PEOPLE URGED TO REDUCE THEIR RATIONS OF BEEF.

To meet the needs of the American and allied armies and the civilian populations of France, Great Britain and Italy, the American people were asked by the food administration Wednesday to place themselves on a limited beef allowance from now until September 15th.

Householders were requested "not under any circumstances" to buy more than one and one-quarter pounds of clear beef weekly, or one and one-half pounds, including the bone, for each person in the household.

Hotels and restaurants were asked not to served boiled beef more than two meals weekly, beef steak more than one meal weekly and roast beef more than one meal weekly.

"The demand for beef for our army and the armies of the allies and their civilian populations for this summer," said the food administration's announcement, "are beyond our present supplies. On the other hand, we have enough increased supply of pork this summer to permit economical expansion of its use. It, therefore, will be a direct service to our armies and the allies if our people will in some degree substitute fresh pork, bacon ham and sausage for beef products."

This Is Flag Day.

Today is Flag Day, and in an order issued, J. S. Hoagland, Dept. Commander of the G. A. R. says:

"Old Glory is the oldest National Flag in the World; June 14, 1777 it was born as an emblem of all that is brightest and best in human achievement. In 1777 it floated, the pride and glory of about three million people. For 140 years it has been loved and venerated as the type of all that is highest and holiest in human aspirations; with never a stain upon a stripe of its crimson and white it now floats over one hundred and ten million liberty loving people and is now being borne by our brave boys in France through storms of shot and shell as a torch to light the way of the world's people to Liberty and Freedom.

Every home on Flag Day should be decorated with the stars and stripes. And I trust that no veteran of the Civil War will neglect to fling Old Glory to the breeze on that day."

Alien Women Must Register.

Postmaster McEvoy has been notified that all alien women living in Lincoln county must register on some day between June 17th and June 28th inclusive. The place of registration will be at the postoffice in the county where the woman required to register receives her mail. Those coming under the following provisions must register:

The wife of a citizen or subject of Germany who has not acquired naturalization in the United States and their foreign born female children of the age of 14 years and upward now within the United States are German alien females, and are required to register except those of such foreign born children as have separately acquired naturalization in the United States prior to April 6, 1917, have married American citizens.

And further if she has married a citizen or subject of Germany who has not acquired naturalization in the United States and the marital relation has not been terminated by death or absolute divorce and has not resumed her American citizenship.

Cards will be issued for registration and all postmasters are instructed to answer all questions and assist the applicant in every way possible. This card should not be overlooked and if you are not just sure of your naturalization call at your nearest postoffice for instruction.

LOOK FOR MONSTER OFFENSIVE ON SEA.

Further evidence that Germany, in its efforts to end the war this summer, is planning to support its land offensive by sending its high sea forces against the combined British and American grand fleet, is given in an official dispatch from Switzerland.

"A telegram of an official nature," says the dispatch, "is being spread broadcast in Germany, which says that the German admiralty is considering a big naval offensive. Orders are supposed to have been given to keep the whole fleet in readiness and a certain number of naval officers of high rank have been hurriedly recalled from Switzerland and other neutral countries where they have been spending their leave."

"The Kieler Zeitung, speaks of extraordinary activity in the ports and the Hamburg Post publishes an interview with von Tirpitz, who was asked if Germany was in a position to measure herself with the English fleet. The admiral naturally replied in the affirmative, saying that after their land forces have pushed the French and English back on the other side of Paris, it would be the turn of the Kaiser's boats to drive the English off the high seas."

Limit Use of Sugar.

Sugar consumption will be limited to two pounds per person a month, starting June 17, according to an order received from Washington by Food Administrator Wattles.

This new ruling applies only to persons living in the cities. In rural communities, five pounds per person per month will be permitted as heretofore.

It is anticipated another cut will be made about July 1st.

One third off on spring coats and suits all this week only. BLOCKS, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rybee left Wednesday for a visit with friends in Cheyenne.

MICHELIN
Twelve Tire Tests

No. 7

Cross-Sections

This illustration is an enlarged view made from actual cross-sections of two 34 x 4 tires—one a Michelin Universal, the other a tire of another standard make.

The sidewall of the tire on the left (which is a standard make typical of many tires other than Michelin) is of practically equal thickness throughout. The Michelin on the right is progressively tapered from the tread downward, so that its sidewall is thick where is the prime requisite.

This construction gives Michelin Tires superior durability combined with remarkable easy-riding qualities.

In the Michelin cross-section the layers of fabric are imbedded in a liberal cushion of rubber which binds them into a single strain-resisting though flexible mass, a structural advantage that cannot be exaggerated, since a tire loses its strength when the layers of fabric come apart, just as a rope loses its strength when its strands separate.

This series of twelve tests is designed to take the uncertainty out of tire-buying.

