Bullard Seriously Injured.

In a card to Dr. Brock received yesterday F. E. Bullard now living in Missouri, writes that on August 19th he suffered a compound fracture of the right thigh, the broken bones protruding through the flesh. He did not state how the accident occurred. His son Lieut. Arthur Bullard has sailed for overseas duty and his other son Lieut. Milledge Bullard will soon cross over. The going of the boys and the severe accident which has befallen him, together with his advancing age, rather discourage Mr. Bullard.

The Red Cross chapter has been directed to interview church societies and see if arrangements can be made to feed the national army men as they pass through. Several of the societies have agreed to furnish such meals, for which the government will pay seventy-five cents per plate.

HUNS CONTINUE TO RETREAT BEFORE THE ALLIED ADVANCE.

Reports are reaching London that the Germans have begun a big retreat along the Vesle river, where the Americans face them. This move has been expected ever since General Mangin's Tenth French army drove the Germans back north and northwest of Soissons. Mangin's advance placed the German Vesle line in a mighty serious position.

Yesterday's advices said the Germans were putting up a stiff fight against the French in the Corey-le-Chateau sector and it may be this is being done to give the crown prince's forces time to get away from the Vesle and back of the Aisne.

Field Marshal Foch yesterday added another ten miles to the ever widening fighting front in the west. The allied generalissimo Monday brought the left wing of Sir Julian Byng's Third British army into action against the enemy in the Scarpe sector, east of Arras, where the German lines have been pierced to a depth of two miles.

This makes the fourth time that Marshal Foch has seen fit to widen the scope of operations since he set the mammoth offensive under way. Like its predecessors, the new stroke comes at a time when the main drive has slowed up against packed masses of enemy reserves and artillery hurried up from other fronts.

Suzanne and Cappy, towns north and south of the Somme respectively, were captured yesterday by Field Marshal Haig's forces. The British also took Avesnes-les-Bapaume, a suburb of the town of Bapaume.

British troops also reached the western outskirts of Thillois, south of Bapaume.

An unconfirmed report states that Montauban and the outskirts of Longueval also were reached by the British troops yesterday also captured the town of St. Leger.

British troops sweeping forward east and southeast of Arras have captured a strip of the famous Hindenburg line—the much touted wall of resistance, beyond which the Germans boasted they would never be driven. The troops are full of enthusiasm as they press forward.

"We'll bag the whole damned line and bag Hindenburg, too, before the drive is over," checked one British Tommy yesterday morning as he went out with his company to the attack.

Prisoners taken in the Albert sector declare they were told to hold the line at all costs. The Eighty-third German division was given the same instructions at Thillois. They could not obey in the face of whirlwind British attacks.

In naming the candidates that would appear on the November ballot, the name of Miss Mylander, candidate for county superintendent, was unintentionally omitted. The candidates for this office will be Miss Gantt and Miss Mylander.

NEWS ABOUT THE BOYS WHO ARE IN SERVICE.

Vincent Roddy, who enlisted as a second class machinist in the navy has been summoned to report at Denver Saturday morning.

"Jack" Monroe received a card Saturday stating that his son Robert had arrived safely overseas. Robert enlisted in Brooklyn, N. Y.

word that her brother Major W. E. Mills has been promoted to Lieut. Colonel. Col. Mills has been overseas for a number of months and has figured in a number of engagements.

Chas. Rincker was transferred last week from Fort Logan to Camp Meigs, near Washington, D. C., where he is attending a school of instruction for employees of the quarter master's department.

Writing from Norfolk, Va., under date of August 20th, Lieut. Burton Lambert says he has made one trip overseas and will start on a second in a few days. He is an officer on one of the transports.

It is now pretty well established that both Homer Pidenour and John Ridenour, of Wallace, died of wounds received in action in France, although up to a week ago the parents had received no official notice of their deaths.

Mrs. Fred Perritt has received Wylie Walker does not pose as a professional gardener but evidently he knows something about growing tomatoes. He has an exhibition two which he grew in his garden, one of which weighs two pounds, the other one and one-half pounds.

