Be a better worker in 1918

Often eyes are a brake on efficiency,

Poor sight causes many mistakes. Eye strains, which he may be unaware of, often slows a man down in his work.

Properly fitted glasses would end the trouble. If you want to be more efficient---to do better work and more of it---consult Clinton's optometrist.

If your eyes are a drag on your pay envelope, he will provide the glasses or advice, which will improve your vision and your ability to work.

OUR DUTY AS COLONEL

No one can question the Americanism or patriotism of Colonel Roosevelt, and this is how he defines our duty: 'Let us all individually and collectively, do our duty with brave hearts. We must brace ourselves for effort and for endurance through a hard and dangerous year. High of heart and with unfaltering soul we must do our part in the grim work of toiling and fighting to bring a little nearer the day when there shall be orderly liberty through out the world, and when justice, mercy and brotherly love shall obtain between man and man and among all the nations of mankind. Let us pay our taxes, subscribe to the govern ment loans, work at our several tasks with all our strength, support all the agencies which take care of our troops, and accept the stinting in fuel or food as part of the price we pay. Let our prime care be the welfare and warlike efficiency of the men at the men at the front and in the training camps."