The world-wide reputation of the house of Michelin—the oldest, most experienced of all tire-makers—is proof that only the best of materials are used in Michelin. That a greater quantity of these superior materials is used in Michelin Tires is proved by their extra weight and remarkable thickness, which mean greater durability. And the superiority of Michelin design is shown by the above illustration.

Better materials, more materials and superior construction—these account for the supreme durability of Michelin Tires.

1918 Draft Men May Enlist.

The latter part of last week it was announced from Washington that the draft men of 1918 could not enlist until the registrants were assigned order numbers and serial numbers. This, however, has been changed by an order issued Tuesday by Provost Marshal Crowder, who says the assignment of numbers has been waived and the 1918 registrants may enlist in the navy and marine corps.

Nearly a Million Overseas.

Washington—More than 700,000 American soldiers have gone overseas to carry back to France the encouragement and assistance which La Fayette and Rochambeau brought to America, Secretary Baker told the French Alpine chassours in bidding them farewell here at the base of the Washington monument.

The war secretary's last announcement some weeks ago concerning the size of the American forces abroad was that 500,000 men had sailed for the battle front.

The Omaha assembling plant of the Ford Motor company at Sixteenth and Cumling street may be abandoned by the automobile concern July 1 and the place may be used as a store house for the Omaha quartermaster's depot. The force of employees has been gradually reduced until there are now only 25 men at the plant.

The German war office claims the capture of 10,000 additional prisoners, which with the number of captives reported Monday would bring the total to 38,000 in the present fighting. Since the new offensive began along the Soisson-Rheims sector May 27, it is asserted by the German official communication that the army group of the German crown prince has taken about 75,000 allied troops captive.

The purchase of liberty bonds by depositors and by banks is said to be the principal cause of a decrease in the deposits of state banks in Nebraska. A report issued by the state banking board showing the condition of banks at the close of business May 10, shows the total deposits to be $226,087,659.02, a reduction of $24,113,174.72. The report shows that state banks now have $11,450,795 invested in liberty bonds.

Cooking School.

A cooking school handled by the city schools and with the co-operation of the food administration will be conducted for three weeks, beginning Monday, June 17th. The classes will be held every other day and will start at two o'clock in the afternoon. A fee of one dollar will be charged for the course. The teacher is Miss Iva Layton, who has handled the work in the local schools during the past year. She expects to cover the ground in canning and preserving, the making of war breads and the use of substitutes in general. Miss Layton is now attending a special supervisors' course in Lincoln and is getting the very latest ideas of the State Food Administration.

Only sixteen ladies can be accommodated each day and an early registration will insure you a place. Register with Mr. Toot at his office in the Junior high school building, by phone or at his home.

WHEN HE MADE RECORD JUMP

Youngster Was Trying to Escape Dog He Thought Was Mad, So There Was Abundant Reason.

Commander C. B. Fry, who has temporarily relinquished athletics in order to train boys for the navy, described to me the other day how he first came to discover his ability as a jumper.

"When quite a youngster," he said, "I was one day strolling along close to our house, when there came bounding along the road in my direction an exceedingly wicked-looking terrier I had recently become possessed of.

"The animal was foaming at the mouth and showed other unmistakable signs of excitement and distress. Hydrophobia was rife in the district at the time. A horrid fear gripped me. Turning swiftly aside, I took the ditch and hedge bordering the road in one wild leap, landed safely in an orchard on the other side, and was up a plum tree a few seconds later.

"The dog, however, followed through a gap in the hedge and sat at the bottom of the tree, but he brought a toad in his mouth, and I perceived he was not mad beyond the degree of trying to eat the toad. So I came down, and went to have a look at the hedge I had jumped over.

"It was much higher than my head, not to mention the ditch. It was many years before I jumped as high again." —Pearson's Weekly.

IRON FOUNDRY IN WAR AREA

How Women of France Are "Doing Their Bit" to Keep the Wheels of Industry Moving.

An interesting narration of operation under unique and difficult conditions of an iron foundry in the war area is given by the correspondent of a British paper writing from the firing line in France. He relates: One does not see much foundry work out here, but a few weeks ago I was billeted in a town near by, and actually saw a cupola in full blast. I at once got permission to have a look around, and was greatly surprised at what I saw. The foundry was a very primitive affair—just a little jobbing shop—and was mostly run by French women and girls, superintended by a few men. These women were making work up to three or four hundred pounds in weight, and in a little side shop some half dozen women were making component parts of machinery by the simple method of bedding-in. I afterward saw some of the finished work, and it would put to shame the work done by many of our so-called molders at home. The women work in ordinary dress, and work very clean and exact in both iron and brass, and also under shell fire and air raids. In the shop was a great hole where a German had dropped a bomb the night before, but the women still worked on.—Scientific American.
