MORE MEN TO BE CALLED FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION.

A. S. Allen, of the county exemption board, stated yesterday afternoon that he would probably resume calling men for physical examination next Tuesday. Less than one-half of the registrants not in service have so far been called for examination. In fact there are nearly a thousand yet to be examined. The plan of calling thirty for each day will probably be resumed, the men to report in the morning of the designated day, in order that the examinations may be completed by noon.

Income Tax Agent Scott, who had been holding forth for ten days at the federal building, folded his tent last night and stole away to other fields. Other than giving out blanks, Mr. Scott was not of much assistance to the anxious inquirer for he was not able to definitely give an opinion on the knotty questions contained in the blanks, and those of course were the ones the people desired solved.

Dr. Morrill, Dentist.

Former Priest Commended.

Rev. T. M. Conway, who a quarter of a century ago was priest of the local Catholic parish, completed the twentieth year of his pastorate at Grand Junction, Col., a couple of Sundays since. A paper of that city editorially commenting on Rev. Conway and his pastorate says: "Father Conway is one of the big, able men of the community, and he has never failed to assert his influence in a way perhaps quiet but nevertheless effective. In every move for the betterment of the city and its people, x x x. During the war no minister has stood more squarely, emphatically and consistently for the movements inaugurated as war measures." These good words will be appreciated by Father Conway's former parishioners.

Engineer Carl Skaggs left last night for Minneapolis, Kan., to visit a brother who has joined the navy and leaves soon for the coast. Carl will be absent a week or ten days.

Attorney Muldoon transacted legal business in Sidney Wednesday.

City Holds General Meeting.

The Twentieth Century club met Tuesday evening at the Federal building at which time Mrs. Cotterell, the president notified the ladies that she had been requested to appoint a number of four minute speakers to talk on patriotic subjects at all women's gatherings and societies. The first subject would be probably "Naturalization of Women." Mrs. North gave an interesting talk on the subject.

Mrs. Elder, vice chairman, of the Domestic-Science department, who through the resignation of Mrs. K. Smith became chairman, reported on work done by that department and also of the work done by the city welfare committee.

It is urgently requested by the club that if there be any cases of need or suffering in the city that Mrs. Elder, or any one on her committee consisting of the Misses Emma Smith, Sylvia Watts and Laura Murray, be notified.

Mrs. Cramer reported that the Art department would hold an Art exhibit in the Franklin Auditorium on Feb. 27-28 and March 1 and 2.

Miss Emma Smith read a paper on "Lincoln's Days," which was very much enjoyed and Mrs. Blalock read a splendid paper on conservation.

IOWA FARMER IS FINED FOR DRAFT SLURS.

Yesterday Abe Moore, 62 years old, a farmer living near Vanmeter, Iowa, was sentenced to pay half his worldly wealth to the United States government by Federal Judge Martin J. Wade. Moore was found guilty of violating the espionage law by advising Iowa men of military age to resist the draft.

Moore is worth about $5,000 and must pay a fine of $2,500, but if he can show the court that he has bought $1,000 worth of Liberty bonds or $1,000 worth of war savings stamps, the fine will be reduced to $1,500.

"I ought to send you to the penitentiary," Judge Wade said, "because in this war time every living man who is under protection of Stars and Stripes must give his entire devotion and loyalty to the government."

"I understand your oldest son will soon be in the army, however, and for his sake I will impose a fine only. I would dislike to see a man serving his country while his father is in penitentiary for disloyalty to his country."

Commends Local Work.

In a letter to Mrs. F. W. Rincker, Mrs. H. H. Baldrige of Omaha, state censor for Red Cross work says: The Nebraska Red Cross inspection warehouse is in receipt of one box of surgical and hospital supplies on Jan. 31st, for which we wish to thank you. I note that the censor's report reads, "a very, very, nice looking box beautifully packed." Come again.

The ware house has moved into its new location at 12th and Farnam, and we would appreciate very much a visit from the women of North Platte when they are in the city. We would like to show them how their goods are received, censored, packed and shipped all within forty-eight hours.

The Grocery Department of Wilcox Department Store is open for business at the old location.

Among the many deft humorous touches inserted in Billie Burke's latest Paramount Picture by Director J. Searle Dawley is the picturization of the rivalry between two impecunious young clerks for the hand of "The Mysterious Miss Terry," which, by the way, is the name of the production. "The Mysterious Miss Terry" has become an assistant in a hardware store and both young men invest frequent and usually unnecessary errands there to bring them into the presence of the young lady. Everything in the store they can possibly use—and much they can not—is purchased—from flat-irons for paper weights to embroidery scissors for opening mail. The picture is full of scenes of mystery and intrigue as well as these countless "human interest" touches. Don't miss Billie Burke in her greatest success which comes to the Keith theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

Vocational Cards to Washington.

Miss Edna Sullivan, clerk to the county exemption board, is now mailing out to Washington a vocational card for each Lincoln county registrant. These cards are a copy of the leading questions on the questionnaire, giving the name, residence and age of each registrant, his occupation and class. Ten teachers of the City schools assisted Miss Sullivan in this work Tuesday evening and will again assist this evening.

The federal food administrator has placed an embargo on the killing of hens and pullets for food purposes, and the order has been relayed thru out the state by State Administrator Wattle.
