

What the engineer didn't know

A railroad engineer was showing a pair of goggles the other day which he bought away from here because he "couldn't get this kind in North Platte."

Maybe it's our fault the engineer didn't know that he could. We sell exactly the same goggles the engineer had. The price is also the same. What's more, we have different styles of goggles suitable for engineers, autoists, farmers and others.

HOME GUARDS MINSTRELS ARE READY TO ENTERTAIN.

The Home Guards Minstrels will entertain the people of North Platte at the Franklin auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings of this week with jingling songs, local hits and stunts that are certain to please and satisfy. As a member of the chorus we know that the music is catchy and that it will be well rendered, but we are "in the dark" as to the jokes and the second part features, for that part of the entertainment has not been divulged to the chorus members up to this time. However, we are willing to venture the opinion that the jokes of the end men and the olio stunts will make every auditor conclude that the performance as a whole will be the best twenty-five cent show he or she has ever attended.

The end men are Joe Stone, Rich Birge, Frank McGovern and Jim Keefe. Interlocutor—W. H. Munger. Chorus—Messrs. Carroll, Newton, Johnson, Shaffer, Smith, Turpie, Clinton, Munger, Bare, Chamberlain, McGrew, Mitchell, Koch, Robinson, Burke, Mooney Yost, and Villapaugh.

The program will be:
Opening chorus—Guitar accompaniment—"Old Black Joe."
Entrance of the End men.
Chorus—"Hitting the Trail to Normandy."
"Beautiful Garden of Roses"—Frank Turpie.
"America Means I Love you my Yankee Land"—James Shaffer.
"Dreaming in the Gloaming"—W. H. Munger and Quartette.
"If He can Fight Like He can Love, Then Good-Night Germany."—Frank McGovern.
"You're in Style when Wearing a Smile"—Perry Carson.
"I Can't Get Along Without You"—R. D. Birge.
"There's one more River that We're Going to Cross and that's the River Rhine."—Dr. Mitchell.
Solo—Selected—C. F. Koch.
"Oh, Min."—J. H. Stone.
"Paul Revere Won't You Ride for Us Again."
Ohio:
Uncle Sam's War Garden.
Boy Orator of the West.
Special engagement of Madame Tetrogluckaruso in popular airs.

Admirers of the stories of Myrtle Reed will rejoice in having an opportunity to see the characters they have learned to love brought to life on the screen at the Sammy Girls theatre. Booklovers, who have read Lavender and old Lace, and other of the Reed novels are legion and characters are beloved by all readers. "Weaver of Dreams," the Metro picturization of Myrtle Reed's novel of the same name, which will be shown at the Sammy Girls theatre on Thursday is exceptionally well adapted as a starring vehicle for winsome Viola Dana, who appears as Judith Sylvester.

Dovenbarger Must Contribute.
Dan Dovenbarger, living in the canyons south of Maxwell, who was arrested on the charge of sedition, had a hearing before Judge Woodhurst Friday afternoon. The complaint was made against Dovenbarger by two lady Red Cross solicitors and not only refused to contribute to that organization but is said to have remarked that he didn't care if the Kaiser did come to the United States.

Dovenbarger was ordered to purchase $100 Liberty bonds, $25 war saving stamps and subscribe $25 to the Red Cross.

Federal Court in Session.
The June term of federal court convened in session yesterday, Judge Lewis, of Denver, on the bench. The court officers of Omaha are present as are also a number of attorneys and fifty or more witnesses in cases that are docketed.

The principal case to be heard is that of the United States against the Ram's Horn Irrigation Co., which comes from the northwest part of the state. The trial of this case is expected to consume several days.

NEWS ABOUT THE BOYS WHO ARE IN SERVICE.

Harry Brodbeck left Saturday night for Omaha with intention of enlisting in the navy.

Sherwood Woodhurst and Ralph Clabough, who were at Ft. Logan, have been assigned to a camp in Texas.

James Miller, now stationed with an engineering corps at Camp Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, is home on a furlough.

Practically all the bunch of North Platte boys who had been at Camp Funston embarked for overseas service last week. North Platte men who are in the Thirty-first Engineering Corps also sailed last week.

Ben P. Bloom, of Peckham precinct, who enlisted as a land mechanic, has risen in seven months to machinist's mate and draws $145 per month, says the Maxwell Teletop. Bloom is attached to a submarine chaser.

E. H. Evans, after a rather long stay in a hospital in New York has again become attached to the battleship to which he had been assigned. Judge Woodhurst is in receipt of a postal card from Everett which was mailed at Plymouth, Eng.

