ROAD BUILDING

GOOD HIGHWAYS HELP TRADE
Act as a Spur to Business Besides Giving Pleasure to Motorists—Benefit Everybody.

To some people good roads mean simply an advantage for the motorist, a convenience that was created and is maintained for the motorist's benefit, enabling him to get from place to place without racking his car to pieces or experiencing the necessity of being towed out of hub-deep mud.

Yet there is another side to this subject of the value of good roads, writes L. J. Ollier in Chicago Tribune. Good roads mean more than an opportunity to get out on tours from the health-giving and pleasure standpoints.

Good roads are closely allied with progress and prosperity. They promote the more widespread use of automobiles, and statistics prove automobiles and prosperity always go together.

It is fair to say that good roads benefit everybody: the city dwellers, those who live in towns, and those who live on farms. Of course, the fast-growing use of motorcars—the fact that automobiles are now considered practically a necessity for everybody—has been the biggest single influence in awakening this country to the fact that money expended in good roads extensions and improvements is money well spent.

We can all remember how only a few years ago city people paid little attention to good roads, and how farmers were even opposed to the expenditure of funds for the betterment of highways. That, of course, was before automobiles came into such widespread usage, in the days when motorcars were considered an extravagance and were owned only by the rich.

Good roads and the automobile have taken people out into the country. They have banished forever the isolation of farm life. They have increased health and prolonged life. They have enabled people to dig in and put better

RAT IS FRIEND OF MINERS

Workers Warned of Coming Catastrophe When the Rodents Leave Tunnel—Are Fed by Men.

Investigators of mining conditions and the peculiar dangers to which miners are subjected recently have taken much interest in the practice of Western gold miners to make pets of the rats which commonly infest mines. On the mother lode of California it has been found that the miners invariably feed the rats and take care of them, believing that the rodents are a source of protection against accident, says Our Dumb Animals. This is due, the men say, to the instinct of the rats, which warns them when a tunnel is unsafe. And when the rats leave a tunnel it is almost impossible to get the miners to work there. This recalls the belief among sailors that rats will leave a doomed ship. The miners also have found that rats are much more susceptible than humans to the dangerous gases that so often cause loss of life in the mines. Long before the miners themselves are affected by these gases the rats become sick and show symptoms of distress. So the men keep close watch of the rats' good health.

Up to Date.
Secretary Lane, speaking of the way in which the war has changed our viewpoint of life, tells the following: They were to be married shortly and now they were sitting in the study meditating on the blissfulness of futurity.

"Algy," said the girl suddenly, "every morn you bring me violets which at even you have culled, don't you?"
"I do," responded the ever faithful, "let them cost what they will."
"I've been thinking," continued the girl, "that if you would send beef-steaks and mutton chops instead it would make a lot bigger hit with father and mother, and be a lot cheaper for you, too."

efforts into their work as a result of the relaxation and broadening-out experiences of the week-end trip into the country.

The prospect of being able to buy an automobile and receive the benefits of good roads has spurred the ambition and quickened the imagination of the man who walks or uses street cars. He wants to be independent.

He wants to get away from the limited vision that of necessity must be his just as long as he is bound to a life of pounding pavements and clinging to street-car straps. He works harder and achieves more, with the prospect of spanning over good roads in his own automobile. For traveling only around town he may feel that he cannot afford an automobile; that he cannot get his money's worth. There is where good roads come in, enabling just such a man to get out into the country and broaden out.

Good roads have been a stimulator of business. By means of good roads an outlet to the congestion of cities has been afforded. New towns have sprung up.

FUTURE NEEDS OF HIGHWAYS

Road Built Today May Not Stand Requirements of Tomorrow—Truck Will Show Weakness.

Roads should be built with an eye to the future needs as closely as the future needs can be figured. A road built for today may not stand the requirements of tomorrow. The same holds true of bridges and culverts. The truck will soon show up this weakness of the old road policy.

Work Needed After Rains.
There are many times when a day's work can be spared on the road. After heavy rains the road may need certain repairs or improvements when the overseer is not ready to call out the hands.

Crooked Road Dangerous.
With modern means of traffic a crooked road is a dangerous road, therefore, every road builder should endeavor to straighten his gutters. Besides, crooked gutters have a bad appearance.

Back Feel Achy After Grip?

COLDS and influenza leave thousands with weak kidneys and aching backs. The kidneys have to do most of the work of fighting off a cold or a contagious disease. They weaken—slow up. Then you feel dull and draggy, irritable or nervous, and have headaches, dizzy spells, lame back, backache, sore joints and irregular kidney action. Give the kidneys quick help and avoid serious kidney troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills are always in unusual demand after grip epidemics as so many people have learned their reliability. Doan's are used the world over. They are recommended by your own friends and neighbors.

Personal Reports of Real Cases

AN IOWA CASE.
A. M. Davenport, sheriff, Humboldt, Iowa, says: "I had been bothered by my kidneys for several years. When I caught cold, it was sure to settle in the small of my back, causing a dull, heavy ache across my loins. At such times the kidney secretions were profuse and contained sediment like brick dust. I used different remedies for this complaint, but nothing benefited me until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon gave relief and continued use cured me of the attack."

A NEBRASKA CASE.
Mrs. G. F. Sanford, Minden, Neb., says: "I had been bothered by my kidneys for nearly three years. I finally became bed-fast. I was told a cold must have settled in my kidneys and caused the trouble. I took different medicine, but instead of getting better I got worse. The sharp, shooting pains across my back and through my hips were terrible. My head ached and I had blinding, dizzy spells. I could see black specks before my eyes. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and after finishing two boxes I was cured completely."

Calculating Youth.
Margaret's uncle had taken a party of small children nutting, and when they were to distribute the nuts he told one of the boys to give each child so many handfuls. Margaret would not accept the nuts from this boy, saying she wanted her uncle to give the nuts to her. He felt a little flattered to think she would take them from no one but himself and asked why she felt that way. She came over to him and whispered: "Cause, uncle, your hands are bigger."
