Worth M. Miller, for five years publisher of the Ogalalla News has sold the plant to Editor Kroh, of the Tribune and the two plants have been consolidated. Editor Kroh established The Tribune about two and a half years ago and has made it one of the best edited and neatest appearing papers in the west part of the state. With but one paper in Ogalalla and Keith county Mr. Kroh will no doubt be well rewarded financially for his energetic work.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL SHOWS BIG PER CENT.

The snow storm last week, and the prevalence of influenza in many sections of the county, interfered to quite an extent with the Red Cross Roll Call meetings booked for the rural school districts last Thursday evening, and as a result returns from the districts are somewhat slow in reaching Chairman Souder. However, the districts which have so far reported are showing up well. One district south of Brady sent in a 100 per cent report, another in the east part of the county reported that all families with but one exception had enrolled, while other districts report almost as heavy a percentage. In districts where meetings were not held and where the storm and flu interfered with a canvass of the residents, the work will be performed when weather and flu conditions improve. It will therefore be a week or more before Chairman Souder will be able to make a full report of the roll call in the county.

Strauss Appointed Cashier.
Lieut. Chas. Strauss, who recently returned from the officers' training camp at Little Rock, Ark., left yesterday for Oshkosh where he assumes the cashiership of the Oshkosh State Bank, to which position he was appointed at a meeting of the directors last week.

Mr. Strauss, before entering army service was employed in the McDonald State Bank and his experience in that institution well fits him for his duties at Oshkosh. Mr. Strauss is a splendid young man, and The Tribune freely recommends him to the people of Oshkosh.

Mr. Strauss will join her husband at Oshkosh after the holidays.

EVANGELINE GOUGH KILLED BY TRAIN AT MAXWELL.

North Platte people were shocked Friday evening to learn that Miss Evangeline Gough had been killed by a train at Maxwell. Miss Gough had been employed as teacher at a school twelve miles north of Maxwell, had closed her school for the Christmas vacation and was at the depot waiting for train No. 25, the local, on which to come home. To board a train at Maxwell passengers are required to cross the track and enter the car on the north side. Friday evening there were two sections of train No. 5, the fast mail. The first section had passed Maxwell, and the local was supposed to be following. Instead, however, the local had been sidetracked at a siding east of Maxwell and the second section of the mail train run ahead. As this train approached, it was supposed to be the local, and a number of passengers crossed over the track. The mail train was running sixty miles an hour, and Miss Gough being the last to cross was struck just as she was in the act of stepping off the north side of the track. She was thrown beneath the pilot, dragged some distance and mutilated almost beyond recognition.

The remains were brought to the Maloney morgue and a coroner's jury empaneled yesterday afternoon. The deceased was the grand-daughter of Mrs. Mary Alexander, a very sweet, lovable girl. She graduated from the high school last year, and began teaching last fall. She was a member of the Sammy Girls, and one of its most willing workers. Bereft are the grandmother and three sisters.

AN AVIATOR WAS IN LOVE
And He Proposed To Two Girls
Within a Short Time.

Tom Wentworth, an American aviator who was back from the front to recuperate from a wound received from a German machine gun, fell in love with a French maid and wealthy Betty Hollowell within a few days of each other. And he proposed to both of the young ladies. Imagine his surprise and confusion when he found that the two girls were really one—that Betty was the real personality and the other was merely Betty masquerading.

The story is entertainingly told in "To'ther Dear Charmer," a new World-Picture, which will be shown tonight at the SUN theatre. Louise Huff is the star of this charming production and John Bowers appears in the play as her leading man.

Winter Weather.

With several inches of snow on the ground, a clouded sky, and the temperature ranging only a few degrees above zero, yesterday was really a wintry day in the banana belt. Not having been tempered to winter weather, the cold was rather keenly felt.

The Magnet of Patriotism
Has Drawn 12,000 Bell Men

When the call came for trained telephone men for the Army Signal Corps, the number of Bell employees who volunteered was greatly in excess of the number needed.

More than 12,000 men have left the Bell Telephone System to enter military service. More than 20% of the men from our maintenance and construction forces are now with the colors.

Despite these war losses, the military requirements of the government and the greatly increased needs for service in industrial and commercial work have been met.

It has been difficult to give continuous and uninterrupted service under war-time conditions, but it has been done and with the co-operation of the public it will continue.
