

P. F. E. CO. WILL SPEND $500,000 IN NORTH PLATTE

The Tribune is reliably informed that the Pacific Fruit Express Company, owners of the refrigerator car line on the Union Pacific, will expend a half million dollars in North Platte within the next four months. The intention of the company is to erect an entire new icing plant, the location of which will be a considerable distance west of the present plant. The new plant will be constructed along different lines from the houses now in use, and machinery installed that will expedite icing cars as well as filling the houses during the ice harvest. The new plant will have a much larger storage capacity. It is understood that when the new plant is in operation the old houses will be torn down. The company figure on having the new buildings ready for the coming season's crop of ice.

Two Cases of Assault

Two cases of assault have been set for hearing in Judge French's court Saturday. One case is against Charles and Andy Miller, with Charles Oakes as the complaining witness, and the latter will ask that the Millers be placed under bond to keep the peace. The other case is against Robert Ehlers with Sam Roby as the complaining witness. These two men live in the Maxwell section.

The potatoes planted last spring on the vacant lots around town are now being harvested, and where they were irrigated from city hydrants during the dry spell the yield is very satisfactory. One grower who figured that if he secured forty bushels he would make a little money, finds the yield to be nearly seventy bushels.

The cry for houses to rent in town is stronger than ever, and the lack of these is a distinct drawback to the increase in population. Were houses available not less than fifty families would move to North Platte, these including traveling men and railroad mail clerks. Certainly if we are to continue to move forward, we must provide houses for those who desire to make their homes with us. We notice a Lincoln firm is about to erect twenty-five houses in Alliance for renting purposes. Perhaps if we are sufficiently energetic we can --if lot owners decline to build--secure some outside parties to put up a number of houses.

PRESIDENT NAMES OCTOBER 24th AS LIBERTY DAY

President Wilson, in behalf of the liberty loan, Sunday night issued a proclamation setting aside October 24 as liberty day and urging the people of the nation to assemble on that day in their respective communities and "pledge to one another and to the government that represents them, the fullest measure of support."

"Let the result be so impressive and emphatic," the president urges, "that it will echo throughout the empire of our enemy as an index of what America intends to do to bring this war to a victorious conclusion."

"The second liberty loan gives the people of the United States another opportunity to pledge their funds to their government to sustain their country at war. The might of the United States is being mobilized and organized to strike a mortal blow at autocracy in defense of outraged American rights, and of the cause of liberty. Billions of dollars are required to arm, feed and clothe the brave men who are going forth to fight our country's battles and to assist the nations with whom we are making common cause against a common foe. To subscribe to the liberty loan is to perform a service of patriotism."

Judge Lovett, chairman of the board of U. P. directors, who passed through from the west Sunday, stated in Omaha yesterday that the United States would face a serious crisis in coal shortage before the end of winter. ### B. & L. Assn. Takes $20,000 Bonds

At a special meeting of the Mutual Building and Loan Association held late yesterday afternoon it was voted to subscribe for $20,000 of the second Liberty loan. This is in line with the action of these associations throughout the state, those in Omaha subscribing for $1,200,000.

The government in making its revenue laws have always favored mutual building and loan associations in exempting them from certain forms of taxation, and now that the associations have an opportunity to reciprocate, they are a unit in so doing. This $20,000 will be credited to Lincoln county's subscription.
