Girl Editor Terror to Crooks.
The attraction at the Red Cross Theatre this (Tuesday) evening will be "Powers that Prey," with Mary Miles Minter as the star. It is a five reel feature, and the story runs as follows: Sylvia Grant, the pretty finishing school daughter of Burton Grant, editor of the Daily News, used to calling on Dad for fat checks to ease the monotony of school life, suddenly finds herself confronted with the necessity of returning home because of a conspiracy among grafting politicians to wreck her father's newspaper property and drive him out of town. Editor Grant decides to leave town for a time and delegates authority to an editor in order to carry out certain policies. Sylvia is told by her father to go home and stay so that a member of the family may be on the ground, but she decides to take charge of the paper in her father's absence and drive the crooks out of town. In this matter she has the cooperation of a clever city editor, Frank Summers. Sylvia's natural aggressiveness impels her to attack wherever she sees a sign of aggressiveness on the part of the enemy and her methods are so revolutionary that she wins the fight by sheer audacity, without knowing that she has come within an ace of wrecking the newspaper property from a business point of view.

The plot is one of the most interesting yet on the screen for some time.

Soldier Boys Send Thanks.
To the Editor of the Tribune, North Platte, Nebr.
Dear Sir:
We, the boys who left Lincoln Co. April 29th wish to express our appreciation to the people of North Platte and especially the Sammy Girls, for the reception and splendid patriotic "send off" they gave us. North Platte demonstrated her patriotism by far better than any town along the way. It is the desire of us boys for the people at home to know that these things are appreciated and will be long remembered.

Signed: Wm. W. Seibold, George Razes, Duane D. Smith, F. F. Nolan, Anton Lewis, Frank Barnes, Omer Roten, George Frazier, Earl Hand, Clarence Bean, Roy Coates, Roy Roten, Harry A. Diels, David B. GERMANS LOSE $50,000 IN THE GREAT DRIVE.
Against the slight territorial gains which have been made by the Germans since they began the drive five weeks ago must be set the fact that they had to throw 140 divisions into battle in five weeks. A considerable number of these have been twice engaged and some thrice. Adding these re-appearances together, there is a total of 185 engagements of divisions, equivalent to a mass of two and a half million men whom the enemy has already put into battle. As a German division is never withdrawn until it has sustained severe losses, on an average of 2,500, it is reasonable to reckon the enemy's loss since the beginning of the battle at not less than 350,000.

The Germans began the offensive with a reserve of 650,000 in depots in France and at home. Behind these there is only the 1919-20 class, consisting of youths, half of whom are under 18. The enemy's genuine fighting reserve is thus half exhausted before he has covered anything like half the distance to his goal. His reckless employment of divisions has left him with a total of 66 out of 206 in France which have not yet been engaged. Of these 12 are landstrum divisions which cannot be used for the purpose of an offensive. The Germans thus can have little hope that the remaining 60 divisions can accomplish what the first 140 failed to achieve.

Already the German staff is anxiously realizing that their reserves of fresh troops are not greater than those under General Poch.

Ancient Silver Coin.

A coin which is regarded as the most ancient in the world was recently discovered by an archeologist during his explorations in North Syria. It is a coin of pure silver, bearing a perfect Aramean inscription of Panamu Bar Rerub, king of Schamol, who reigned 800 years B. C. Up to the time this coin was unearthed the Lydians had always been regarded as the inventors of money, but this find showed that the Semitic Arameans, who lived two centuries before the Lydians, are the oldest known makers of money.

Daniel Boone's "Relegan."

Instinctively like answers the call of like, and perhaps the reason so many of us venerate the memory of Daniel Boone, great pioneer, explorer, hunter and surveyor, is that we have a similar gift for spelling. The Columbia Missourian reprints the following letter, written by Boone shortly before his death: "All the relegan I have is to Love and fear God believe in Jesus Christ do all the good to my neighbor and my self that I can and do as little harm as I can help and trust on gods mercy for the rest."—Kansas City Times.

Making Our Own Indigo.

Indigo is now being made from coal tar in this country. At Midland, Mich., 1,000 pounds of 20 per cent paste are produced daily. All the tariff bills of this nation, commencing with the tariff of March 3, 1883, and including the tariff of October 3, 1913, placed indigo on the free list. Not until September 5, 1916, was a bill passed putting a duty on it. It was the first schedule that braved the anger of the German dye makers.—Popular Science Monthly.

All Over!

Billy and his mother had been to the movies one afternoon to see "Jack, the Giant Killer." During supper a discussion arose between his two older brothers as to whether they should go or not. Billy listened awhile and then spoke up: "There ain't no use you boys talking 'bout goin' to that show tonight. Jack killed the giant this afternoon."

"Wool" From Cork.

The department of overseas trade has been informed through a reliable channel that a Spanish firm is manufacturing "wool" from Cork, which, it is claimed, may with advantage be substituted for natural wool in the manufacture of mattresses, pillows, quilts, etc. This material is stated to be cleaner and lighter than wool.

Bond Mere Matter of Form.

The secretary of the treasury is not required to give a bond, but the treasurer of the United States, a subordinate office of the department, is required to do so because he is the custodian of public funds. The treasurer is required to give a bond of $150,000, which is insignificant compared with the sums he handles.

Gone, and Forgotten.

"And this tumbled-down cottage?" "Was the home of a poet. He's dead now." "The path to the door is overgrown with weeds." "Yes, it has been some years since the postman quit delivering returned manuscripts at the poet's door."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Strictly Up to Date.

The children were playing with their toy animals. Ruth brought her hobby horse to her sister, asking what to feed him. Big sister said: "Oh, corn, oats and hay." Ruth, not quite satisfied with the answer, asked: "Shall I pasteurize him any?"