Mrs. H. A. Donaldson received a letter yesterday from a nurse in a hospital in France written July 18th stating that her brother George McGovern, a North Platte boy was confined in the hospital by reason of a wound in the thigh. George was unable to write and the nurse had written for him. He enlisted at Sheridan, Wyo., in the light artillery.

Harris Stuart, who went from this city to Camp Cody with Company E, and several months ago was transferred to Gettysburg, Pa., as member of a tank company, has entered an officers' training camp at the latter place. There are over ten thousand men in the Gettysburg camp and Harris was one of 250 selected for the officers' school. He writes that he will make a mighty effort to "make good" and successfully pass the examination.

Writing under date of August 5th, Fred Uick, with the 31st Engineers, in France, says, "Saturday it rained about a foot and yesterday the natives were all out with shot guns, fishing tackle and nets catching frogs. In this part we see many uniforms and races—British tars, Chinese and Jap sailors, French Morroccans, German prisoners and negroes. We have a company of black boys from Alabama in our camp and about all you can hear morning, noon and night is the rattle of the bones as they shoot dice and the prayer that the bones turn up right. The report is that the boys on the front are saying 'Heaven, Hell or Hoboken by Christmas.' I hope it proves to be Hoboken."

Roy Lannin who was in class 2-D has notified the local board that he will waive all rights for deferred classification and will be ready to leave in the September call for Camp Grant. His brother George Lannin was in class 3-B and two weeks ago asked to be placed in class one. He left last evening with the quota for Camp Funston. Harry Lannin who is in an eastern camp tried to enlist in several branches of service last fall and also requested the local board to allow him to leave long before his number was called. Being unable to do this he enlisted for special training at the state university and was recently transferred. Another brother who is in class 4-A is making arrangements to enter the service.

STENGER PAYS $43,120 FOR THE PAYNE RANCH.

The J. W. Payne ranch of 540 acres, eight or ten miles southeast of town, was sold a few days ago to Albert A. Stenger, who resides in the east part of the state for $43,120 or a little in excess of seventy-five dollars an acre. The ranch is regarded as one of the best farm and stock propositions in the county. All the tract lies in the bottom and is first class hay and farm land. On the tract are about forty acres of trees on the north or river end.

Mr. Stenger recently purchased the former Smyth land west of the experimental farm. This land he will, we are informed, place on the market. He will take possession of the Payne ranch the first of next March. Mr. and Mrs. Allison Wilcox, who have been living on the ranch, will probably move to town.

The sale of the ranch was made by O. H. Thoelecke.

Reception Largely Attended.
The reception tendered the twenty-two boys who left on train No. 4 last night for Camp Funston was largely attended. The band, the drum corps and the Home Guards were out, the parking surrounding the court house square was crowded with autos and the lawn surrounding the grand stand was packed. Selections were rendered by the band, W. V. Hoagland gave a patriotic address that was well received and selections were rendered by the Leininger male quartette. In behalf of the Sammy Girls, J. E. Evans presented the boys with sweaters and comfort kits. Hundreds assembled at the depot to bid the boys good-bye and good luck.

Company E Leaves Cody.
Reports have reached North Platte that Company E was included in the thirty thousand men that entrained at Camp Cody Saturday for an eastern camp, there to remain for a few days to be outfitted for overseas duty, thence to France for active service.

The Economy knitting club will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. Butler Buchanan, 514 W. 2d street. Please bring all finished or unfinished work to the meeting.

TWENTY-TWO MEN CALLED BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 3d and 6th.

The local board has received a call for twenty-two men to be sent to Camp Grant, at Rockford, Ill., within a five day period between September 3d and 6th. The board has at this time about twenty-five men, exclusive of the 1,118 registrants, who are eligible to be called at the above date. However, to provide for any contingencies that may arise and at the same time provide for future calls, the local board has selected the names of 120 men in class four whose status as to children and other conditions will be investigated with a view of placing in class one those of the number who by reason of enlistment would not leave dependents upon the company in which they reside.

While the board has not so announced, it is generally understood that where a man has a family who can be taken care of by relatives, that such men will sooner or later be called into service.
