Senator Hitchcock Files Objections.
Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, chairman of the foreign relations committee Tuesday forenoon a surprise when he offered a resolution which in substance holds that President Wilson "cannot perform his duties as executive of the United States while abroad."

Coming from a democratic leader the resolution occasioned considerable surprise. Senator Hitchcock stated, when interviewed, that a majority of his colleagues were of the same opinion, that the president could not officiate while he was absent from the country. He also stated that he was opposed to the resolution to place the responsibility of office on Vice President Marshall, considering that resolution absurd.

Will Try The Kaiser.

London.—The attorney general has issued an official statement in which the fact is disclosed that the allied nations will demand the extradition of former Kaiser Wilhelm, of Germany and his trial in connection with bringing about the world war, the individual part that he played. No details as to how the allies are to act in this procedure are given out. The allies are known for some time to have been considering having Count William Hohenzollern extradited from Holland and bring him up for trial. All authorities, except those of Holland, agreed that such an action could be done within the scope of international law, but that she was willing to submit to a general decision of the allies.

President on His Way.

President Wilson sailed for Europe Wednesday morning to attend the peace conference, establishing a precedent in American history. The historic voyage began at 10:24 o'clock when the former Hamburg-American liner George Washington, bearing the president and a large party, began warping out from her pier.

America said Goodspeed to the presidential party in a tumult of noise. Thousands of persons in Hoboken, Jersey City and lower New York joined in a thunderous burst of cheering while all of the craft in the harbor united their whistles and sirens in one mighty shriek of ear-splitting noises. The liner is being conveyed by a squadron of war craft, led by the battleship Pennsylvania, while sea planes and dirigibles hovered over the ship and her precious cargo.

CAMPS DESIGNATED AS DEMOBILIZATION CENTERS.

Thirty camps were designated by the war department Wednesday as demobilization centers to which enlisted men are to be transferred for discharge from the army.

The camps include: Dodge, Iowa; Grant, Illinois; Logan Texas; Funston, Kansas; Kearney, California; McArthur, Texas; Pike, Arkansas; Bowie, Texas; Travis, Texas; Lewis, Washington.

Commanding officers are instructed to discharge enlisted men only when such men are "within 350 miles of the point of their entrance into the military service" otherwise to transfer them to another camp nearer the point of induction. All other enlisted men specified for discharge will be formed into detachments consisting of men from the same state and will be sent for discharge to the camp in or nearest the state from which they came.

The men transferred to the camp for immediate discharge, who are found to be ineligible for discharge by reason of physical disability will be assigned to a development battalion and discharged from the service as soon as they become eligible. Men sent to the camps for discharge are not to be placed on guard duty nor on any other duty which will delay their separation from the service, except in an emergency.

Labor Wants Government Ownership

Organized labor is moving on congress for battle relative to government control of the railroads and preventing return of the system to private ownership. Scores of petitions have been received by congressmen, from labor union leaders, urging them to make a fight for government ownership of the roads and many members have become convinced that it is the proper attitude to take.

"You cannot unscramble the eggs," one member stated and in substance this is a favorite opinion. Labor leaders are appearing at Washington to get the ear of their congressional members, while others, from all over the country are content with expressing their opinion by petition and personal mail canvass.

It appears very likely that Director McAdoo will retain hold of the railroads of the country for some time at least until the president has fully determined if the roads shall be permitted to operate again under private ownership or remain in government control. His message recently hinted that he would support a private control movement.

PRINCE TELLS STORY OF A LOSING FIGHT.

"I have not renounced anything and I have not signed any document whatever."

Frederick William Hohenzollern, who still claims the title of crown prince of Germany, thus answered the question of the Associated Press in the course of a lengthy conversation which took place in the small cottage of the village pastor on the island of Wieringen, where he is interned.

"However," he continued, "should the German government decide to form a republic similar to the United States or France, I shall be perfectly content to return to Germany as a simple citizen ready to do anything to assist my country. I should even be happy to work as a laborer in a factory. At present everything appears chaos in Germany but I hope things will right themselves."

Asked what, in his opinion, was the turning point of the war, he said: "I was convinced early in October, 1914, that we had lost the war. I considered our position hopeless after the battle of the Marne, which we should not have lost if the chiefs of our general staff had not suffered a case of nerves. I tried to persuade the general staff to seek peace then, even at a great sacrifice, going so far as to give up Alsace-Lorraine. But I was told to mind my own business and confine my activities to commanding my armies. I have proof of this."

What finally brought about the downfall of the German military power, he declared, was revolution induced by four years of hunger among the civilians and the troops in the rear, together with the overwhelming superiority in numbers attained by the entente powers since America's entry into the war, which had undermined the confidence of the German fighting forces.

"My soldiers, whom I loved and with whom I lived continuously, and who, if I may say so, loved me, fought with the utmost courage to the end, even when the odds were impossible to withstand."

The refugee prince went on: "They had no rest, and sometimes an entire division numbered only 600 rifles. These were opposed by fresh allied troops, among whom were American divisions containing 27,000 men."
