

Obey the law Buy an alarm clock

Congress says all clocks must be set forward one hour at 2 a. m. March 31.

You must get up an hour earlier April 1. That's no joke.

It may make no difference Sunday, but it will Monday when you go to work. So be prepared. Buy an alarm clock at Clinton's. Set it "an hour fast" when you go to bed you--don't have to stay up until 2 o'clock to set it, and it will be right in the morning. And get you up at the time you wish to arise.

WESTERN UNION GRANTED LEAVE TO LAY CONDUIT.

At a special meeting of the city council Tuesday afternoon the Western Union Telegraph Co. was granted permission to lay a conduit from the north side of Front street to the alley between Front and Sixth, a distance of a little over two hundred feet. In laying this conduit the paving will be torn up to a width of about two feet, and the ditch will be three feet deep. The company gives a bond in any amount demanded by the city that it will replace the pavement in as good condition as before removed, and the bond will hold for a proper time after the work is done in order to cover any after effects.

This conduit is laid to accommodate the cable necessary for establishing a relay station on the ground floor of the Waltham building which the company has leased for a long term of years and which it will occupy within the next ninety days.

This relay station will employ ten or twelve men.

Mary Pickford plays both rich and poor girl in her next Artcraft picture, "The Little Princess," which will be seen at the Keith on Monday and Tuesday, April 1 and 2. The scenario by Frances Marion is from the story by Frances Hodgson Burnett and was made for the Artcraft under the direction of Marshall Neilan. Mary Pickford first appears as the only daughter of a wealthy Indian captain who brings his child to an English boarding school. A little later in the story, when Captain Crue loses his fortune and dies, Sara Crue has to discard her costly dress and leave her school-girl companions and become a slave and maid-of-all-work in the same establishment. The transition is not as hard as it might seem for Sara Crue, because she has already made friends with Becky, the slave, and she tries to make the rage-and-tatters girl realize that they both are still "little princesses" inside, in spite of the fact that they have been robbed of the exterior signs of royalty. When Sara Crue regains her fortune she remembers the companion of her more unfortunate days in Miss Minchin's school and takes Becky, the slave, to live with her in more cheerful surroundings.

U. S. Boys Working Reserve. Plans are being rapidly laid for enrolling every boy in the county between the ages of 16 and 21 years for the Boys' Working Reserve. Leaders and enrollment places will be selected in every section of the county to enable every boy not only to show his willingness but to receive recognition that he is doing his part to help win the war.

Enrollment in the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve is entirely voluntary and entails no obligation upon any boy which he is not glad to assume. Then someone asks "What's the use?" The answer is that there surges in the heart of every American Boy the desire to be identified with the war. The boy who works on the farm or in the city is rendering his country a truly patriotic service. It is the intention of the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve to work such recognition and by his enrollment he becomes so recognized as one of Uncle Sam's great army of home workers and is entitled to wear an official badge as such.

On April 6th when public patriotic demonstrations take the form of a mammoth parade the Boys' Working Reserve will be entitled and expected to march under their banner. Let us endeavor to have 300 strong, healthy Lincoln county boys enrolled and ready to march in the parade on April 6th, the date of our anniversary into the war.
