IT WAS SO SUDDEN

By ELLIOTT FLOWER.

It came to her as an inspiration. He had taken a seat at a distance of about six feet from her, as was his invariable custom when he called, and his innate bashfulness and diffidence had made his conversation just about as uninteresting as usual.

"No," he replied. "I never have given it a thought." "But you should," she said. "But I don't know how to try it," he returned regretfully.

LEGAL NOTICE

Hannah McGinnis, and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and personal representatives of Hannah McGinnis, and all other persons interested in the estate of Hannah McGinnis, Mary Martha McGinnis and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and personal representatives of Mary Martha McGinnis, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary Martha McGinnis, and George Duncan McGinnis, and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and personal representatives of George Duncan McGinnis, and all other persons interested in the estate of George Duncan McGinnis, as the same is platted and of record in the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, Nebraska, Defendants, will hereby take notice that on the 8th day of October, 1917, William H. Facka, plaintiff, in an action wherein the said William H. Facka is plaintiff and the above named defendants are defendants, filed his petition in the district court of Lincoln County, Nebraska, against said defendants and each of them. Plaintiff alleges in his petition that he is the owner in fee simple and in the possession of the following described real estate, to-wit:

The East half of the Northwest quarter, and the East half of the Southwest quarter of Section 21, township 9, range 29, and the North half of the North half of Section 21, township 9, range 29, all of Lincoln County, Nebraska; and the above named defendants have or claim to have some interest in and to said above described real estate by virtue of two certain mortgage deeds, one of which said mortgage deeds was executed upon said land by Elmer E. Reece, single, to Law E. Burrow, May 18th, 1889, and recorded May 18th, 1889, in Mortgage record 9, Page 168 to 172, real estate records of Lincoln County, Nebraska; and which said mortgage deed appears of record as a lien upon the title to the East half of the Northwest quarter, and the East half of the Southwest quarter of said section 21, and the other of which said mortgage was executed upon said land by William E. Pugsley, unmarried, to the above named defendant T. J. Mackey, under date of December 16, 1895, and recorded December 23d, 1895, Book 75, Page 422, mortgage records of Lincoln County, Nebraska, and which said mortgage appears of record as a lien upon the North half of the North half of said section 21, and which said mortgage deeds and each of them are wholly barred by the statute of Limitations of the State of Nebraska, and have ceased to be a lien upon the said above described real estate.

Plaintiff prays that his title to said real estate be forever confirmed, and quieted in him as against the claims of the defendants and each of them under and by virtue of said mortgage deeds or otherwise, and that the defendants and each of them be forever enjoined from setting up or claiming any right, title, interest, estate or demand in or to said real estate, or from ever interfering with the possession or enjoyment of the plaintiff in said real estate, and for such other relief as may be just and equitable.

You are further notified that said District Court on the 8th day of October, 1917, made and entered an order permitting service by publication upon each of the said defendants for four consecutive weeks, as required by law. And said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 15th day of November, 1917.

The Bell Telephone Unites the Nation's Military Forces. The government is using the Bell Telephone to link the army training camps, the supply depots and the coast defenses with each other and with the great military bureaus at Washington. New construction necessary to meet the increased demands for service and equipment has been held back by the shortage of both labor and materials. You can do your bit by asking only for telephone equipment you must have and making only such local and long distance calls as are absolutely necessary. NEBRASKA TELEPHONE CO.

IT WAS SO SUDDEN. By ELLIOTT FLOWER. It came to her as an inspiration. He had taken a seat at a distance of about six feet from her, as was his invariable custom when he called, and his innate bashfulness and diffidence had made his conversation just about as uninteresting as usual. "No," he replied. "I never have given it a thought." "But you should," she said. "But I don't know how to try it," he returned regretfully. "Oh, I can show you that," she said. "You take something bright—a piece of silver or anything like that—and hold it directly in front of the subject's eyes. Then you tell him to concentrate his gaze and thought on that bright object, while you concentrate your thoughts on subjugating his will to yours. I'm sure a man of your force of character and intensity of purpose would soon be in complete control of the subject. You might try it with me and see if you understand." Of course he was quite ready to make an experiment. Slowly he withdrew the silver piece, but she made no motion to indicate that she was conscious of any change. "Martha!" he said in some alarm. She went to him without a word. "Sit down beside me," he said, "and give me your hand." "Rest your head on my shoulder," he commanded. "Talk about rapture!" he muttered. His heart was beating like a trip-hammer, but for ten minutes he sat there without moving. Then he heaved a deep, happy sigh and asked himself: "What would the world do without hypnotism?" He had been looking that matter up and had discovered that he had overlooked a most important test. The experiment was more protracted on this occasion, but it failed to bring him any nearer the goal of his desire—and hers. To have a hypnotized girl was a decided luxury in its way, but it did not give him the courage he needed when she was in her right consciousness. The third evening she protested. "What do you do when I am under the influence of your will?" she demanded. "I—why, I—I that is, I don't do anything," he answered, but if ever falsehood showed in a man's face, it did in his when he said: "I—I simply make you do various things to demonstrate my control over your will and actions." "I'd like to know what they are," she insisted. "Suppose you just pretend I am hypnotized and tell me what to do. I'll promise to do it just as I would in my irresponsible state. I want to learn the nature of your experiments." "But—but that wouldn't demonstrate anything," he argued. "Foolish man! It would have demonstrated more than all his hypnotic experiments combined." "Oh, well," she said resignedly, "if it is of any intellectual or other advantage to you, go ahead. But really I think it would be ever so much better if I were conscious of what was happening; don't you?" He winced, and his face fairly burned. In fact, he was so disconcerted that he failed to notice the gleam of triumph in her eyes as he began his usual experiments. If he had, possibly he would have been better prepared for what happened when it was over. He had scarcely, as he thought, removed the spell, when she suddenly exclaimed: "Why, what's that on your coat?" A moment later, after a hasty and interested inspection, she added: "Why—why, it's face powder; and there's some on your mustache, too. Percy Wallingford! I demand to know what you make me do when I am thus placed in your power! It is my right, sir, and I demand an explanation. What advantage have you taken of my poor, weak will?" "What could he say? What could he do? Clearly nothing but make a clean breast of the whole affair. He hesitated and stammered, grew red and then white, and finally, driven to desperation, blurted out: "Forgive me, Martha, but I—I love you. I did make you put the powder there, but it was because I—that is, I want you to marry me." "Oh, Percy!" she cried, "this is so sudden!" (Copyright, 1917, by W. G. Chapman.)
