

1—Disabled British soldiers getting fit again through physical training. 2—Americans of the Three Hundred and Fifth sanitary train washing in a French village alongside the French women. 3—American and French sailors in Brest harbor signalling an arrival as they did that of President Wilson's ship.

SURRENDER OF THE GERMAN HIGH SEAS FLEET

Above, a remarkable photograph showing the actual surrender of the German high seas fleet to the allied navy at Harwich. The German navy is seen passing through a lane of allied seacraft. Below, a German submarine is shown with a British crew aboard en route to a British port after the surrender.

DEDICATED TO THE BRAVE POILUS

This statue of a French soldier returning to his home has just been erected in Paris near the Grand Palais and dedicated to the brave Poilus of France.

AFTER FOUR YEARS IN THE GRIP OF GERMANY

Refugees who have been held in the German lines for four long years are at last taken to a place of safety. This British naval official photograph shows the refugees being escorted in wagons by the British troops.

SENATOR FOR SHORT TERM

William P. Pollock of Cheraw, S. C., has been sworn in as a member of the senate from South Carolina. He will serve until March 4 and will then be succeeded by N. B. Dial. Mr. Pollock is given much of the credit for defeating Cole Blaise. He was elected on a pro-Wilson platform over two opponents. He is a lawyer and a farmer.

When Airmen Fight.

One imagines picturesque duels to the death, between A (the great French or English ace) and X (his German competitor)—the multitude of straining, upturned eyes, the distant rattle of shots, the flaming spin of the loser. As a matter of fact, a duel between two monoplane, handled by pilots of anything like equal skill, who are aware of each other's presence, is not unlikely to end without bloodshed. Bear in mind that they can shoot only forward, that the gun must be aimed by aiming the whole machine (to which it is fixed immovably) and that a twisting, climbing, banking airplane, traveling at over 100 miles per hour, is no joke to hit in its small vitals, and you can see that this must be so.

For Polishing Brass.

For polishing brass or copper, make a paste of rottenstone and cottonseed oil. If there are bad spots or stains, use a little oxalic acid solution to remove them, but rinse off immediately with warm water and rub over with the cottonseed oil.

YANKEE TROOPS MARCHING INTO GERMANY

After celebrating for a while the announcement that the armistice had been signed this American army looked once more upon the serious side of the great war, and with the same firm step but with lighter hearts started on the march for occupied territory in Germany.

GERMANS POINTING OUT LOCATIONS OF THEIR MINES

This Canadian official photograph is the first showing German officers in one of their cars passing through the Canadian lines to point out the location of mines planted by their engineers, which the German forces agreed to do according to the terms of the armistice.

MRS. BARNETT AND HER SON

Mrs. George Barnett, wife of the commandant of the U. S. marine corps, was the first American woman to visit the Marne battlefields after the American engagements there. She decorated with flowers many of the graves of American heroes. Mrs. Barnett was summoned abroad suddenly a few weeks ago because of the illness of her husband. This picture was made with her son, Basil Gordon, a lieutenant in the marines.

LABOR MISSION FROM ITALY TO AMERICA

An Italian labor mission, bringing greetings to American labor and promises of support to whatever peace pines may be decided on at the conference, has arrived in Washington. Military success, Chairman de Ambris says, has wiped out the effects of bolshevism in Italy. In the group are, front row, left to right: Romolo Sabbatini, Sylvano Fasulo, Alceste de Ambris, chairman, and Ettore Cuzzani; back row, Adelino Pedrini, Carlo Bazzi and Annalcare de Ambris.

RETURNING YANKS WELCOMED HOME

The first troops to return to their beloved country are seen here on their way to Camp Mills leaving the ferry boat at Long Island City and passing through the crowds that gathered in great numbers to greet them.