EYES ARE YOUR BREAD WINNERS.

No matter what kind of work you are doing, your earning capacity depends on your eyes. Without them you could not be self-supporting. The man with good eye sight works faster. His success is greater. His general prospects are improved. He is more skillful. He has fewer headaches, less nervousness. He is in better health.

Properly fitted glasses improve and protect your vision. They do away with eye strain and the evils it brings. It is to your own selfish interest to take good care of your eyes. The first step in that is a thorough examination by a competent eye specialist. Consult Clinton's optometrist today

LOCAL LABOR BOARD LISTS NON-ESSENTIAL OCCUPATIONS.

In accordance with the plan and set forth by the Department of Labor and enacted by the shortage of labor in war industries, the U. S. Community Labor Board of North Platte declares the following list of enterprises and occupations as non-war work and announces that labor will henceforth be recruited from them without reserve.

The board further declares that men employed in these enterprises and occupations should be replaced by women and resolves that men who persist in staying in these positions are industrial slackers.

To The Voters.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate, by petition, for the office of County Surveyor of Lincoln county at the coming election.

I was born at North Platte and educated in schools of that town and later completed the four year course for civil engineers and surveyors at the University of Nebraska. I spent one year with the U. S. Gov. Land Dept. on the survey of McPherson County, Nebraska and during the past eight years I have been with the Union Pacific R. R. Engr. Dept., except for the time spent in Lincoln County on land and irrigation surveys and as city engineer of North Platte.

I will appreciate your support at the coming election.

GEO. M. RANNIE

Booze Pedler in Jail.

Tom Smith, who gives Gothenburg as his place of residence, was given a fine of $100 by Judge Woodhurst Saturday on the charge of having thirty-six pints of booze and one pint of beer in his possession. Tom's arrest was quite unexpected to him, the ax fell like a bolt of lightning from a cloudless sky. Tom had been to Cheyenne and when he left that city of booze joints he had two valises filled with bottles. He was a passenger on No. 4 Friday night, and Sheriff Sallsbury who had been at Sutherland, also boarded that particular train. He had seen Tom Smith before, and he surmised that Tom was a booze pedler.

As the train came into the depot and Tom gathered up his two grips, Sallsbury was certain that Tom's business was not such as the statutes of Nebraska describe as legal. As the man with the grips stepped from the car, he was tapped by the sheriff, the grips were examined and the liquor found. Tom claimed to the Judge that he was dollars, that he couldn't pay the fine. "Well, you'll have to lay it out in jail," said the Judge, and Tom is laying.

It took more than persuasion to line up one north side farmer the first of this week to buy his quota of Liberty Loan bonds. Two of the Brady Home Guards, Col. Wm. Beatty and N. C. Bowen autoed up to his place with the intention of taking him before the Council of Defense at North Platte, but when they reached Brady he changed his mind and went to Chairman Trotter's office and purchased his quota.—Brady Vindicator.

In a letter to the home folks Carl Westendorf writes that a number of the North Platte boys were in the big fights of last month but so far as he was able to learn none were killed or wounded. Carl says that in talking with German prisoners he learns that the German troops consider that the war is about over.

Vernon Lunaford, of the ship Levathan has written he has arrived safely in New York after his eighth round trip across the ocean. He spoke of a rough passage: "What do you think of a boat rocking so that tables and chairs tumble over, also of two feet of water in the machine room." Friends wonder if they came in contact with a "Sub."

An Explanation.

Editor of The Tribune:
I was informed that last Thursday night a company of the Home Guards headed by an insurance agent visited my son to induce him to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Members of the family were incensed over the procedure but I told them it was a high honor for a farmer to be visited by a military parade. But after reading the Friday issue of your paper I put a different aspect on the affair.

If there was any blame to be attached to my son's not subscribing I am at fault for he asked my advice and I told him that as long as the government had owed him for nine hundred dollars worth of wool for five months I did not think it was necessary. Besides this he had only been interviewed at the beginning of the campaign as he was passing on the road. Then you can readily see that the next move would hardly be justifiable. Such treatment was due only a slacker and a disloyal citizen which would not apply to him as he had already responded liberally to the previous Liberty Loan and the many calls from the various other departments.

I feel that a mistake was made and that these men owe my son an apology as they had not informed themselves regarding his case.

Watkins Sutures the Flag.

Cal Watkins, who lives in the south part of town, was picked up Saturday for declining to buy a fifty dollar bond and for reported seditious expressions. He was placed in jail where he remained until Sunday afternoon, when he was escorted by the Home Guards to the band stand at the court house park where he saluted the flag, subscribed allegiance to his country and made application for a $50 bond. Judge Grimes administered the oath of allegiance and Judge Woodhurst took the acknowledgement. Judge Grimes made a splendid address to Watkins in which he outlined the duties of an American citizen. Several hundred were present at the proceedings.

Old Time Again October 27th.

On the 27th, the last Sunday of the month, at 2 a. m., according to the day light saving law, all our clocks are to be set back one hour and are again to indicate the usual time that they showed before the law went into effect. This turning back of an hour is best done in practice the evening before, just as we are about to retire for the night. That night will then be an hour longer than usual and will thus restore to us the hour we lost in March.

Examining Registrants.

Sixty had been called for that day but only forty-eight responded. Thirty per cent of those examined failed to meet the physical requirements. Each day this week forty will be called for examination.
