

MEXICAN FINED $100 FOR BOOTLEGGING AT HERSHEY.

Peter Garcia, a Mexican, as his name would imply, was arrested at Hershey Wednesday by Sheriff Salisbury on the charge of bootlegging and a search of his person revealed ten pint bottles of booze. He was arraigned before Judge Woodhurst yesterday and assessed a fine of $100 and costs amounting to $15.40.

Garcia landed in Hershey Wednesday morning and proceeded to the habitat of several Mexs where he disposed of several pints. Sheriff Salisbury got wind of Garcia's liquor vending and within an hour thereafter had the nut-brown individual in tow.

Garcia didn't have $115.40 on his person when sentenced in court yesterday and was therefore taken to jail. He hopes that some of his Mexican friends will call today and put up the necessary money to secure his release.

Arraigned for Wife Desertion.

Jerome L. Brott was arraigned before Judge Woodhurst yesterday afternoon on the charge of wife desertion. He was placed under bonds as assurance that in the future he will support his wife. Brott, who formerly worked here, went to Cheyenne, and while staying there refused to part company with any funds for the benefit of his wife. She preferred a charge against him and he was placed under arrest and brought here for trial. During Brott's absence Mrs. Brott made her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wills, of the Fourth ward.

FLU BAN WILL BE REMOVED NEXT MONDAY.

Unless something unforeseen occurs, the ban on public gatherings, schools, picture shows and pool halls will be removed next Monday morning. The schools will re-open and business conditions will get down to normal.

The ban, which has been in force for over a month, has had a noticeable effect on general business conditions in town, some business houses suffering a fifty per cent decrease in trade as compared with a like period before the lid was put on, and also compared with a similar period a year ago. However, all recognized the necessity of the ban as a precautionary measure and no fault has been made. The wish of all is that the number of cases will continue to diminish until the disease entirely disappears.

We Now Have Paid Firemen.

Beginning with this week North Platte took on more metropolitan airs—it can now boast of a paid fire department. The number of men placed on the pay-roll is limited to two, but it insures a man at the fire station every minute of the twenty-four hours, thus ready to start out with a truck at the instant an alarm is turned into the station. Fred Anderson holds down the position during the day and Joe Baskins at night. Both are experienced fire-fighters and are expected to render efficient service. Each receive $125 per month.

Business Drops Fifty Per Cent.

A railroad official stated yesterday morning that business on the Union Pacific had dropped off fifty per cent this week, or rather since the armistice was signed. This decrease, he said, was largely, if not altogether due to revocation of government orders for lumber, munitions, oils and other war necessities. This official said the greater part of this decrease in business may only be temporary, at least he hoped so.

Bank Deposits Hold Up.

Though the people of Lincoln county have invested nearly one million and a half dollars in the four liberty loans, the deposits in the banks of the county are practically as large as before a single bond was purchased. Either the people of the county have earned and saved that million and a half, or else they went deep into their old sock or strong box in the cellar, brought it forth and invested it in bonds.

ACTIVITIES OF THE SAMMY GIRLS WILL CONTINUE.

The cessation of the war will not tend to decrease the activities of the Sammy Girls, who since the war began supplied hundreds of Lincoln county boys with sweaters and comfort kits. The supplying of these articles of comfort and convenience for the soldier boys is no longer necessary, and the work of the Girls will be along the line of making necessary garments for the destitute people of Belgium. The cancellation of the call for men for training camps left in the hands of the Sammy Girls a large supply of comfort kits and sweaters, but fortunately these can be used in the new work the organization has taken up. The comfort kits will be ripped up and made into garments, thus escaping loss other than the time consumed in making them.

Mrs. McGraw asks The Tribune to extend to the people of North Platte and Lincoln county the sincere thanks of herself and her band of energetic and enthusiastic girls for the generous support given them during the past sixteen months, and asks that this support be continued as cheerfully in assisting the organization in its new line of work.

The scope of the new work taken up by the Girls will be outlined in a future issue.

Trucks Soon Ready for Service.

Cushion tires for the big auto fire truck arrived yesterday, the engine has been replaced, and the machine will be ready for service tomorrow. The Dodge chemical truck, received a few days ago is being fitted out at the Romigh garage. This truck carries two large chemical tanks, three small tanks, 200 feet of hose and apparatus for recharging the tanks. This truck will also be ready for service in a day or two.

WAR WORK DRIVE IS DISAPPOINTING TO COMMITTEE.

Chairman Weingand, of the United War Work campaign cannot conceal his disappointment over the slowness in which this effort to raise money is progressing. Up to this morning, with four of the six campaign days gone, less than one-half the school districts have reached their quota. In view of the urgent need of funds for these united war work societies, all of which goes for the comfort of the boys in the service, it was believed that no difficulty would be experienced in putting Lincoln county over the top in the first two days of the campaign, but it now looks as tho the people of Lincoln county lacked appreciation of the service the boys have rendered their country. Scattered through Lincoln county are scores of men who could well afford to subscribe fifty dollars who are giving ten and scores of others who should give twenty-five are subscribing five. Practically all the villages in the county have reached their quota, and quite a few of the school districts make a similar showing, but in many of the districts the amount subscribed up to date is less than half the quota. In North Platte the campaign is progressing fairly well, and it is believed that by tomorrow evening the full quota of the city will be subscribed.

Chairman Weingand suggests that the chairmen in the school districts which have fallen below their quota make a special effort tomorrow and Sunday to recanvass their districts and influence the residents to double their subscriptions.

HERSHEY PEOPLE ENTERTAIN AT BARBECUE LAST NIGHT.

The people of Hershey made merry over the cessation of the war last evening by giving a barbecue which was attended by a crowd estimated at not less than a thousand people. As hosts the people of the village contributed the carcasses of two prize young steers, which were roasted under the direction of C. C. Huffer, of this city, 3,000 buns and many gallons of coffee. These were served the crowd free, and everybody consumed until the consumption capacity was exhausted.

During the barbecue short parades were held, the crowd cheered enthusiastically and joy over the cessation of the world strife was apparent to all.

Later in the evening short addresses were delivered and the evening wound up with a big dance.

The North Platte contingent at this justification meeting was large, and numbered among them were the Red Cross ladies who benefitted by liberal donations of silver for the benefit of the chapter.
