Story.

Father Bernard Vaughan, the famous English Jesuit preacher, says what he means and means what he says and is never afraid of directing his criticisms even against the most powerful sections of society, especially the idle rich.

An amusing reference was once made to the fiery methods of denunciation he employs when in the pulpit. He had been preaching in Rome and had, as usual, dealt out plain truths about everybody with his accustomed force. One of the cardinals remarked that he preached like an Italian. "Yes," said another dignitary, "but he is an Italian. He was born on Vesuvius, and we only sent him to England to cool."—London Globe.

Lutheran Congregational Meeting.

The Lutherans held their annual meeting Wednesday evening of this week. All reports show another very successful year's work. A few of the items of interest follow.

There were 17 children baptized and 33 adult members received, making in all 50. The amount spent locally during the year was $2,307 and $643 contributed to benevolence, a grand total of $2,950, besides a couple thousand dollars raised for the new church building. The total amount now on hand for the new church is above $6,100. The ladies' aid raised during this year $833, and have now on hand above $2200.

Three new church officers were elected; they are Albert Haspel, H. F. Tramp and Dr. O. H. Cressler. The newly elected officers for the building fund association are: President, O. H. Thoelecke; vice president, Walter Kochen; secretary, Louis Johnson; treasurer, C. O. Weingand.

The pastor's resignation tendered to the church council last week was regretfully accepted by the congregation. The sole reason given for the taking of this step by the pastor was the continuing decline of his health and that of his wife, plainly due to the altitude, and on this ground only did the congregation agree to endorse the action of the council. A committee to adopt resolutions to be presented at the service a week from next Sunday was appointed. These resolutions will appear later.

Mr. C. J. Story, traveling auditor of the Great Western Accident Insurance Company, of Des Moines, Iowa, has been placed in temporary charge of that company's business at North Platte on account of the resignation of Mr. A. A. Schatz.

E. T. Kelher,
State Manager.

A. F. Kjaas left yesterday for Big Springs to spend a few days hunting.

Room For Thrift.

The American Society For Thrift is sounding a warning that should not go unheeded. The statistics it has gathered indicate how reckless we are with our money and how little we lay up for a rainy day. We are pre-eminently a nation of spenders who believe in living while we live.

Statistics show that ninety-five of every hundred Americans who reach the age of sixty are dependent upon their daily earnings or on others for support. The total, of course, includes wives, mothers and daughters who had not tried nor expected to accumulate a competency. But after they are eliminated the percentage of workers who have a nest egg at sixty is very small, even if that is generally considered too young for retirement.

Woman and Electricity.

When a woman is sulky and will not speak—exciter.
If she gets too excited—controller.
If she talks too long—interrupter.
If her way of thinking is not yours—converter.
If she is willing to meet you half way—meter.
If she will meet you all the way—receiver.
If she wants to go farther—conductor.
If she would go still farther—dispatcher.
If she wants chocolate—feeder.—Exchange.

Stamp Taxes.

Taxation through the use of stamps is nearly 300 years old. The states general of the Netherlands offered a reward for the invention of a new tax, and some person in 1624 suggested that stamps be required on legal documents. England first used stamp taxes in 1694, the United States in 1797.—New York Sun.

Getting it Right.

Mrs. Quixote—I see your friend, Mr. Singleton, is here. He was the best man at your wedding, was he not?
Mr. Whizzer—No; he was merely the luckiest.—New York Globe

CLUB DISCUSSES POSSIBLE SHORTAGE OF FOOD

The first meeting of the Domestic Department of the Twentieth Century Club was held at the home of Mrs. Otto Tuohelecke Monday afternoon.

The afternoon's program opened with the singing of "America" by the entire club. This was followed by a short talk by Mrs. Ralph Smith, department chairman, outlining the year's work and setting forth the importance of every woman in America co-operating with the food administration in their work of conservation.

The subject for the day was "A World's Shortage of Food" and was handled in a very creditable manner.

Mrs. Charles Bogue read a paper on "Woman's Part in Winning the War," she said in part: "It has fallen to the women of America to do a great part in winning and ending this war. The war will be won by the nation that can hold out the longest in the matter of food supply. This is the problem which concerns the women of this nation most is the conservation of food and the decreasing of food waste. Women must cut off luxuries and think only of necessities. Woman will have changed conditions and through her labor, courage and unselfishness, she will be a great factor in winning the war."

Mrs. Harry Cramer spoke at length on community wastes and conservation in general. Her talk was to the point and very helpful to all who heard her.

Mrs. M. E. Scott fully explained the Hoover Pledge Card, showing the ladies how, with the slightest effort, they could save thousands of pounds of food annually for our allies. Some good examples which she gave follow: Use one-third ounce less per day of animal fat, and three hundred seventy-five tons will be saved yearly. If every one in America saves one ounce of sugar daily, it means one million, one hundred thousand tons for the year, small in the aggregate, but enormous as a whole.

The afternoon closed with the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostess. The next meeting will be held October 8th, at the home of Mrs. J. S. Davis and will be the Club's annual picnic, to which Club members and their husbands are invited.

Early Peace Not Anticipated.

Washington.—United States government officials are discounting any peace talk and are not permitting it to interfere with plans for entering actively into a European military campaign. They are further disposed to do this, believing that there is no immediate chance of a revolution overthrowing the kaiser. It is known that discontent is strong; that criticism is increasing; that thousands of Germans are in fact becoming undisciplined; but this sentiment is not yet strong enough to form a foundation for an internal uprising against the throne. Possibly another winter may add sufficient to the stringency that the masses will begin to clamor for peace, but this will be only when they are driven to it by actual hunger, bordering on starvation. As a result, America is laying plans for two or more years of warfare, and pushing those plans with all possible speed.

Reports from Rome say that the pope is waiting for America to "see the light," which means that he thinks Germany can not be whipped, while America and the allies are convinced that German defeat is inevitable.

THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR.

William Harris, Jr. will present "The Thirteenth Chair," his sensational, melodramatic success by Bayard Veiller which ran for one year at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre, New York, here October 12. An ideal cast has been chosen for the production that out-of-town audiences may see the play presented under quite as favorable as did those who enjoyed it during its remarkable engagement in New York.

Bayard Veiller, the author of "The Thirteenth Chair" is well known to theatre-goers here as the author of "Widow in the Law" which up to the present season was unquestionably the most popular and the most deservedly successful drama of that character ever written. It was the unanimous consensus of critics on the opening night of "The Thirteenth Chair" that with it, Mr. Veiller had excelled his own best efforts and the subsequent success of the play bore out the early judgment of the reviewers.

The parting gift—

A Vest Pocket Kodak.

It is monotony, not bullets that our soldier boys dread. At the front, they will uphold bravely the traditions that are dear to every loyal American heart. But in the training camps and during the months of forced inaction, there are going to be some tedious, home-sick days—days the Kodak can make more cheerful.

There's room for a little Vest Pocket Kodak in every soldier's and sailor's kit. The expense is small, six dollars.
