

Diamond Rings

For many years we have enjoyed an active diamond trade. We have given particular attention to this part of our business, having at all times good selections in small, medium and large stones. Each one has been carefully examined by an expert judge of diamond color, structure and cutting. Only stones grading high in each of these essentials of diamond quality find their place in our stocks. We mount these diamonds in our shop.

The collection of single stone rings is particularly attractive right now as we have prepared for a large business in this class for all Christmas gifts.

Prices are less than present market values, for our purchases were made before recent advances amounting to some 15 per cent.

After stating in Tuesday's issue that only four cases of flu had been reported in a period of three days, Dr. Drost called us up and stated that he personally had reported thirteen cases within that period of time. The Tribune received its information from Chief of Police Jones, to whom, at one time at least, all cases were reported. We attempted to see City Physician Dent a dozen times, but as he spends twenty-two hours out of every twenty-four waiting on patients, we failed to find him. At the time Dr. Drost called us up he stated that it was his belief that there was at that time (Tuesday) more cases in town than ever before. In view of these incidents, in the future don't ask us about flu conditions for we don't know and probably will not know the true conditions.
