HENDY-OGIER AUTO CO.

NORTH PLATTE IS NOW $63,000 OVER ITS GIVEN QUOTA.

In these war times a little camouflaging is permissible and excusable if it assists in a good cause, and the North Platte committee on the Third Liberty loan drive and The Tribune pleads guilty to a harmless case of "flaging." The facts are that at nine o'clock Monday night of last week the people of North Platte had over-subscribed their quota of $156,000—one half of the amount apportioned to Lincoln county; in other words the one-third of the population of the county that live in North Platte had subscribed more than one-half the county's quota. But this fact was not generally advertised for the reason that it might induce some who had not subscribed, and who should subscribe, to not "come across;" that they might conclude that so long as the quota had been subscribed their subscriptions would not be necessary. The cry of "North Platte should go over the top" was therefore continued during last week, and this is where a mild case of camouflaging was played.

The subscriptions to the third loan through the North Platte banks are now $217,000, and the amount is growing. There is yet to be counted the subscriptions of about 700 North Platte employees of the Union Pacific whose subscriptions will be made through ten-month contracts with the company but will be credited to the total of the North Platte subscriptions. These subscriptions with those yet to come from other sources will result in making the total reach nearly if not altogether $300,000, or only six thousand short of the entire quota for the county.

This ever subscription on the third loan more than equals the shortage of North Platte on the first and second loan issues.

This statement and the exposure of the camouflaging places the criticism of the Sutherland Courier in a somewhat ridiculous light especially when that paper becomes so serious as to suggest a division of the county because North Platte failed to show its patriotism in not "going over the top."

Londoner Visiting in Town.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Donegan and family are enjoying a visit from Mrs. J. T. Donegan of New York City. Mrs. Donegan is taking advantage of the absence of her husband, who is in charge of a fleet of destroyers to operate off the coast of France, to visit the home folks in North Platte. Previous to the time Mrs. Donegan left London, two years ago, she had witnessed many air-raids over that city. On one such occasion she and her friends had taken refuge in a cellar where they remained for two hours. At this time about ten blocks of the city were demolished, causing loss of life to men, women and children. With these experiences fresh in her memory, she is well able to appreciate the peace and quiet of this western country.

Beating the Kaiser.
Jupiter Pluvius contributed his bit toward beating the Kaiser Sunday night and yesterday when he caused the sky to weep to the amount of an inch of precipitation. Coming as it did, after such a protracted dry period, the rain was worth a million dollars to the wheat fields of Lincoln County, and a big yield of wheat in this section of Nebraska contributes toward the defeat of Bill the Butcher.

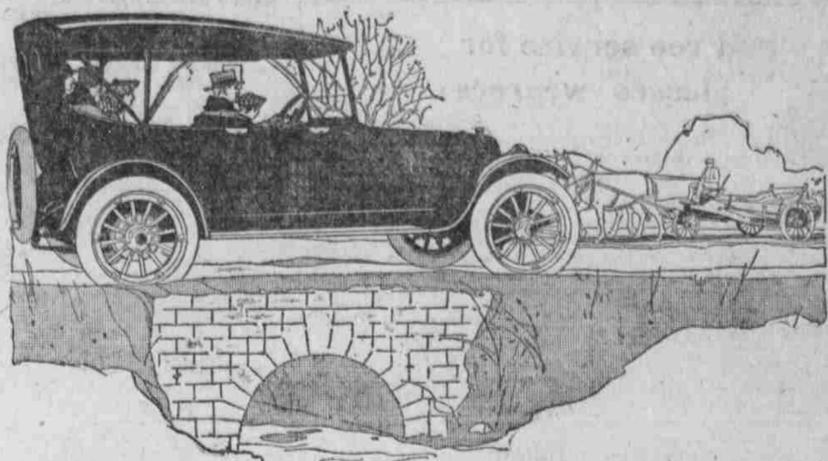

A. S. Allen and Sam Souder made an auto trip to Maywood Sunday and found the wheat fields looking fine. Up to the time they left Maywood in the evening the rain there was heavier than here.

"I loved I heard a screech owl last night, saying 'Trouble, Trouble' and here the bridegroom done seen the bride in her wedding dress fore do marriage"—A happy, laughing party of Virginia youths and maidens heard these words from the lips of Mammy Judy in the hall way of Miss Courtney Matland. Her fiancée had arrived unexpectedly and seen her in her bridal gown. "A Soldier in Trust" the 7 part Trinkle play which will be shown at the Crystal Wednesday night reveals the tragedy that follows all the bad omens of Mammy Judy. C. M. Trotter, of this city, and W. P. Snyder, of the experimental station were occupants of the sleeper on train No. 13 that turned over at Columbus Saturday night, but neither were scratched. They had some difficulty however, in finding their clothes in the dark, as the lights in the car were of course inoperative. The train was running about thirty miles an hour when a brake rod or some other rod dropped on the coach ahead derailing it and turning the sleeper over on its side.

GOODMAN SAYS MUCH FLOUR BEING RETURNED.

E. R. Goodman, county food administrator, feels very kindly toward those Lincoln county people who had surplus flour on hand for their readiness in returning it to the dealer from whom it was purchased and thus getting it in circulation in time of need. Tons and tons of flour have already been returned in Lincoln county and even now there is not a day but that one or more parties call upon him and state that having had surplus flour on hand they had returned it that day.

The other day Mr. Goodman found a dealer in a little county town who had 150 sacks on hand and whose sales did not average more than ten or fifteen sacks a month. This was ten times the stock to which he was entitled, and upon being notified expressed his willingness and intention to unload. He had purchased a carload early last fall and sales coming slower than he anticipated found himself overstocked when the new ruling went into effect.

Mr. Goodman also says that farmers who had been holding wheat are now letting it go, and he is confident that in a very short time there will not be a bushel in the county held.

That this flour is being returned and the wheat is being sold without any friction is very gratifying to Mr. Goodman and he feels like patting the people on the back for their display of patriotism in their desire to help out the government in the food problem.
