DEATH CLAIMS ANOTHER
 EARLY SETTLER OF COUNTY

After a residence of forty-five years in Lincoln county, A. M. Mason passed to the beyond at his home on east Fourth street Saturday evening. An old soldier and intensely patriotic citizen, a consistent Christian and a man who was esteemed and respected by all who knew him, he will be missed by many, for there are few who did not know him. For several weeks prior to the call he had been failing; a general breaking down of the physical forces after seventy-nine years of active life.

Arch McCracken Mason was born July 10, 1838, at Madisonville, Tenn. In 1844 the parents moved to Henry county, Iowa, where the deceased resided on a farm until 1861, when he enlisted in the Fourth Iowa Cavalry and served nearly four years, being honorably discharged at Atlanta, Ga., August 11th, 1865. On September 27, 1865, he was united in marriage at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, to Sara Jane Woodworth, and to that union three children now survive. They are Mrs. M. F. Hosler, of this city, Robt. A. Mason, of Aurora, Ill., and Mrs. C. T. Rowson, of Netherland, Col. In 1872 Mr. and Mrs. Mason moved to Lincoln county and homesteaded land on which the town of Curtis is now located. Five years later they moved to North Platte which has since been their home. For about thirty years Mr. Mason was employed in the Union Pacific shops, resigning a few years ago to spend the evening of life in whatever manner most pleasing, and this he and his wife did by making frequent trips.

Mr. Mason was a member of the Grand Army Post and Platte Valley lodge of Masons, and since 1879 had been a member of the Methodist church.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church yesterday afternoon in charge of the Masons and G. A. R. and with services conducted by Rev. Cram. The church was filled with sorrowing friends. Pall bearers were T. C. Patterson, J. E. Evans, Julius Hahler, John Day, Chas. Hirsch and Butler Buchanan.

Mrs. John Flynn and daughter, Mrs. Frank Talken, of Mo'rose, are spending this week in town.

Miss Pearl Coombs, of Hershey, spent the week visiting Miss Regina Walker and attending the fair.

Charley Johnston, who accompanied his brother Lee to Rochester, Minn., returned home Sunday morning.

About County Events and People.

Henry Lindekugel, who lives southwest of Hershey, broke his collar bone last week when the horse he was riding fell.

In talking with George Mudd, of Hershey, we learn that it is expected that the sugar beet harvest will begin Monday of next week.

E. B. Leyboldt, of Hershey, has gone to O'Neill where he will represent the firm of Leyboldt & Wickstrom, the wholesale hay and grain dealers of Hershey.

J. P. Burrows, of Walker precinct, one of the early settlers in that precinct, spent Saturday in town transacting business and attending the county fair.

R. A. Miller has sold his 320-acre farm two and a half miles south of Hershey to C. J. Hildebrand of Lindsay, Nebraska, for $16,700, or a little better than $52 per acre.

Lem Kidwell, of Wallace, spent the greater part of last week in town wearing a deputy sheriff's badge at the county fair. In circulating around he met many friends and this he enjoyed.

Yesterday the railroad terminal of the Willard mail route was changed from Maxwell to Brady. Two deliveries will be made each week, Monday and Wednesday. Art Geise will carry the new route.

PATRIOTIC MEETING FOR THOSE WHO LEAVE THURSDAY

A patriotic meeting under the auspices of the County Defense Council and Red Cross Society will be held at the Franklin auditorium tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. The meeting is in the nature of a farewell to the forty-six drafted men who will leave for Ft. Riley Thursday morning, and these men will be present. A program will be rendered consisting of music and reading and short addresses by several of our citizens.

The speakers will be Miss Annie Kramph, Judge Grimes and Rev. B. A. Cram.

It is urged that our people turn out in large numbers and give the men who have been called to the colors an enthusiastic and fitting farewell.

A similar meeting held two weeks ago was largely attended, and it is hoped the one to be held tomorrow will be even more largely attended.

Let all show the boys that they take with them our best wishes.

Letters from Camp Cody.

In this issue is published the first of a series of weekly letters which Byron B. Oberst, of Company E, has promised to send The Tribune. All North Platte people, by reason of having representatives at Camp Cody, are interested in the doings at that great military camp, and Mr. Oberst will write of conditions and of the boys in a very interesting manner.

The Sutherland Free Lance says: A trip through the farming section will convince most anyone that an unusual amount of cane and fodder is being put up these days. A portion of the corn fields on most any farm show the effects of the fodder saver. An implement dealer tells us that he was unable to supply the demand for cornbinders, which is a good indication of the inclination of the farmers to provide feed. The old corn knife is being welded instead. More existence through the winter of the stock will not be the question this time, but animals will be enabled to get through in the kind of condition that makes money for the owners.

The $25,000 suit against A. T. Yarter and his bondsmen was settled out of court at Lexington, Tuesday. Mrs. Purdon, widow of Dr. Purdon, was the plaintiff, and Mr. Yarter and two saloon keepers of Eustis and their bondsmen were the defendants. The suit was filed shortly after Dr. Purdon committed suicide at Lexington during the holidays last year. They were charged with having sold liquor to Mrs. Purdon's husband a few days before his death. In order to protect his bondsmen, Mr. Yarter has made several efforts to settle the case out of court, and Tuesday this was brought about satisfactorily to the widow and her attorney. The sum paid was away below that asked.—Brady Vindicator.

A Pretty Wedding

Mr. Samuel Macey, of Ironton, Mo., and Miss Velma Lester of North Platte, were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Sunday afternoon, September 30th, at 4 o'clock, by Rev. Cram.

The bride was beautifully gowned in blue silk while the groom wore the conventional black. The bride is well known in North Platte and many friends will wish her well in her new sphere. Mr. Macey is also well known having worked for the Hendy-Ogler garage for some time, and made many friends.

The couple left at once by auto for their future home at Ironton, Mo.

Thanks to Pielsticker

Without detaching any credit from others who did so much to make the Lincoln county fair such a pronounced success, we want to commend F. C. Pielsticker, president of the association, for the time he devoted during the past year, and for the pep and vim he enthused. He was on the job all the time and his energetic work bore its fruit. Thanks.

Charles Armstrong returned Sunday night from Boscoe.

Harry Dodendorf, of Melrose, is spending a few days in town.

The 13th Chair

Katherine Grey, who will be seen as "Rosalie La Grange" in "The 13th Chair," at Keith theatre, Friday, Oct. 12th, has had a most interesting theatrical career. Born in San Francisco and while in her teens, she made her debut in a company of Augustin Daly. She displayed such marked ability that Mr. Daly took her to New York where she appeared in "The Golden Widow" and "A Priceless Paragon" at Daly's theatre. Charles Frohman borrowed her for his production of "Jane" and "All the Comforts of Home" after which she was selected to create the role of "Helen Barry" in James A. Herne's production of "Shore Acres" at Miner's 5th Ave. Theatre. She later appeared, for several seasons with Richard Mansfield in "Napoleon," "Arms and the Girl," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "The Parisian Romance," and toured the country in support of Charles Coghlan in "The Royal Box."

She has been a stock star in Boston, Chicago and Denver and appeared in Australia under the management of J. E. Williamson.

It is this wealth of theatrical experience that Miss Grey brings to the character of "Rosalie La Grange," the old Irish charlatan, who accepts small fees for untrue manifestations in order to rear her daughter as a lady and away from her own mean surroundings, that convinces us that Wm. Harris, Jr., has made a wise selection for the part.