Sale of Real Estate.
O. H. Thoelecke has made the following sales of real estate during the past week:
H. J. Rebhansen to I. N. Smith, of Custer county, section 15-16-29, for $8,320.
J. W. Payne to R. S. Smith, of Howard county, 1,440 acres in town 12, range 29, known as the Payne ranch, consideration $25,000.
W. V. Gates to A. A. Stenger, 640 acres half mile west of the state farm consideration $23,000.

New Registrants Cannot Enlist.
Under directions of the provost marshal, received by the registration board Saturday, young men who registered last week cannot enlist until after they have filled out their questionnaires and have been classified. When this has been done they can make application to the board for a release and enlist. Several of last week's registrants filed for enlistment in the special training at the state university, but when the board received the orders Saturday their names were stricken from the list. There are now eighteen enlistments for the seventeen men called for the university work, and it is probable that they will leave for Lincoln Sunday or Monday.

Called to War Savings Council.
Preparatory to the coming drive of June 25th, which the president has set aside as the day to organize our war activities, Bert Barber, county director of War Saving Society, has been called to Grand Island today in conference with other county directors and state leader Ward M. Burgess, to discuss plans for carrying out this work in each county.

Mr. Barber has a plan for organizing the rural communities, which should prove very successful. Besides the War Savings Society work, the plan proposes a complete organization of those forces which pertain to production. This plan when perfected will put Lincoln county in the lead for counties having an efficient war working machine among its farmers.

"Ann's Finish"
To night at Sammy Girls Theatre. Ann Anderson, a nifty little finishing school girl, with a talent for trouble, is obsessed with the idea that the school is too. The teachers are too staid, the principal is too anciently maidenly, and—Oh, you know.

Well, Ann starts things as soon as she gets there. She makes that old boarding school sit up and wonder. She is a joy in the hearts of the pupils and a thorn in the philosophes of the teaching staff.

One night the watchman sees a man entering Ann's bedroom window. That is the last word in the school principal's philosophy. Wow!

So there is an investigation and Ann says she is married to the man who is found hiding in her clothes box—but of course that isn't so.

Ann, the tender-hearted chicken, saw that villain trying to rob the house and thought him handsome. Besides, it was an adventure. So she hid him. Wonderful idea.

Burglar discovered. Ann confronted. Devious story told by Ann about being a war bride and wanting to finish her education gets across.

But the burglar is an amateur. He is the son of wealthy residents who wonder whether he will ever settle down. He does. Why?

Ann.

Raymond Piercy, a former North Platte boy who has made Tonopah, Nev., his home for fifteen years, stopped over night Sunday while enroute to Illinois by auto accompanied by another Tonopah man. Mr. Piercy is cashier of the Tonopah Light & Power Company.

Miss Elsie Langford arrived from Washington Sunday night. Verne Langford came in from Chicago Sunday and Harold Langford arrived from Camp Cody yesterday morning. They were called home by the death of their mother.

Made Brave Rescue.
Once a terror to mariners, Minots light, which stands on a reef off Boston harbor, has another thrilling story added to its history, says the Popular Mechanics magazine. Three days before Christmas, Captain Octavius Reamey, the keeper, approached the tower in his motorboat, which was loaded with provisions and fuel obtained on the mainland. As the craft drew up, it was overtaken by the waves that were breaking over the base of the structure, leaving the captain battling alone in a tossing maelstrom of icy water. The assistant keeper was lowered on a rope from the door fifty feet above. He managed to seize the drowning man before it was too late, and both men were pulled from the water by their companions to the doorway high in the tower.

There were few people in North Platte who did not take a look at the sun Saturday evening through smoked glass. The eclipse as seen here was about eighty-five per cent of the total of the sun's surface. The shadow first appeared about 5:20 and its greatest extent was around six o'clock. During the most dense part of the eclipse there was a "spookish" shadow reflection on the earth.

Floods Ruin Iowa Crops.
Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 9—Reports from the districts flooded by waters from the Iowa river tonight are that the water is going down and that the crest of the huge wave is now in Loalasa county.

The damage done is estimated at $2,000,000 with 3,000 acres swept clear of growing crops. A large per cent of this land was planted in corn. Preparations already are making to plant buckwheat as soon as the soil is in proper condition.

The greatest damage was done in the vicinity of Tama, Chelsea, Belle Plaine, Marengo, Amana and on down to Iowa City.

The most wonderful line of women's and Misses waists in this country are on sale for $1.00 and $2.00. At THE LEADER MERC. CO.
