The person who holds book or paper at arm's length, or the one who changes glasses for near vision, betrays his age to all observing people.

At about 40, Nature has so stiffened the muscles and lenses of the eyes that glasses are needed for near work. Those who have worn glasses previously, often need bifocals at this period of life.

Whatever your eye needs are, they will be best attended to at Clinton's.

CATTLE PRODUCTION

It is one of the most essential factors today.

The cattle raiser is a national asset at this time, and the McDonald State Bank is ready to aid him by loaning him money on his cattle, at lowest rates of interest.

We therefore invite cattle raisers of Lincoln County to avail themselves of our facilities. We are always ready to talk things over with you.

CAR DRIVEN BY COUNTY CLERK ALLEN TURNS TURTLE.

County Clerk Allen was the victim of an auto accident Tuesday, but as he was born under a lucky star he escaped with but slight bruises. He had a business mission in the west part of the city and hopped into Commissioner Koch's car which was standing at the court house. Going west on Fourth he attempted to turn the corner of the Presbyterian church, the wheels skidded and over went the car with Allen underneath, the edge resting on his back. By considerable exertion, however, he managed to extricate himself and taking an inventory of his body from head to foot he found a few minor bruises, and congratulated himself that he was alive to tell the story to a few of his intimate friends.

The car suffered more damage than did Mr. Allen.

Show People Have Suit.

In the county court Tuesday Jessie Wright obtained a judgment for thirty five dollars against John H. Prosper, and the latter took an appeal to the district court. The defendant conducted one of the shows playing during the county fair and the plaintiff was in his employ. Under an oral contract the defendant was to pay plaintiff fifty dollars when the season closed in order that she might get back to Salt Lake. The season closed here and the money was demanded, which the defendant refused to pay. The evidence showed that Jessie had been paid $15 and the court rendered judgment for the remaining $35.

Funeral of Wm. Sweeney

The remains of William Sweeney, who died at Minneapolis last Saturday, arrived here Wednesday evening accompanied by Mrs. John N. Baker and daughter Jessie, who had gone to the northern city for the purpose of bringing the body here for interment. The remains were met at the depot by an escort of Elks, of which organization the deceased was a member, and a delegation of Elks also attended the funeral which was held at the J. N. Baker residence yesterday afternoon.

The services at the house were conducted by Rev. Jones, of the Episcopal church, and at the grave the Masonic funeral ritual was used, members of that organization being in attendance. The deceased was a son of Mrs. Nicholas Klein and a brother of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. W. C. Elder. He was a finished musician and for many years was director of the Cody Wild West show band.

Mrs. M. E. Watts, who had been visiting her son Ike and family at Corning, Iowa, returned home this morning.

Jandus, the man who confessed to forgery in the district court of this county and was taken to the pen at Lincoln last week to serve a third sentence for the same offense, is a talented musician, and for a time was director of the band at the penitentiary. He is a bright fellow but can't resist the temptation to get money without working for it.

For Sale—Four-room cottage. Six hundred cash and balance on easy terms. Phone 798-F 14. E. W. Wright.

Anna Miller, whose home is in the north part of the county and who was declared insane a month or so ago, was taken to the Ingleside asylum by Deputy Sheriff Wilson Wednesday night. At the time the unfortunate woman was adjudged insane, the state institution was having a siege of small pox, and her conveyance thereto was delayed until this week.

NEWS FROM THE BOYS NOW DOWN AT CAMP CODY.

(By Byron B. Oberst.)
Camp Cody, N. M., Oct. 6, 1917.
My letter is a little late this week, but this is caused by the fact that our regiment changed its location during the last week and we have been busy getting settled.

As you are probably aware the Nebraska brigade has been broken up and the Fifth Nebraska has been changed to the 134th U. S. Infantry. We have been brigaded with the First Iowa and we all hope that this indicates that we will soon see active service.

The Fourth Nebraska has been changed from infantry to heavy artillery and the Sixth Nebraska has been divided among several different branches of the service.

One week ago yesterday General Harries reviewed the full Nebraska brigade as a kind of farewell to it as a unit. There were about 5,500 troops in line and it was a pretty sight as we marched past the General in columns of companies. It was certainly inspiring to see so many loyal Nebraskans assembled together to be trained for the defense of our beloved country. It made one feel proud indeed that our state had been so generous in her answer to our President's call.

Wednesday morning our regiment broke camp at its former location and prepared to move to its new camp. The results of discipline and training were clearly apparent in the rapidity with which our tents were struck and everything was packed for movement. It is no small feat to move nearly 2,000 men, but it was accomplished without a hitch. The men marched to the new location and our tents and baggage were moved on auto trucks. By three o'clock in the afternoon our tents were set up in our new camp about one and one-half miles east of our former location. We are now located at the very edge of Deming and it is very convenient for those of us who wish to visit the town.

Friday morning we received our second inoculation since coming here. Beyond a few sore arms this produced no ill effects and we are now all feeling O. K. again.

On Friday mornings at 11 o'clock all our tents must be furled. This consists of loosening all the ropes and wrapping the tent neatly around the center pole. The pole is supported in its upright position by the ropes on the small cap covering the opening in the top. When the tents are all furled the camp presents an unusual appearance, as it greatly resembles a series of rows of palm trees without any leaves on the trunks except right at the top.

There have been some changes in the company since leaving North Platte, as some of the boys have been transferred to other branches of the service. Then during the coming week we expect to receive our new men and that means that we must have more officers. I should be able to tell you something about it in my next letter.

In closing will state that we are all healthy and working hard and that although most of us get homesick at times, we content ourselves with the thought that we are helping our country.
